REMEDY FOR INFECTED HENS

Since poultry raisers have learned that hens cannot lay when their reserve supply of energy is robbed by lice, good lice remedies are in great demand, according to H. M. Butterfield, supervisor of agricultural correspondence courses in the University of California. Recent investigations by J. E. Dougherty, associate professor of poultry at the university, have shown that plain commercial sodium fluoride is one of the best remedies for body lice on fowls. This remedy can be purchased for about forty cents a pound, and one hundred fowls may be treated with this quantity. A solution of one ounce of commercial sodium fluoride to each gallon of water makes a good dipper. One part of the powder mixed with four parts of road dust makes a good lice powder for dusting the fowls.

NEW ELECTRIC RATE

New rate schedules which will affect electric service for agricultural and domestic purposes, reducing costs to the small intermittent uses, are now in effect in this territory.

District Manager C. E. Houston has just received the schedules and is prepared to give information to all power users. The P-12 schedule directly affects agricultural users, and is optional to schedules P-6 and P-7. Although being received only last week it is retroactive to April 20 last. This schedule carries a readiness-to-serve charge of $5.00 per horsepower per year for the first ten horsepower, and $3.50 per horsepower per year all over ten horsepower of connected load. The energy charge is the same as that of schedule P-6 for the class of service rendered.

This new schedule has features that may be advantageous to those operating pumping plants intermittently throughout the year.

The second schedule which is of interest to the users of electric ranges is the C-1 rate, with a combination lighting and cooking service, and means a reduction of one-half cent per kilowatt hour for a heating or cooking service. The C-1 schedule has been revised so as to be effective on all meter readings taken on and after September 4th.

"We eat all we can and can all we can't."

You remember how that old saying ran. So get out your good old palm-leaf fan, every woman from Bearsheba to Dan, Mary and Francis, Ethel and Nan, you who are pale or burned brown with tan, and when cooled off and rested get ready to can, as all women have done since the world began. Get out your kettle and spoon and pan, everything all spick and span, and put up enough to fill a van, for yourself and children and your own good man, for the sick and needy and the visiting clan. If you faithfully follow this good old plan, from worry and flurry 'twill furnish a ban, and bring a happy near year the first of Jan.

SURPRISE FOR MRS. FLINT

Mrs. Joe Stone gave a surprise party for her mother, Mrs. Joe Flint, and aunt Miss Laura Couch, of Twenty-seventh street, Los Angeles, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Stone had told her mother she would bring Mrs. Shriver to call on her and then when ten ladies walked in she hardly knew what to say, but was very glad to see all these old friends from Lomita again. Mrs. Stone served ice cream and cake, and all said they enjoyed their visit with their old neighbor very much. Two machine loads went—Mrs. O. W. Thistle, Mrs. E. Shriver, Mrs. E. E. Clark, Mrs. J. H. Pickering, Mrs. J. Wilkenson, Mrs. G. H. Crittenden, Mrs. G. M. Lewis, Mrs. Wm. Boyes, Mrs. T. J. Tonkin and Mrs. J. F. Stone.

DON'T PLAY WITH FIRE

This is the lesson your parents have tried to teach you from infancy. Have you learned this lesson well, or have their efforts been of no avail? THEY knew from experience what they were talking about, and they tried to impart their knowledge to you so that you might be spared the bitter experience of losing your home, your stock, your savings of a life time.

Old duty is to remind you of your obligation to your parents, and to assist you in your insurance matters by rendering expert advice as just how you should be protected.

HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

A good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as though their husbands were balloons and blow them up. Others keep them constantly in hot water; others let them freeze by indifference and carelessness. Some keep them in a stew by irritating words and ways; others roast them. Some keep them in pickle all their lives. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good if managed in this way, but they are really delicious when properly treated. In selecting your husband, do not go to the market for him, as the best are always brought to your door. It is far better to have none unless you will patiently learn to govern him. See that the linen in which you wrap him is properly washed and mended with the required number of buttons and strings sewed on. The fire in the kettle with a strong silk cord called a comfort, as that called duty is apt to be weak. They are apt to fall out of the kettle and be burned and crusty on the edges, since like crabs and lobsters you have to cook them alive. If he sputters and fusses, as some husbands do until they are done, add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account.

BARBECUE DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Erickson, with a party of friends, enjoyed a Spanish barbecue dinner at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carrs at Wilmington on Saturday evening.

The party were entertained by colored minstrels from Los Angeles. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Erickson of Lomita, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Griffin, Mrs. Mabel Goodrich and Mr. E. Night of San Pedro; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brooks of Seattle, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gannon of Van Nuys, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Leibetter, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bross, Miss Mildred Hewett of Los Angeles, Miss Etta Camlot, Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth and Mr. and Mrs. S. Penosa of San Fernando; Mr. Roll, Mr. and Mrs. Camlot, Chas. Regine of Wilmington and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carr, host and hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steigh attended a surprise family reunion in honor of Mr. Steigh's father's seventy-eighth birthday in Redondo on Friday night.

Clinton Keller of Los Angeles was a guest of his sister, Mrs. Charles Trotman, Sunday.

A little spice improves them, but it must be used with judgment.

ALL FIGHTERS NOT PLUG-UGLIES

This prize ring champion is a family man, as shown in the above picture. He is Johnny Buff, who is flyweight champion, and who a few days ago won the bantam weight also, from Pete Herman.

A THRILL ON WHEELS

The men of Monmouth County, New Jersey, who were killed in the world war were represented in the parade at the annual convention of the New Jersey American Legion by a float bearing a replica of a military cemetery with a tiny grave for each departed hero and a cross bearing his name.

ARE YOU PREPARED FOR AN OPPORTUNITY WITH A SAVINGS ACCOUNT?

Many times in our lives Opportunity knocks at our door and we are not in a financial position to take advantage of it. Don't you think it a good plan to start SAVING so that you may fortify yourself against lost opportunities? $1.00 will start an account, and by adding to it each week you will be surprised how fast it will grow.
