Inspiring Business Session Held at Wilmington on Friday

The P.-T.-A. presidents of Section D held their regular monthly conference at the Fries Avenue School in Wilmington last Friday, with Mrs. Gordon L. Groves, councillor, in the chair.
An inspiring business session was followed by a charming luncheon at the home of Mrs. L. A. Hartman, with the Fries Avenue, Gulf Avenue and Canal Avenue Parent-Teacher Associations as co-hostesses. During luncheon an excellent program of readings, vocal, cornet and whistling solos was presented by pupils of the several schools.

Local P.-T.-A. workers present included Mrs. Groves, councillor; Mrs. A. F. Welton, subcouncillor; Mrs. George P. Shidler, Mrs. O. W. Thistle, and Mrs. A. E. Asplitt, presidents of Torrance, Narbonne, and Harbor City P.-T.-A.'s; Mrs. H. B. Linderman, membership chairman, Section D; Mrs. C. H. Meers, magazine chairman, Section D; and Mrs. E. K. Lynne, reporter, Section D.

High School Play Is Well Received; Students Grateful

(By Journalism Class)
Torrance High School is very much gratified that the musical comedy "Pickles" won much approval from a large, enthusiastic audience.
Since this is the first time that "Pickles" has been produced by a high school cast, we are especially proud that it was a success.
Members from the high schools of Anaheim, Burbank, Belmont and Gardena were present, because they have selected this opera for production in their schools.
The people of Torrance supported the school with a large attendance and the glee clubs appreciate this loyalty. It is anticipated that a goodly sum will be added to the treasury.

Miss Lingenfelter's branch of the freshman class are to give a pay and-call Wednesday, Nov. 25. Jerome Shaffer, musician, humorist, lecturer and impersonator, will furnish the entertainment.
The basketball teams are practicing with enthusiasm for the coming season. It is anticipated that there will be four teams, the members of which are to be selected soon.

Weekend visitors at the P. O. Mencham ranch at Escondido were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dearborn, and Ed Anberg.

Local people who attended the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Bellflower Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Christian, Miss Edith S. Smith, Miss Ruth Greenlund, and Hugo F. Schmidt.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson have moved from the Chandler home on 261st street to San Pedro. Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Mary Gore, has moved with them.

OBSERVATIONS

he was emphatic in the belief that too much government in business hurts more than it helps.
Reading between the lines of the address, one concludes that the pressure brought to bear on the President by representatives of business—which means corporations, labor and farm organizations—is great and continuous. The President did not say so but he intimated as much. He stated succinctly that in his mind men in government know more about government than men in business.
DID you read the President's speech or "just the headlines"? If you don't read President's addresses, can you vote intelligently at the next national election?
