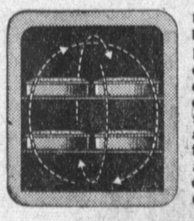
Even rising! Even browning!
Constantly circulating Gas heat bakes better!



UNIFORM HEAT DISTRIBUTION! In a new Gas range oven, constantly circulating fresh air distributes the heat, so that every part is always at the same temperature. There are no hot spots, no cool corners. You don't shift pans.

CONSTANT HEAT CONTROL! Gas heat is constant—not on and off—without seesawing variations. Set the oven heat control at any specified temperature, and it maintains that temperature all during baking or roasting.

YOU SEE WHAT'S HAPPENING! Many new automatic Gas ranges have windows in oven doors or periscope viewers so that a glance tells you how your baking is progressing. See them at your dealer or Gas Company soon.
