IMPROVED ROADS

LARGER REVENUE FOR ROADS

Tendency Toward Devoting Increased Portion of Motor Vehicles Tax to Highways.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)
For a number of years the general tendency toward devoting an ever-increasing portion of the motor-vehicle revenues to road work under the control and direct supervision of the state highway departments has been very noticeable. Prior to 1912 only a very small portion of the motor-vehicle registration was devoted to this purpose. In 1920, 76 per cent of the revenue, or $77,531,582.67, was applied to road work under the direct supervision of the state highway departments, and in addition $20,465,578.04 was applied to road work by counties or other local supervision, but with little or no direct supervision from the state highway departments.

In most states the motor-vehicle revenues are devoted to maintenance and repair of the state roads or other improved highways. These states seem to have solved fairly well the difficult problem of securing funds for the maintenance of the more important roads under the ever-increasing traffic requirements. As both the traffic and the revenues increase with the number of cars, there apparently exists a possibility of so adjusting the registration rates as to keep pace with the ever-growing maintenance charges. A number of the states having in general but a small mileage of improved roads have recently adopted a plan of capitalizing the motor-vehicle revenues and devoting these funds to road construction. The states doing this are Illinois, Maine, Massachusetts, Missouri, Nevada, Utah, and Wyoming. In these states have been voted or issued for road construction, and the principal, in some cases also the interest, is to be entirely from the motor-vehicle revenues.

THE MISSES AT SCHOOL

There was once a school
Where the mistress, Miss Rule,
Taught a number of misses that
Vexed her;
Miss Chief was the lass
At the head of the class,
And young Miss Demeanor was next
To her.

Poor little Miss Hap
Spilled the ink in her lap,
And Miss Fortune fell under the Table;
Miss Conduct they all
Did a Miss Creant call,
But Miss State declared this was a
Fable.

Miss Lay lost her book,
And Miss Lead undertook
To show her the place where to Find it;
But upon the wrong nail
Had Miss Place hung her veil,
And Miss Deed hid the book safe
Behind it.

They went on very well,
As I have heard tell,
Till Miss Take brought in Miss
Understanding;
Miss Conjecture then guessed
Evil things of the rest,
And Miss Counsel advised their Disbanding.

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE

This is the lesson your parents have tried to teach you from infancy. Have you learned this lesson well, or have their efforts been of no avail? THEY knew from experience what they were talking about, and they tried to impart their knowledge to you so that you might be spared the bitter experience of losing your home, your stock, your savings of a life time. Oud duty is to remind you of your obligation to your parents, and to assist you in your insurance matters by rendering expert advice as just how you should be protected.

THE CHILDREN'S CORNER

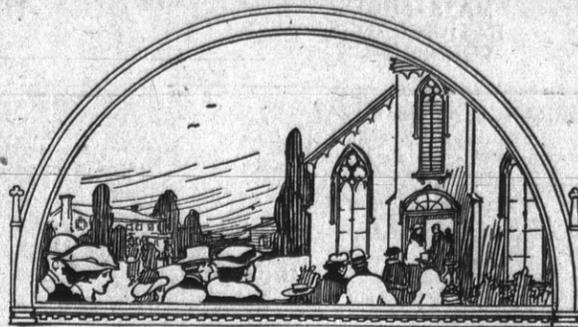

TOMMY GARNER'S SOLILOQUY

I wonder where my lady has gone. I'm so lonesome. It's all dark in the house and I don't even hear Dickey bird sing. He's gone over to one of the neighbors for a vacation. I wonder what that means? I guess it means for me to lie here in the backyard all by myself and guard the premises and feed myself on gophers, but my cup of fresh milk is by the door where my lady always placed it. Yonder comes "Miss Consolation" now with some of her dainties. What do I care for roast beef? Ba! I'm so lonesome I can't eat. I caught a gopher. I don't even like gophers any more. I just tore it to pieces and left it where it won't eat my lady's carrots any more. Somebody's come over to water the yard I suppose, 'cause the sprinkler is going like mad, but I don't like boys. They are as bad as dogs to people like me. One hit me with a stone the other day and nearly broke my tail. I'm sure glad it wasn't my head. There they are now playing ball over the top of the house. I guess I'll run and hide in the garden till they are gone. Dear me! Seems like they will never go. It's most dark. "Miss Look After Things" has already fed the chickens and it's most dark. There she comes now calling out: Tommy, Tommy, come and get your supper!

Well, I guess those horrid boys are gone, for the water has stopped sprinkling, and I believe I am a little hungry, and the plate of chicken bones and gray with rolls do appeal to a gentleman's appetite. So I'll sneak out and see what's going on. I wish my lady would come home and smooth my fur and say nice things to me. She's awful nice and awful good. Everybody loves her and so do I. "Miss Consolation" came over one time and sat on our back step and talked kind of nice to me and stroked my fur gently, and let me sit on her lap a little while, but she had to say get down, Tommy Garner. I must look after my work. But that only made me more lonesome; so I followed her home. She banged the screen door in my face, and I thought there wasn't any consolation there. O, I wish my lady would come home.

AUNT HANNAH.

A Town's Solid Citizens

Church membership does not insure a man's honesty, integrity or kind-heartedness. But in every town the people who are relied upon to support the best interests of the community are usually those who are found in the church of their choice regularly on Sunday morning.

Go to Church Every Sunday

Why not emulate Christ's example and yourself go to church—not only this Sunday, but every Sunday. Bring your children to Sunday school. Learn what the Bible teaches about your relation to others. It will mean a happier household and a pleasanter life. The people of our town who make the greatest contribution to the culture of the community go to church.

LOMITA CHURCH NOTES

At the morning service the pastor spoke on the Forgiveness of Sins, using the text: "Through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins." The forgiveness of sins is not the first article of the Christian creed, but it is the first message of the Christian evangelist. The prophets of Israel promised the forgiveness of God if Israel would repent and turn to the Lord. Forgiveness is a real experience. If it is not real to us, something is wrong. Perhaps God is not real and His wrath and love are not real. God's word will help to make it real.

Forgiveness is a personal experience, because God is a Person, and we are persons. The Bible assures us again and again of God's willingness to forgive us. It is also a reconciling experience, not God becoming reconciled to us, but our being reconciled to Him.

At the close of the service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed.

The evening subject was The Abundant Life, from the words of Jesus: "I came that they may have life and may have it abundantly." Religion is not a luxury intended and possible only for a few. Real religion not only puts us in the right relation to God, but gives us new motives of living, and sets before us the goal of higher Christian endeavor. Jesus changed the life of the Samaritan woman because she accepted His message. So He will do for everyone. Men need God more than they need goods. A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things that he possesses. St. Augustine wrote in his Confessions: O God, Thou hast made us for Thyself, and our hearts are restless and disquieted until we find rest in Thee.

Rev. A. B. Keeler of Seattle, Washington, who was announced to fill the pulpit of the Lomita church next Sunday, July 17, sends word that he will be here two weeks later, on Sunday, July 31. As Superintendent of the Church and Country Life Department of the Board of Home Missions, Mr. Keeler comes to tell us how we may secure a new church building and how we can make the church minister to all classes of the community, and thereby become a community church indeed. Be sure to hear him when he comes.
