Women's Club Hears Address About Prisons

Mrs. Margaret Frick Speaks Here on California Institutions

In her talks before the Women's Club Thursday afternoon Mrs. Margaret Frick, chairman of institutional relations of the Central Federation of Women's Clubs, said that idleness is the worst feature of public institutions, whether hospitals, prisons, or reformatories.

OSTEOPATHY and HEALTH TALKS

By Dr. Bruce Castle Apartments Watch this space each issue for Talks on Vital Subjects.

A few years ago, during the flu epidemic, the world was astonished at the low death rate from flu and pneumonia under Osteopathic management as compared to the high death rate where drugs were used.

Folks who have been unfortunate enough to suffer with the flu, this year, have remembered the lesson of a few years ago and have called an osteopath, right at the onset. These people made a much quicker recovery with no after effect of drugs to wear off during convalescence.

The fever which is present shows the body is trying to burn up the flu poisons. Food merely clogs up the body without any possible benefit. If you want the best results, stop eating, go to bed, drink lots of water and call your Osteopath.

Mrs. Frick compared Folsom prison, where the hardened criminals are sent, with San Quentin, where the less hardened are sent, saying that she would rather walk alone among those at Folsom, who are kept busy in the rock quarry and on the prison farm, than at San Quentin, where 2842 men are confined in cells built for 1350 and where there is not work enough to keep them busy.

There are 56 women confined at this prison in accommodations that were built for 22, she pointed out.

Mrs. Mary Linsbarger Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. Fitzhugh, sang a group of songs.

Mrs. F. L. Parks reported $150 cleared from the dance given on Jan. 24, and thanked all who by their efforts made the dance a success.

Mrs. Fred Hansen reported $220.02 cleared on the play, "A Full House," given on Feb. 29, and a rising vote of thanks was given by the club to all who took part in the play and fashion show.

Mrs. Hurum Reeve reported that work could commence on the clubhouse as soon as the plans arrive, as all requirements of the state commission have been met.

A resolution favoring Palos Verdes estates as the site of the University of California, Southern Branch, was adopted.

Miss Lydia Pringle reported on the conference of international relations, and Mrs. I. W. Barnett reported on the presidents' council held at the Highland Park Ebell clubhouse.

Women of Klan Initiate Class On Western

Hundreds of Cars at Evening Ceremony in Torrance

When the fog cleared away so suddenly Saturday evening it revealed to passersby on Western avenue just west of Torrance a sight which attracted hundreds of cars. The scene reminded one of pictures often seen of the meetings held in the hills and on the mountain sides at the end of the Civil War, when the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan aided in the reconstruction of the south.

But closer observation revealed the fact that there was not a man among the thousands of robed figures who, under the light of two immense fiery crosses which illuminated the whole natural bow, initiated 500 women into the order of the Women of the Ku Klux Klan.

A roll call of the officials showed a representation in the wide circle of cities from all parts of Southern California, and it was learned from officials that this was the first outdoor demonstration given exclusively by the women's organization in the state.

Beautiful flags were hoisted on high standards with dozens of spotlights thrown on them, and beneath were red-capped figures with glittering swords.

There was spirited singing of patriotic songs, followed by an impressive ceremony.

Lomita Theatre Country Store For Wednesday

Star Features Booked at Picture House This Week

Country store night will be ushered in Wednesday at the Lomita theatre, and will be a regular weekly feature, it is announced by Manager Jay Chotiner.

There'll be barrels of gifts, gags and gurgles, as Cy Haskins, who "tends bar," has a reputation in this territory as a regular Santa Claus.

Numerous gifts have been obtained for Lomita guests, and indications are that Wednesday will be a large night. The picture feature will be "Forty Winks," starring Viola Dana, Theodore Roberts and Raymond Griffith.

Today's program will be headed by "Contand," an Alan Crossland production for Paramount. Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton head the cast. It is a fighting romance said to be packed with thrilling action. An Al St. John comedy will provide the smiles.

Eleanor Boardman, Lew Cody and Conrad Nagel are coming to the Lomita on Thursday in Hobart Henley's production, "So This Is Marriage." It's the story of a waltz-time husband with a jazz-time wife. Additional features include Bobby Vernon in "Bright Lights," "Secrets of Life," and "Kinograms."

Rin-Tin-Tin in "The Lighthouse by the Sea," the first of Warner Brothers' screen classics contracted for by Chotiner Theaters, Inc., will be shown Saturday. The locale of the story, the plot and the action lend themselves, it is said, to the remarkable ability and sagacity of this canine.

The program Sunday will be headed by three acts of rapid-fire vaudeville, and "Three Women," an Ernst Lubitsch production, starring May McAvoy, Marie Prevost, Pauline Frederick and Lew Cody.

Harry Carey in "The Flaming Forties" is coming to the Lomita on Monday. The picture was adapted from "Tennessee's Partner," by Bret Harte.

REBEKAH NOTES

About thirty members of Trio Rebekah Lodge visited Edelweis Lodge in Los Angeles Thursday evening. A chicken dinner followed the conferring of the degree by the Huntington Park Lodge degree team.

District Deputy President Lilly and Mrs. Carolina Poor were visitors at Trio Lodge Wednesday evening. A social hour and refreshments followed the usual order of business.

Mrs. Stineman of Pasadena, president of the Rebekah Assembly of California, will make an official visit to Trio Rebekah Lodge Wednesday evening, March 11. The past noble grands of the local organization will present a play as part of the evening's entertainment.

DeMille Film Classic-Coming

Vera Reynolds and Lillian Rich in Cecil B. DeMille's Production 'The Golden Bed' A Paramount Picture

WHAT'S ON AT TORRANCE THEATRE

Tuesday and Wednesday—Universal-Jewel production, "Love and Glory," with Madge Bellamy, Charles de Roche, Wallace MacDonald, Ford Sterling, "Go-Getter" comedy, Felix the Cat.

Thursday—"His Last Race," with Noah Beery, Pauline Starke, Tully Marshall, and all-star cast. Mack Sennett comedy. Fox News. Friday and Saturday—Cecil B. DeMille's "The Golden Bed," Aesop's Fables. International News.

Wallace Irwin's Pictorial Review series, "The Golden Bed," has been brought to the screen by Cecil B. DeMille in his usual lavish and sparkling manner. This is the last picture DeMille made before severing his connection with Paramount, and it has been proclaimed his greatest—greater even than "Man- slaughter." Certainly he went the limit in the matter of cast, for such favorites as Vera Reynolds, Lillian Rich, Julia Faye, Rod La Roque, Warner Baxter, Henry Walthall, Robert Edson, Theodore Kosloff, Charles Clary and Robert Cain parade their wares in this startling social satire.

The picture will be shown for only two days, Friday and Saturday, at regular prices. Aesop's Fables and International News will also be shown. On Saturday only episode 9 of "The Riddle Rider," starring William Desmond and Ellen Sedgwick, will be presented.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Warthan of 645 Border avenue were Long Beach visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Zetta McCord of Portola avenue entertained a few Los Angeles and Torrance friends at dinner Saturday evening in honor of the twenty-first birthday of her son, Joseph McCord.

King Players Present Great Stage Success

Famous Comedy, "The Bad Man," will Be Put on Soon

Ever since the Charles King Players opened their engagement at the New Mission theatre, Long Beach, amusement-seekers have wanted to see Dudley Ayres play "The Bad Man." Few plays in recent years have achieved such general public recognition as this rapid-fire comedy from the pen of Porter Emerson Browne.

In "The Bad Man" Holbrook Blinn scored the greatest hit of his career, and the fame of his achievement has spread from coast to coast. He played it in New York and he played it in Los Angeles. Not in a dozen years has any comedy won so many friends for itself or for the star interpreting it.

The central figure of the story is Pancho Lopez, a Mexican chieftain who is a dominating ruffian, according to all the rules of modern polite society, but, at the same time, a delight to his listeners because of his underlying spirit of friendliness and geniality. He looks upon the law as subject matter, to be broken at the first opportunity. He finds such opportunity when he and his men swoop down on the Jones ranch; just over the Mexican border in the United States.

"The Bad Man" is thoroughly an amusement play, and the King Players can be depended upon for a wonderful production of it. While preparing for its presentation the company is playing to near-capacity houses in "Nightie Night," the funniest farce-comedy that has been produced in a decade. Critics went wild over the play itself, and they have been equally enthusiastic over the King Players' presentation of it.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Porter and sons Harvey and Bob, of 2019 Arlington avenue, attended the annual Iowa picnic at Lincoln Park on Saturday.
