SPOTLIGHTS ON SPORT

by JACK KEENE

FOLKS have been wondering how Stanley Coveleskie of the Indians is going to get along without Steve O'Neill. Steve, figure in a winter trade, will perform at Boston with the Sox this year. He and Covey were battery partners about eight years. Covey isn't worried.

"Say," said Covey, when somebody asked if he wouldn't miss Steve O'Neill, "Steve sure was one grand fellow to have back there behind the bat and he'll be a great help to the Boston Red Sox, but take it from me these young catchers of the Indians are darn good backstops. I've pitched to Glenn Myatt and I've pitched to Luke Sewell and I never had one kick coming about the way they handled my delivery. And I've seen enough of what Al Walthers can do behind the bat to know that I won't get the worst of the deal if he happens to be named as my battery mate."

THE reformers got another setback in Kentucky. Racing under parimutuels in the Blue Grass State was saved when the Bennett anti-betting racetrack bill was killed by the state senate by a vote of 21 to 14. The concerted fight against racing had been attacked on the ground that it was being used by reformers and politicians as an obstructionist plan to block practically all the legislation that has been proposed during the present session of the legislature, which convened in January.

URBAN SHOCKER'S little rebellion seems to have been worth it. A St. Louis paper says that it has learned from "reliable sources" that the St. Louis Browns gave Urban Shocker an increase of between $4000 and $5000 and that his salary for 1924 will be $13,500. Shocker became disgruntled with the Browns for suspending and fining him $1000 last season for failure to accompany the team east when refused permission to take his wife along. The $1000 has been returned to the spitballer, 'tis said.

CASE tied a football record last season and would have broken it if possible. They did not win a game in the entire grid season. The students counted it a moral victory when the Cleveland griders got a score. Case is going to begin all over this fall. It has hired Bob Fletcher, former University of Illinois star, as head coach.

MISS DEAN AS LADY RAFFLES TO BE SHOWN

Torrance Theatre Also Offers Big Ince Production

Priscilla Dean will be seen at the Torrance theatre Wednesday, March 5, as Lady Raffles in "White Tiger." Included in the cast of this Universal-Jewel production are Wallace Beery, Matt Moore and Ray Griffith. The picture was directed by Tod Browning, who directed "Outside the Law."

Love that glorifies and exalts; passion that sears and rends. Those are the scenes for which every picture producer strives and yearns. Those are the scenes that lift screen offerings from the rut of the commonplace to the realm of the "unforgettable"; that makes stars overnight. Outstanding in the mind of every picture-goer are favorite love scenes that live in memory long after productions themselves have been forgotten.

Powerful Scene
Thomas H. Ince has contributed one of the most powerful love scenes of recent productions in his screen adaptation of "Anna Christie." There is no seductive moonlight, no shadowed arbor, no crackling fire, as a background for this remarkable scene. He has painted a picture of mighty passion—and told it in the cabin of a coal barge. This picture, a First National release, will be shown at the Torrance theatre Thursday and Friday, March 6 and 7.

Blanche Sweet has been a favorite with the picture followers since "Judith of Bethulah" lifted her to highest stardom. In "Anna Christie" she proves herself an emotional actress of first water.

TORRANCE NOTES
Mrs. F. M. Reavie of Arlington avenue is spending some time with friends in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Porter and son Harry were Wednesday guests of friends in Balboa.

Mrs. G. B. Laing of Redondo Beach and Mrs. A. H. Bradhurst, here recently from Boston, Mass., were guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodington of Arlington avenue.

A new home on Martini avenue is being built for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swartz of Gramercy avenue by the Vonthrockwat Building company.

She Is 80 Years Old, But Has Good Time at the Dance

Mrs. Lydia Basse was guest of honor at a dinner given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Smith of Narbonne avenue. Though Mrs. Basse admits she is 80 years old, the affair was a celebration of her twentieth birthday. Four generations were present. The guests who enjoyed the dinner were the honoree, Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Cline, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. William Peightal and son, Misses Edith and Lydia Smith, Gordon Cline, and Dan McGarry Smith.

BETTER BABIES DAY

The next meeting of the Mothers' Education Center will be on Friday, March 7, at the high school. All mothers who wish to take their babies will please register at Reeve's hardware store on Sartori street.

Older children will be admitted to the Center between 1:30 and 3 o'clock. The February Center was very successful, there being 27 babies present. A high percentage of the returned babies showed a marked improvement.

The "Story of Life," as told by Dr. Wilde, is beautiful, and she has kindly consented to tell the story to the high school girls if the mothers signify their wish that she do so.

CELEBRATE FOURTH BIRTHDAY

Little Joyce Davis of Amapola avenue, 4 years old, had a birthday party Thursday afternoon. There was a lovely cake with candles on it, and everybody enjoyed games and music. The guests included Bernice Davis, Elery Parker, Dorothy Howe, Mary Connor, Harry Davis, Leo Howe, Minnie Davis, Giles Davis, Worthington Howe, Mrs. Dora Parker, Mrs. Mary Connor, Mrs. R. R. Howe, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davis.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

Frank McBride, recently of Santa Fe Springs, pleaded guilty to an attempt to remove an icebox from the Joe Luck property at the corner of Narbonne and Palm streets. Financially embarrassed, McBride was unable to pay his fine, so he's got 100 days in which to ponder on what he might have done with the icebox had he gotten away with it.

A. W. Weddell put all the blame on one glass of moonshine, when he was arraigned before Judge Hunter recently. Weddell, in a Ford coupe, ran amuck down Narbonne avenue and hit three cars and a telephone pole before the coupe overturned and he shot out through the top. It cost him $100. One wonders if he fed the moonshine to the Ford.
