WINTER'S FORMAL SUITS

A very handsome formal suit, in one of the lustrous pile fabrics, consists of a medium-length coat and a one-piece dress which reaches nearly to the ankles. The dress has a round neck and long sleeves and its waist and sleeves are richly embroidered in silk. The sleeves of the coat are shorter and are slashed, revealing a satin lining in a contrasting color. The wide chin collar is of natural squirrel fur. Velvet and other soft-faced fabrics invite rich and elaborate embroideries and the vogue of fur contributes another luxurious element to the composition of formal suits. They have advantages; the coats in many of them may be worn with any dress and the one-piece dress or skirt with costume blouse makes a handsome indoor toilette.

MANY NEW STYLE POINTS

Bearing the hall mark of the new season's styles this handsome dress of tricotine invites attention to its novel features. They include a row of little silver buttons on the bloused bodice, sleeves narrow at the top, flaring and split below the elbow, where they are faced with checked silk and edged with tabs of silk braid and silver buttons. A full satin panel, finished with deep silk fringe and embroidery of colored beads and silk, falls from a corresponding ornament at the waist line, and finishes a remarkably smart design. These large and brilliant ornaments at the line of the girdle, or holding the drapery, make the only decoration needed on gowns of metalasse and other decorative, newly arrived fabrics.

THE TOUCH THAT TELLS

Happy the woman who knows the value of accessories—and how to use them. They are the finishing touches that make or mar and add variety and flavor to apparel. The knack lies in picking out good ones and in wearing them one or two at a time. There is a list, too long to print; neckwear, veils and bags are with us every year, fans now and then, earrings spasmodically, rings and necklaces always. Just now, earrings and fancy combs are in the spotlight—earrings have reached the limit in length and combs can grow no larger. Lace, gauze and fancy fans crowd the feather fan in favor, girdles claim much attention, necklaces flourish everywhere and face veils dawn again on fashion's horizon.

WOMAN'S GUILD.

Woman's Guild of the Episcopal church met with Mrs. John Davis at the residence of Mrs. J. R. Sach, Friday afternoon. The next meeting will be held at the residence of Mrs. James H. Milburn, 1916 Andreo avenue, on Friday, September 29, at 2 p. m., when plans for the coming winter will be made.

MACCABEES.

The Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees will hold their annual picnic at Redondo Beach, Saturday, Sept. 23. It is planned to leave Torrance as near nine o'clock as possible, and all members and children are especially asked to be present and enjoy the day of fun.

A Bazaar is to be held near the Holidays, the date will possibly be set at the next meeting, Tuesday evening, Sept. 26.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Hyatt, and Mrs. R. Willits of Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Willits, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Hyatt, and their families from Corona.

The party expected to join Mr. and Mrs. Young and all go to the beach for the day. But they were from inland towns, the Torrance breeze and the shade of the pepper tree was too inviting so they remained until evening, then they all motored to the beach for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fess entertained a small crowd of neighbors' children Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 13th, in honor of their son Junior's second birthday anniversary. The home was decorated in pink and a cake with two candle in corresponding color made the centerpiece for the table. All had a most delightful afternoon.

Hunters Warned Off Palos Verdes Estates

Hunters should watch their step—keep off the Palos Verdes Ranch, as notices have been posted to that effect, and that trespassers will be prosecuted and subject to not less than a $25 fine.

Deputy Game Warden Taylor also says that persons demolishing, or in any way tampering with the signs will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.
