Wonder Dog at Lomita Theatre

Rin-Tin-Tin in

"The Lighthouse by the Sea" will be the attraction on Saturday at the Lomita theatre.

The first of the Warner screen classics to be presented at the Lomita theatre, "The Lighthouse by the Sea," featuring Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog, will be shown Saturday. The tremendous importance of the lighthouse, particularly as it bears on the vicious activities of ruffians and bootleggers, is the theme of this photodrama. The plot was taken from the stage success by Owen Davis, which usually means action and plenty of it.

Sunday's program will be featured by three acts of rapid-fire vaudeville, and Ernest Lubitsch's superproduction, "Three Women." It is not infrequently that a woman must give up the man she loves to another woman. But how different it all is when that woman is her daughter. Lubitsch has created this unusual situation in "Three Women," starring May McAvoy, Lew Cody, Pauline Frederick and Marie Prevost.

Harry Carey in "The Flaming Forties" will be the feature on Monday and Tuesday. In this production Bret Harte's famous hero, "Tennessee's Partner," has been brought to life on the screen by one of the foremost interpreters of the eternal west.

It is said to be a breath-taking tale of the glorious days of colors and romances, when adventure stood squarely in a man's path and danger lurked on every side.

reels; for that reason alone it should be jam-packed, as the studio press agents say, with action and thrills. International News completes the program.

Stage Star Heads Five-Star Cast in "If I Marry Again"

WHAT'S ON AT TORRANCE THEATRE

Friday and Saturday—Cecil B. DeMille's "The Golden Bed," with all-star cast. Aesop's Fables. International News. Sunday and Monday—"If I Marry Again," with Doris Kenyon, Anna Q. Nilsson, Lloyd Hughes, Frank Mayo, Hobart Bosworth, Harry Carey in "Straight Shootin'." International News.

Another of the new First National pictures, "If I Marry Again," comes to the Torrance theatre on Sunday and Monday, with Doris Kenyon heading an all-star cast, including Anna Q. Nilsson, Lloyd Hughes, Frank Mayo, Hobart Bosworth. As the title indicates, the picture deals with the marital relation, but contains, it is said, innumerable comedy and dramatic situations. It is the first of a series of First National pictures in which Miss Kenyon is starred.

On the same program is Harry Carey, favorite of western fans, in a thrilling two-reeler entitled "Straight Shootin'." This picture was originally produced as a feature, but has been cut to two

OSTEOPATHY and HEALTH TALKS

By Dr. Bruce Castle Apartments

Watch this space each issue for Talks on Vital Subjects.

"ARE ALL OSTEOPATHIC CURES RAPID"

Because most people take no notice of Osteopathy till some startling, seemingly miraculous cure is performed right under their eyes, they jump at the conclusion that all cures are instantaneous. They go forthwith to the nearest Osteopath and demand to be cured immediately.

One of the chief functions of Osteopathy is to correct structures so that the vital fluids and forces of the body, blood, lymph and nerve currents, may be unimpeded in their free flow to and from every part of the body. To do this, we must get every muscle relaxed, every ligament pliable, every joint freely movable and every bone and other structure in its proper place. The best that any physician can do is to remove the conditions that interfere with nature's work and establish a normal flow of the vital fluids and forces of the human body.

Naturally there will follow a condition of health as great as the remaining structure is capable of maintaining.

So many people say, "We do not see how you can do this." The same people do not see how the sun can shine, how the flowers bloom, or how the imponderable electric current can drive the ponderous machinery of the factory. You are invited to come in and let us explain how osteopathy would be expected to reach your case.
