Gloria Swanson Resplendent in New Photoplay

Gloria in Role of Queen in Mary Roberts Rinehart Story

WHAT'S ON AT TORRANCE THEATRE

Tuesday and Wednesday—Gloria Swanson in "Her Love Story." A Lloyd Hamilton comedy. Secrets of Life subject, "The Spider."

Thursday—Special event, "Pay Day." Jack Holt and Norma Shearer in an outdoor story, "Empty Hands." Sunshine comedy. Fox News.

Patrons of the Torrance Theatre will be treated Tuesday and Wednesday to another Gloria Swanson production, "Her Love Story." The picture is based upon Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel, "Her Majesty the Queen," which the editor of the Cosmopolitan Magazine declared to be "the greatest dramatic story that has come into my hands in the past three years. It should make a great picture." The role suits Gloria to a "T." It offers wide opportunities for strong, dramatic acting, and at the same time gives her a chance to wear some of the most stunning gowns.

In the supporting cast are George Fawcett, Mario Majeroni, Ian Keith, and others equally well known. Comedy relief is supplied by that admirable comedian, Lloyd Hamilton, in "Going East." A Secrets of Life reel, "The Spider," is also on the bill.

Thursday, which has come to be known as "Pay Day" at the Torrance theatre, will bring Jack Holt and Norma Shearer in "Empty Hands," a story of the great outdoors, which is said to be of an unusual character. The picture was filmed in the beautiful Canadian Rockies, which fact, from a pictorial standpoint, should make the picture a joy to the eye.

"Pay Day" at the Torrance theatre has become an institution, and promises to become more so now that Mr. Grace is offering capital prizes in the shape of gold pieces. The $250 gold pieces are particularly attractive because of their scarcity; as everyone knows, this coin is no longer issued, and the few that are in circulation are being withdrawn as fast as people get hold of them.

Mrs. H. W. Sharp of 2424 261st street, who had the misfortune of burning her face in a gas explosion recently, is reported to be getting on nicely.

There will be a Chamber of Commerce meeting held at the Firemen's hall Tuesday evening at 7:30.

A special called meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist church will be held at the church parlors Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

Mrs. E. W. Waldron of Belleporte avenue is confined to her bed with sickness.

C. R. Perlewitz is having a four-room bungalow built on his lot on 257th street. R. L. Putnam is the contractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Aspitte entertained as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aspitte, and William Aspitte, of Riverside.

Singing Cop, New Don Jose, Is Winning Success in Opera

By Central Press

PARIS, Nov. 7.—One of these days Traffic Officer Henri Vors is going to turn in his badge and whistle and take a place with the world's opera stars.

Vors, officially Officer 2422, now divides his time between traffic duty in the Place l'Opera and roles at the Opera Comique. He is a self-made artist. Impresarios say he is a rare find, and with his Caruso-like tenor voice, is the reincarnation of Carmen's ideal Don Jose.

"Paris' 'singing cop' loves to sing, and sings for the sake of singing. He has been disciplined three times for talking back to the brigadier (sergeant) after being called down for singing on duty."

Whatever success he achieves will have been accomplished by arduous perseverance.

Father Discouraging

He was born on June 9, 1877, at Sette, in the Herault department, where the sun shines nine months out of twelve. His father was a wine-barrel cooper, and Henri helped him in his work till he left home to perform his two years of military duty with the Thirteenth regiment of dragoons.

Don Jose was a cavalryman, too, but though Vors used to throw out of pretty-Carmens, he never went to jail for one, like poor Jose. He has sung ever since he was a boy. His parents never encouraged him; on the contrary, vocal efforts at home were invariably silenced by the remark which his father thundered at him: "Shut up, you fool; you'll burst a vein." It was in the army that he decided to study music.

After leaving the army Vors made up his mind to learn how to use his voice. At that time, however, he lacked funds with which to pay for the necessary tuition, and he temporarily solved the problem by purchasing a second-hand phonograph, for which he bought just one disk—"Pagliacci," sung by Enrico Caruso.

Morally happy, Vors then started looking for a job. He sought one that would give him sufficient free-time to practice every day, allow him enough time off to take piano and solfeggio lessons, and further provide enough money to enable him to live the life of a student of music. In Paris policemen are on duty in the morning one day and in the afternoon or evening the next day. That gives them the very kind of working conditions that Vors required, so he became a cop.

Has Brave Record

His police service record bears five citations for bravery. Two are outstanding. In 1917, while off duty and in civilian clothes, he responded to the calls for help of a uniformed colleague, who was decidedly getting the worst of a fight with three dangerous bandits. Vors saved the other policeman's life. In 1918 Vors stopped a runaway horse in the Rue du Trubigo. He was dragged 200 feet.
