Mrs. Harry McManus spent Thursday with Mrs. William Lorrison in Los Angeles.

The next Five Hundred party to be given by the ladies of the Catholic Church will be held in the Catholic Hall on Monday evening, June 5.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Smith entertained fifteen Los Angeles friends at dinner Saturday evening. After dinner the evening was spent in playing 500 and other games.

Mr. Louis Smith and Mr. Harry McManus left Wednesday evening for Taft, where they will be gone a few days looking after the pipe work of the Union Tool shops at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Bradfield of Montebello called on Torrance friends Sunday. Mrs. Bradfield, who was Miss Mary Sullivan, is well known in Torrance.

Frozen credits are said to have caused the business trouble of last year, but most people think it was simply cold feet.

The ladies remove their hats in the theatres, but the boys with the pompadour cuts still obstruct the view.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McManus gave Miss Celina McNeil a surprise party at their home on Andro street on Friday evening, the occasion being Miss Celina's sixteenth birthday.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and Cecil Bruner roses. All guests had arrived by eight o'clock and Miss Celina was sent for. Upon entering the house she found the rooms filled with her class mates, and was greeted by a chorus of surprises being sung out. The house was turned over to the young folks and they proceeded to play games and have a general good time. At the hour of eleven o'clock dainty refreshments were served. She received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Those who enjoyed the evening were Miss Celina McNeil, Edith Sappington, Marlon Wright, Ruth and Florence Beckwith, Frances and Gertrude Anderson, Iris Barkdull, Lucile Peterson, Mary Alice Davis, Geraldine Miller, Mary Staplefeldt and Dolores and Florence McNeil; George Watson, Carl Burmaster, P. Zuver, William Shepard, Clarence Mills, Robert Lessing, Gerard Fisher, Turner McLean, Edward Anderson, Anthony Jessome and Torrance Swindell.

Before joining in the lively modern dances the girls should see that their artificial hair and false teeth are firmly fastened on.

confronted location department experts at Universal City during the filming of "Wild Honey," the Universal-Jewel attraction coming on Thursday and Friday, June 1 and 2 to the Torrance Theatre. Priscilla Dean is the star of the production.

Charles P. Stallings, head of the location staff, went out to find a stretch of country which resembled the African veldt, the chief locale of "Wild Honey." With Jack Lawton, his assistant, covering another route, the locationist explored New Mexico, Arizona, some of Nevada and Northern California, and then swung back toward Universal City.

Hidden from the main highway through the San Fernando Valley by a group of low hills, a space of great acreage was found which was almost an exact replica of the veldt. It wasn't forty miles from Universal City, and the roads to it were smooth.

Weley Ruggles directed the filming of "Wild Honey," from an adaptation prepared by Lucien Hubbard, Universal scenario editor, of Cynthia Stockley's famous novel.
