Trio Rebekahs Welcome Four

Initiation of three new members and reinstatement of a past member highlighted last week's Wednesday meeting of Trio Rebekah Lodge, held at the California Hall in Lomita.

Received into the order for the first time were Maud Milburn, 2065 W. 250th St.; Christine Nelson, 24315 Eshelman Ave. and Catherine Erlene Anderson, 1518 W. 257th St. Maude Wilson, a former past noble grand of Trio, was reinstated as a member prior to the initiation rites.

Recent rummage sale held by the lodge was a success, reported Vice-grand Edith Marriott during the business session. Appointment of Eleanor Farquhar as right altar bearer upon the resignation of Janet Grace also featured the agenda.

Plan Combined Session Of Girl Scout Leaders

Plans for a combined meeting of North Torrance, Perry, and El Nido neighborhood Girl Scout leaders were made recently when the former group met at the home of Mrs. Basil Ball, 17327 Falda Ave.

The session, to follow a potluck luncheon, is tentatively scheduled for July 29 at El Nido Park.

Attending the planning meeting were Mrs. Elizabeth Brainard, executive director of Los Angeles Area Girl Scouts, and Pauline Underwood, executive secretary.

Review of Beauty Tips, New Exercise Class Spark Y-Wives Slate Tomorrow

A review of figure-slimming, hair-styling, and make-up tips which she has presented to the Y-Wives for the past three weeks will be given by Mrs. Edith Dahlen tomorrow when she conducts the final session of her charm and beauty course at 11 a.m. at the YWCA.

The lecture, with demonstrations, will follow a brief business meeting and an exercise hour to begin at 10 a.m.

Conducting the exercise period, which will continue at each Y-Wives session for the next six weeks, will be Mrs. Frances Woodcock, physical education director of the Adult Education Department of the Los Angeles City Schools.

As usual, care will be provided for nursery school children at a small fee. Any interested woman in th ecommunity is invited to attend the class.

Lomita-Pedro Council PTA Ratifies 1953-54 Chairmen

New chairmen for 1953-54 were ratified Wednesday of last week when elected officers of Lomita-San Pedro Council PTA and local unit presidents met at the San Pedro home of Mrs. William Russell.

Mrs. Hazel Stanton, as coordinating Council chairman, will work to promote cooperation among the units and their Council. Money-making activities will be directed by Mrs. D. W. Brenden, ways and means chairman.

In charge of planning PTA programs will be Mrs. George Weeks, while hospitality will be directed by Mrs. Lloyd Adams. Founders Day, celebrated annually by all associations, will be under the chairmanship of Mrs. Norman Manes. Life memberships, awarded to outstanding persons in the community at the conclusion of the year, will be supervised by Mrs. Harold Jack.

Telephone committee, which will handle reservations for Council affairs, will be composed of Mesdames Howard Lane and Stanley Carter.

Service work in the Council will be carried on by Mesdames J. A. Johnson, Community Chest; Richard Moretti, civil defense; S. Mickunas, home service; William Probert, child welfare; Louis Miller, juvenile protection; Peter Costa Jr., safety; Freddie Doolin, health; John Blackman, youth services; Buster Cavarrero, citienship; and Anthony DeNoria, international relations.

School-home emphasis will be stressed in activities directed by Mrs. T. Dowland, room mother chairman; and Mrs. A. W. Patricio, parent-education chairman. Mrs. Amanda Bonwell will supervise school education, while Mrs. Mary Maher will be the principal representative. Registration work will be handled by Mrs. Clifford Harvey.

Cultural aspects of PTA work will be directed by Mesdames C. L. Wilson, art; H. T. Nishimoto, music; E. McIntyre, magazines; A. C. Akerson, motion picture; Walter Arnstein, radio; E. Cleveland, publications and emblems; Sam Botwin, television.

Community will learn of Council activities through publicity released by Mrs. James Triffon. Mrs. George Whaler will be in charge of compiling the monthly newsette for members. To Mrs. C. L. Wilson will belong the task of enrolling new members.

Achievement and evaluation of Council work will be compiled at the year's end by Mrs. Thurman Raig.

Trio Helpers To Meet

A potluck luncheon and social hour will follow the next regular session of Trio Helpers Club, to be held at Torrance Park next Tuesday, July 7. The business meeting will be called to order at 11 a.m.

Dad's Daytime Duties Won't Shut Him Out of Harbor PTA

Dad will get a break in Harbor City PTA activities during the coming year.

To give fathers and working mothers who are unable to attend daytime sessions an opportunity to participate in the group, seven out of the nine meetings will be held in the evening, 7:15 o'clock, Mrs. James Triffon, publicity chairman, revealed this week.

Session time was changed Tuesday of last week when the program planning committee met at the school auditorium. Members selected the theme for the year, "Opportunity Unlimited," and chose individual program topics, which will include juvenile protection, correlation of parent-teacher work, and problems of growing up.

Special features of the year will be a Thanksgiving skit, a Yuletide program entitled "Christmas Around the World," and a March 18 meeting devoted to youth groups, Cub Scouts, Brownies, and Girl Scouts.

In charge of planning the slate were Principal Winston Scott and Mesdames Leland Van Buren; Ray Groover, Harry Baillie, and Triffon.

Guild Slates Potluck Lunch

Mesdames Alice Speheger, Mary Lewis, Betty Woodman will share hostess honors next Wednesday, July 8, when the Ladies Guild of Central Evangelical United Brethren Church holds a 12 noon potluck luncheon at the Guild Hall.

Business session, with Mrs. W. Hauk leading devotions, will follow at 2 p.m.

BOUND FOR CANADA THIS MORNING

When a Canada-bound plane leaves Los Angeles International Airport this morning, Mrs. J. J. MacDonald, 1420 Acacia Ave., will be aboard.

The local woman is headed for Sidney, Nova Scotia, the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hector McNeil. She plans a month's visit with her family before returning to her Torrance home.
