

FAIRBANKS AND JACK COOGAN FILMS TO FEATURE BARGAIN WEEK AT TORRANCE THEATRE

Doug Fairbanks in "Robin Hood" and Jackie Coogan in "Circus Days," two great super-productions will feature Bargain Week at the Torrance theatre. "Robin Hood" will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday; "Circus Days" is scheduled for the following three days.

When Douglas Fairbanks began his great new production, the first scene shot was an interior, and Paul Dickey, playing Sir Guy of Gisbourne, the villain, killed a man nine times. It all happened in Richard Coeur de Leon's tent, on the road to the Holyland with the Third Crusade.

This tent was an "all-drape set," combining the principles brought out by Gordon Craig in England, Max Reinhardt in Berlin and Robert Jones in this country—representing the world's greatest triumvirate of stage decorators. In spite of the fact that this set was 40 feet deep, 40 feet wide and 24 feet high, it was put up in two hours.

"In starting this production," said Alan Dwan, who directed Mr. Fairbanks in this feature, "we felt much as we did when we went to the Grand Canyon several years ago to make scenes for 'The Modern Musketeer.' We didn't undertake to photograph the canyon at once—its magnitude appalled us. It was so vast, so big. So we played around the corrals for the first few days, photographing scenes featuring the horses and mules. Finally we got up courage enough to take a crack at the canyon.

"That's the way it was in starting on this new spectacle. At first we thought we would crash right into one of the big scenes showing a thousand knights in armor lined up for a tournament. But this undertaking was so big that it staggered us. So instead we decided to photograph the scene in Richard's tent, which we figured would give us courage enough to try one of the big out-door shots showing the resplendent knights with their plumed helmets and flashing spears."

The magnitude of this feature is such that several months were required in which to "shoot" it.

A recent review of the latest Coogan feature follows:

"Tears are mingling with laughter at the theatre this week, but it is as it should be, for another of Jackie Coogan's inimitable pictures, "Circus Days," is the First National super-attraction on display. Jackie's rollicking fun as Toby Tyler, the little runaway who joins a circus, is tinged with just the proper pitch of pathos to make the production neither ordinary comedy nor thriller, but a deep and wholesome drama that touches the heartstrings and stirs the risibles.

"The audience's sympathy is strong with young Toby when he is whipped by a harsh uncle and sent to bed after assuming the blame for a dish that his widowed mother broke. Again it is strong and many eyes are moist when he runs away from home to escape another whipping just because he got up a circus of his own.

"But smiles and laughter take the place of tears when Jackie gets a job selling peanuts in a real circus, falls in love with a tiny equestrienne star, makes warm friends of an aged clown and the fattest woman and the skinniest man in the world.

"It is a powerful picture of moods that are up and down, but it must be admitted they are mostly up."

LADIES READY-TO-WEAR STORE

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Van Andle have leased the center room in the new Karp Bldg., on Sartori street and just as soon as shelves are arranged and stock is placed they will announce their opening in Torrance. Both come highly recommended as progressive business people to Torrance.

In selecting this city over many others visited, each going in different directions alone to look over the field, they met at their headquarters and on asking each other if a city had been selected they each answered Torrance. The outlook of our city for a greater future influenced them to select this city for their future business career.

P. T. A. Executive Board Meets

The executive Board of the P.T.A., met at the home of Mrs. Phoebe Tolson, secretary, Wednesday afternoon.

Various problems were discussed, and plans made for the coming year which will be announced later.

FOR MR. AND MRS. JONES

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Leslie of Arlington Avenue, entertained at dinner Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Miss Lois Jones, Grover C. Whyte and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie.

You can sell "it" through Herald Want Ads.

GEO. PROCTOR IS NEW SUPT. OF UNION TOOL

Torrance Resident Is Promoted to Important Position

Friends of George Proctor, Torrance city trustee, are congratulating him this week on his promotion to the position of superintendent of the Union Tool company. Mr. Proctor succeeds Superintendent Smith who resigned recently. Mr. Proctor has been with the Union Tool company for many years, having worked for the company in Los Angeles before the big plant was erected in Torrance.

NEW BAKERY HERE

Hans P. Top, a well known baker, in this vicinity has leased space in the Paige Quality Grocery store for a bake shop and when his large bake oven, which he is having a long delay of shipment arrives and is installed he will start to giving the people of Torrance a delicious line of bread, pastries and cakes which will be baked fresh daily and served to the people of this community.

Mr. Top selected Torrance over many other cities because of the location he could get and the fact that this city showed a greater future for an established business such as he intends putting in here.

LEAVING FOR EAST

Miss Elsie Burkholder leaves this week for Philadelphia, where she will enter a school for Deaconesses. A number of friends gave her a farewell surprise the other evening. Games and music were the diversion of the evening. Refreshments were served to the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stock, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perry, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Burkholder, Misses Doris Beatty, Katherine Burmaster, Messrs. Robt. Spencer and Jake Groscup.

ANNOUNCES WEDDING

Frank Bruyn announces the marriage of his son Sam Bruyn to Miss Louise Hulette of Chicago, Ill. The marriage was solemnized in Santa Ana, Cal., Sept. 11.

Mr. Bruyn is employed at the Union Tool Company.

The wedding dinner along with a shower of rice was served at McKinley Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruyn will make their home in Los Angeles.
