

The wise merchant builds his business by building up a following of pleased customers. But first of all he must get the customers to please. You find such a merchant using the Buyer's Guide. Even though he has been in business for fifty years, he is still looking for new customers to please, and the Buyer's Guide helps to bring them to his door.

Buyer's Guide

