New Hotel For Torrance

Owned and Controlled By Torrance People

REALIZING the great need of a modern hotel with facilities for social and community life in Torrance, the Dorman C. Hunt Hotel Company announce plans for the construction of an up-to-date hotel to be built in the business district of Torrance.

The hotel building, according to plans already drawn, will be a credit to Torrance for years to come, and in fact would do credit to a much larger city. It will be a three-story brick structure with stores on the ground floor. Provision is also made for the addition of three more stories when the growth of the business justifies it.

The exterior will be particularly pleasing to the eye, the ground plans being very spacious, with plenty of air and sunlight to all portions of the building. The interior is designed to make it a center of the social life of the community and a source of civic pride.

The personnel of the organizers, directors and managers of the Dorman C. Hunt Company will stand the closest scrutiny and investigation. They are without exception men of financial standing and responsibility. More important than this, they are practical hotel men of many years experience and successful operation.

The president, Mr. Dorman C. Hunt, has been in the hotel business for 18 years. For some time he was associated with the Hotel Rosslyn of Los Angeles and later on managed the Wesley Terrace Hotel, both of these being large high class hostleries. Prior to his Los Angeles experience, he owned and operated the Lenox and Touraine Hotels and the Maxium Cafe in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Attie L. Hunt, Vice-President, has had 25 years successful hotel experience and is owner of the Potter Apartments in Venice, California.

Mr. Chester B. Caldwell, Secretary and Treasurer, was for 12 years owner and manager of the Hotel Chester and Hotel Angelus of Pomona, California. At present, he is associated with the Hotel Lee of Los Angeles, as Assistant Manager.

A young city which is growing as rapidly as Torrance feels the need of a high class hotel perhaps more acutely than any other form of improvement. It becomes the center of the social life of the community; it promotes trade and activity in all retail lines; real estate values increase; visitors leave with a pleasant impression; and the whole community, social and financial, is bettered. But in addition to all these features, the hotel business, properly managed, is a very lucrative one, and we feel that a great many Torrance people will be glad to participate in the success of this worthy project. For this reason, we have planned to have the new hotel owned and controlled by Torrance people.

Offices have been opened at 1341 El Prado Street, Torrance, where any additional information may be obtained.
