Hawaiia Tour Plans Ready At Polynesian

A nine-day "Aloha Tour of Hawaii," sponsored by The Polynesian in Waikiki and personally conducted by the restaurant's owner-manager Pete Reitz, and Harry Baty is scheduled for Oct. 20. The first annual deluxe tour has been planned to coincide with Hawaii's spectacular Festival of Aloha Week.

A limited group, who have made reservations early in advance to fill the travel space assignments, will leave aboard a special United Airlines "Mainliner" and arrive the same day before sunset in Honolulu.

Aside from the planned itinery of events, the party will have enough free time to do their own personal touring of the islands. Their headquarters during the gala holidays will be the Hotel Princess Kaiulani.

Reservations should be made at The Polynesian restaurant as early as possible to assure accomodations for and during the tour.

BUS CENTER SET

A special bus information center for the convenience of residents in the Harbor and South areas whose children will be attending a Los Angeles city school will be opened starting Tuesday at Fleming Junior High School, Walnut and 255th St., in Lomita.
