Life's Little Upsets Upset Gordon Bau

"Life is just full of disappointments," said Gordon Bau, when he returned to the Rubbercraft factory one day recently after a trip to Hollywood. Gordon took off his best new hat, rumpled up his slicked-back hair, and cast a rueful glance at his good suit in which he had dolled up for the occasion. A call had come from a Hollywood movie studio for someone to come up right away to measure a film artist for a new rubber costume, such as are manufactured at the local factory, and the job was told off to Gordon, who rushed home, put on his best rags, his best smile and dashed to the film capital with visions before him all the way of the beautiful comedienne who undoubtedly was going to wear this new rubber dress. "Every other time we have had an order for a rubber dress, some other guy got the call to do the measuring," said Gordon, "and it always turned out to be some swell dame who was going to wear the dress, but THIS time, when I get the call, who do I get to measure? I ask you, Who do I get, Nobody but Harpo Marx, that's all. Nobody but Harpo Marx. I never get a break."

NATIONAL RELIEF

Additional national relief was provided recently in the receipt by Governor Rolph of $600,000 from the federal reconstruction finance corporation. The sum represented the state's share of first-quarter relief-of-destitution funds.
