All Modern Conveniences.

Irene was making her first visit with some relatives in the country. One afternoon she went with her aunt through a stock pasture, and they passed a windmill. It was turning rapidly. The tank was overflowing, and some pigs were standing contentedly in the small pools of water on the ground.
 In speaking about it afterwards Irene said: "Uncle is awful good to his pigs. They have a bath and a 'lectric fan.'"—Holland's Magazine.

PRETTY DRESS-UP FROCK

This dress-up frock for the "flapperette" suits her pretty slender figure and early youth exactly. It is made of duvetine and trimmed with petals of the same cloth lined with crepe de chine in a bright, contrasting color. The petals are set about the round neck, which is finished with a corded piping; and the kimono sleeves are lengthened to the elbow by puffs of crepe de chine drawn up into a band.

COATS OF SOFT CLOTH

Happy is the little girl who is destined to own a coat of duvetine like the one pictured. It bears a strong resemblance to the garments of her elders, with its full collar and wide cuff bands of fur. It has a strap belt of the material and ties for the neck, also finished with fascinating balls of fur at the ends.

DRESSY COSTUME BLOUSES

A lovely costume blouse of georgette, richly embroidered in silk, when worn with a satin or silk skirt, will make a toilette sufficiently dressy for almost any occasion. The blouse pictured has full sleeves, cut to long points at the elbow, and drawn in at the wrists. This model may be made with a peplum.

OF DEEP-PILE FABR.

For all-round wear there is no better or handsomer coat than one made of a lustrous, deep-pile fabric like the model illustrated. Bishop sleeves and a long scarf collar are among its distinguishing features, the scarf ending in silk and chenille fringe. The lining is of soft figured silk, and there are small pockets at the sides that will help keep the fingers warm in zero weather.
