ELFIN FOREST NEXT GARDEN CLUB TOPIC

Francis M. Fultz Will Discuss Native Shrub Growth of California Hills

Mr. Francis M. Fultz, author, lecturer and assistant director and forester, vocational department of the Los Angeles city schools, will be the speaker of the evening at the next meeting of the Torrance District Garden club on Monday evening, January 13.

Mr. Fultz will lecture on "The Elfin Forest," a topic which deals with the brush growth of the California hills. Beautifully colored slides will illustrate the lecture, and will include pictures of the purple sage, wild lilacs and other wild shrubs.

The speaker has made a life study of flowers, plants and trees, and is one of the best known naturalists in Southern California. He is author of "The Elfin Forest," "The Fly-Aways", "Outdoor Studies in Geography," and a new book on California wild flowers, entitled "Lily, Iris and Orchid."

In addition to the illustrated lecture, Mr. Fultz will show 25 or 30 slides on reforestation projects in California.

The meeting is to be held in Legion hall and will begin promptly at 7:30.
