Applications for membership in the New York Newspaper club require the aspirants to set down the "name in full," "business address," "home address," and "occupation." Then follows a special heading, "newspaper experience," in which they detail the extent and character of their service. When William Randolph Hearst, recently elected to active membership, filled out his application blank he found one word sufficient under the entry "newspaper experience." It was: "Plenty!"

METHODIST CHURCH
"Why Men Do Not Attend Church." If nothing more, this question has set men to thinking, anyway. Some of the answers are worthy of more than a passing notice. Many of them might well cause both ministers and laymen in the church to sit up and take notes. But of course there are two sides to the question. The pastor will take up the question next Sunday evening and present the issue in a plain and practical talk. All men interested in things vital and of importance to the public good are earnestly invited. The frivolous and selfish man may pass the whole thing up without a second thought. But most men are honest about the matter—and all other matters that have to do with church, home, and the destiny of the nation. The meeting last Sunday night was of uncommon interest. The three laymen who spoke did themselves and the church credit. The people were highly pleased. The primary department of the Sunday school gave a highly interesting entertainment last Tuesday evening, and a fine offering was given to help fit up the rooms for these bright little tots. The newly organized Epworth league has started off with a remarkable interest. They meet at 6:45 Sunday evening. Miss Mabel Ella Brown leads next Sunday evening. Don't forget next Sunday morning service.

Lomita Community Church
Morning worship, 11 o'clock—"That Which Is Not Bread." Evening worship, 7:30 o'clock—"Three Points in Salvation." Sunday school, 9:45 a.m.; superintendent, L. J. Hunter. Intermediate C. E. prayer meeting, 6:30 p.m.; topic, "One-Half the World Lacks the Gospel: What Shall We Do About It?" The evening worship begins with a song service led by the choir under the direction of the chorister, Charles Eade. The choir of this church, under the direction of Charles Eade, will give a song service Sunday evening just preceding the evening worship. Those who enjoy singing are cordially invited. The pastor's message will be short and practical. Come and enjoy the Sunday evening service. E. E. Clark, pastor. Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wolfe of the Castle apartments have purchased a property on Sierra street, near Amapola avenue. They are erecting a new three-room modern house and will move about March 1.

First Baptist Church of Torrance
Rev. J. Whitfield Green, pastor. Were you one of the hundred and fifty-four that attended Sunday school last Sunday at the home church? Enthusiasm for the Lord's work going forward by leaps and bounds; both morning and evening services had large congregations. Come on and join the crowds next Sunday and hear the gospel sermons and our wonderful evening song service. The morning theme will be "A Place Called Calvary"; the evening sermon, "Sampson, the Strong Man." The ladies' Bible class were out in full force last Sunday and the contest for membership between them and the men's fellowship class commenced to look like the ladies have won; so come on, fellow brothers—come out and see if we can't beat them yet. Sunday school, 9:45; "help make it 200." Morning service, 11. B. Y. P. U., 6:45. Evening song service, 7:30. Prayer meeting Wednesday, 7:30 p. m.

Christian Church
American Legion hall. W. T. Adams, pastor. Last Sunday was another splendid day with us. There was an increase in the Sunday school, and one more addition to the church, making seven added the last four Sundays. Next Sunday should be better than last. Come and help us make it so. Sunday school at 11 a. m. Church services at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. You are cordially invited to all the services.
