Plans For Guard Armory Fete Set

Military, state and city officials are hurrying last minute plans for the official dedication of the Torrance National Guard Armory, at Cabrillo Ave. and Lincoln Ave., Saturday, which will include the largest display of military might in the history of the city. The parade, slated to last from one to two hours, will launch festivities at noon on dedication day. All parade units are requested to assemble on Border Ave., south of Carson St., for the affair.

Approximately 30 military units, including tanks, artillery, trucks, engineering equipment and personnel carriers, will participate in the parade. In addition, more than 2000 soldiers of the 40th National Guard Division will march.

About 25 marching units from this area will augment the military marching units.

Powers to Fly In

Dedication officials announced Tuesday that Lt. Gov. Harold Powers will fly in by helicopter from San Pedro to review the parade as guest of honor. Other state officials counted on to be present include State Senator Richard Richards and Assemblyman Vincent Thomas.

Mayors from 10 cities in this area will join Mayor Albert Isen, of Torrance, in celebration of the occasion. Isen will be official host for the affair and will be assisted by Torrance beauties, Yolonda Goldsmith, Miss Torrance, and Virginia Gotts, Miss Torrance Community Fair. They will ride in the mayor's car in the parade.

Three-Man Group

Capt. Douglas J. Horlander, commanding officer of Torrance's Co. E, 132nd Armored Engineer Battalion, Capt. Horton P. Smith and Lt. Col. (Ret.) Archibald U. Turner are assisting with military arrangements for the affair.

Commanding officer of the 40th (Southern California) National Guard Division, Maj. Gen. Homer Eaton, also will make an appearance at the extravaganza. He is scheduled to fly in by helicopter at the new armory and review the parade.

Just before the official dedication ceremonies, a flight of 12 F-86 jet fighters will roar over to salute the new military building. The jets will come from the 146th Fighter-Interceptor Group, Van Nuys. They will be California Air National Guard planes.

Official Dedication

Following the air salute by the jets, the building will be dedicated and the colors will be turned over to Torrance's Co. E, 132nd Armored Engineer Battalion. Capt. Horlander will take over for the local unit at that time.

An Open House will follow the parade and dedication ceremonies. Local residents and visitors then will be allowed to view the latest in military equipment, which will be housed in and around the new armory.

A community dance, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will follow the Open House, at 8 p.m. Frank James and his band will be featured.

Sgt. D. C. Cook, Torrance Police Department, is coordinator for the parade.

Theft of Wire

Don Penny, of the Soule Steele Co., 808 Border Ave., reported to police here Friday the theft of a role of wire mesh on Thursday night.

TIMBER SUPPLY

Western U. S. contains more than 65 billion feet of standing white fir saw timber.
