Half a Million Expected At Armed Forces Day Fete

Sharing the national spotlight on Armed Forces Day next Saturday will be two big military parades. One of them customary since the day was established by presidential proclamation, is held every year in Washington, D.C. The other, a second annual Armed Forces Day parade and celebration, will take place here beginning at 11 a.m.

City officials expect 500,000 spectators, double last year's attendance at the first civic fanfare in honor of the day. This year's observance will have as its grand marshal and keynote speaker, the Hon. Joseph V. Charyk, Under Secretary of the U. S. Air Force. He will review units of Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Reserves, National Guard, and various state, county and local groups participating in the parade. Theme of the occasion will be "Power for Peace."

* * *

THE LINE of march begins at the intersection of Cabrillo and Carson, proceeds west on Torrance Blvd. past the Torrance Civic Center, and terminates at Madrona Ave.

Among the many participants in the parade will be two battle groups of the 63rd Infantry Division as well as its band and some of its armored equipment; a wheel-mounted GAM-63 strategic bombardment missile; an array of mechanized weapons, and several bands, including the famed 72nd United States Army Band and the colorful 65-piece drum and bugle corps of the Navy's training center at San Diego.

* * *

AFTER THE parade, component mobile equipment will be parked alongside an extensive exhibit of missiles, rockets, engines, ground-based weaponry, electronic and mechanical systems, instruments and devices open to public inspection directly north of the Torrance Civic Center. The display area covers 30 acres. One of the more spectacular exhibits is a full size Thor-able ballistic missile set up by airmen of the USAF Orientation Group from Norton Air Force Base, San Bernardino. Members of the unit will be on hand to guide spectators through a "space showroom" high inside the missile.

* * *

REPRESENTING each of the four Armed Forces, this display under the direction of Mrs. Jeanetta Johnson, Youth Education chairman, and Mrs. Gerald E. Gomme, president of the organization, will have material on Army and Navy missiles as well as the Thor available to the public.

Afternoon events of the day-long celebration include Dr. Charyk's address as keynote speaker for the Department of Defense, and the awarding of trophies. The trophies are: the Secretary of Defense Perpetual Gold Trophy donated by Harvey Aluminum for the best regular forces unit entry; the California Governor's Perpetual Bronze Trophy donated by Horkey-Moore Associates for the best National Guard unit entry; the Torrance Mayor's Perpetual Silver Trophy donated by the city for the best local unit entry, and the Torrance Chamber of Commerce Perpetual Gold Trophy donated by the Magnavox Co. for the best display in the exhibit area.

* * *

ASSISTING in the award ceremonies will be Jewell Lain, a young blonde actress well-known as a romantic leading lady in stage, screen and television productions. She was selected as "Miss Armed Forces Day" by the city's executive committee in charge of the celebration.

Army Reserve Maj. William H. Ekberg of Rolling Hills began a seven-day combat division refresher course at the U.S. Army Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., May 8.

Major Ekberg is a member of the 13th class to be enrolled in the course. The class consists of 49 general officers and 232 senior staff officers from 23 U.S. Army Reserve infantry divisions and two maneuver area commands.

The course, conducted annually since 1949, is designed to familiarize selected reserve officers in the latest Army infantry division tactics and the future trends and developments now under study.

Major and Mrs. Ekberg live at 16 Encainto Dr., Rolling Hills. He is assistant chief of staff for operations and training in the 63d Infantry Division in Maywood, Calif.

The 38-year-old officer attended Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

Army Maj. Wesley M. Strand, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Strand, 22203 Ellinwood Dr., is a member of the 30th Artillery's 2d Missile Battalion which recently received a superior rating for its performance during annual training tests at Fort Bliss, Tex.

The tests, which were designed to determine individual and unit combat efficiency, culminated a year's training for the 2d, an Honest John rocket unit. The Honest John is a long-range rocket designed for tactical use in ground combat operations.

Major Strand is executive officer of the battalion at the fort. He entered the Army in 1940.
