Then, of course, we have hundreds of dainty presents for her personal use, that are sure to please the heart of every June bride.

SCHOOL NEWS

HIGH SCHOOL

The Girls' League on Tuesday elected their officers for next year, as follows: Ida Reeve, president; Ruth Beckwith, vice-president; Lucille Morrison, secretary; Rosaline Conkel, treasurer; and Maxine Brown, sergeant-at-arms. The Girls' League is doing many things in connection with the girls' activities and are now making requests of all parents that the girls wear middie and skirts. The regulation uniform dress will probably be adopted unanimously by the girls next year. It has not only been a great saving in money by the parents, but it increases the educational efficiency of the pupils. In this connection Mr. Barnett reports that every visitor to the Torrance School has remarked that there was less rouge and cosmetics used at this school than any other school visited. This condition, Mr. Barnett says, should be credited to the Girls' League.

In February of 1926 Torrance will have its first mid-year graduation.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

The ball team played Gardena on the Gardena diamond on Tuesday, and will have a return game with that team on Monday at Torrance, 3 p. m. Coach Mitchell will umpire the game.

OBSERVATIONS

vantage gained by reason of friendship is eminently ethical and proper.

"8.—To hold that true friends demand nothing of one another and that any abuse of the confidence of friendship for profit is foreign to the spirit of Rotary, and in violation of the Code of Ethics.

"9.—To consider no personal success legitimate or ethical which is secured by taking unfair advantage of certain opportunities in the social order that are denied others, nor will I take advantage of opportunities to achieve material success that others will not take because of the questionable morality involved.

"10.—To be not more obligated to a brother Rotarian than I am to every other man in human society; because the genius of Rotary is not in its competition but in its co-operation; for provincialism can never have a place in an institution like Rotary, and Rotarians assert that human rights are not confined to Rotary Clubs, but are as deep and as broad as the race itself; and for these high purposes does Rotary exist to educate all men and all institutions.

"11.—Finally, believing in the universality of the Golden Rule, all things whatsoever ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them, we contend that society best holds together when equal opportunity is accorded all men in the natural resources of this planet."

That code is the foundation of Rotary. It is daily woven more clearly and permanently into the fabric of commerce and trade.

Edith Lay (vice-principal), Etta Mowry and Clarice Mais are a committee to plan a farewell for the graduating class.

On Wednesday, June 24, the teachers and their husbands will enjoy a dinner party in the kindergarten room at 6 p. m. Following the dinner every member of the faculty will take part in a program requiring each teacher to do a stunt. It is rumored that several husbands-to-be will be present. The committee includes Mabel-Ella Brown, Norma Bowen, and Claribel Ingle.

Yesterday was a minimum day, all pupils being excused at 1 p. m.

A survey is being made this week to ascertain the number of school savings banks being used. A record pertaining to each bank will be sent to headquarters.

On Monday the first aid team will go to Los Angeles to compete in a meet at Lafayette Park of all the schools in the system. Torrance won the right to compete in this match by winning the district meet, and, as they are given credit for being one of the best teams, they have a fine chance of winning the meet.

P. T. A. MEET WEDNESDAY

There will be a meeting of the new officers of the Parent-Teacher Association on Wednesday, June 17, at 2 p. m., in the Elementary School building.

All new officers are urgently requested to be present, as chairmen for various committees must be chosen at this meeting.

TOWNE ALKE

"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

Well, Ras and Sam Levy has shook off the smoke from our modern industrial city and are on their way with a trainload of rotarians to the buckeye state. And I hope they have a roaring good time.

But I sure got it in for them two cub reporters, Ras left me to edit this column—I mean, Rufus and Hurum. Here it is late Friday morning, and not a line have I seen from them boys. I'm commencing to think it was all a cheap stunt to get free advertising.

Now, even if they do bring in any old jokes, I'll charge 'em space rates for them.

Rufus, Rufus, I've been thinking What punk reporters you two make.

Here it's late on Friday morning And I got no news to date.

Hurum, Hurum, I've been thinking If I ordered nails by phone, You would bring them with such speed Full grown spikes would reach my home.

One of our mail subscribers come in the office Wednesday and says "I'm G. H. Greenwood. I've been taking your paper in Washington, Indiana, and I want to pay up another year." Harvel Guttenfelder, set in my office as usual, and when the suburban reader went out, Harvel says, "Have you got subscribers as far away as Indiana?"

And I says, "Oh yes, we send this paper to every state in the Union." Which reminds me of the old editor in my home town who always says, "This paper goes to North America, South America, Europe, Asia, and Australia, and it's all we can do to keep it from going to h—."

The other day we was trying to sing, "I want to be happy," over at the Rotary club. I guess the boys was trying to cheer themselves up because Ras was gone. But anyway, Mac Mackenzie, he says, "You guys don't sing it right. You'd oughta put a falsetta on that last note. But Mac couldn't show us how, because Doc Hoag hasn't given Mac his falsetta teeth yet.

EXTREE! EXTREE!

Here comes Hurum with a basketful of raspberries. Hold the press, boys. Ain't they juicy!

By HURUM

Ras says he's gona get the paper via Air Mail, and Bond the Barber says to me "It ought to sure get there, if they print your hot air!"

Tother day a lot of Bees swarmed in front of John Peas' Bread and Butter Joint, and after much beating of pans and other Hula Hula stuff, the bees settled and are now honey mooning. John says Busy Bees Bring Business in Bum times.

Some one asked John if he ever got stung, and he says "No, not by a bee."

Claude Mackenzie had his teeth pulled out, all but one. Yes, all but one, cause he had to have something to anchor his see-gar.

Everybody likes Harvel Guttenfelder's Pretty William Tell Tie. They say it's a W. T. tie cause when you pull the bow you hit the apple.

Any how it's a cute tie and Harvel looks like the first day at school.

Via wireless we hear that Sam Levy give himself away for being a married man. Frances lays a two bit tip for the Pullman waiter and Sam right away picks up the 25 cts and puts 10 cts there and that's how you can tell they's married.

Yes an we're gona have a fine house for the Women's Club—and you had oughta seen 12 or 15 of our women making the dirt fly with spades and their hats on with lots of talk and I betcha this town has a swell club house

All ex-Kansans and visiting Kansans are invited to an all-day picnic at Orange County Park, six miles east of Orange, Calif., on Saturday, June 20.

Stanley O. Beery, president of the Michigan Society of Southern California, announces that that organization will hold a rally and dance at the Ebell clubhouse, 1719 South Figueroa Street, on Friday evening, June 19.

Prof. I. W. Barnett made the commencement address at the Brea Elementary Schools on Friday evening, June 5. Mr. Barnett will be principal of the Brea High School next session.

for us men to go to and dance and we're awful glad their building it. I am ain't you?

How's this for poetry:

Floyd is the name of a certain young man,
Who's settin' married on the installment plan.
His friends in the very kindest way
Took him out for a ride yesterday.
They paid no attention to his tale or wall
But slipped on the cuffs and put him in jail;
Hauled him about town in a great big cage,
While Iris, poor thing—stamped her foot in a rage.
But Mr. and Mrs. Parker are happy today.
Oh, it's great to be married—I'll say!

Don't blame you folks for being glad our editor is off on a trip—so am I—besides just see what fine literature you've been missing—also some one said King had a awful night the first night away—couldn't sleep—cause the shade was up and Sam says, why didn't you pull it down, and he says it was across the aisle.

For enjoying outings Lawrence Crowell's got 'em all beat, and a very dear old lady writes and says: Dear Lawrence—I do wish that you wouldn't shoot the little craps. Remember they love life as well as you.

Hurum is forgiven.—But Rufus—RAZZZZZZZZZZZ.—The Bus. Mgr.
