"Just for Fun"

By RAS BERRY

FOR SALE—One big dawg of the Gt. Dane variety. Owner spent so much money buying lumber to build dawg house that he has got to sell dawg to pay lumber bill. See me and you can get a good dawg cheap.—ADV.

FOR SALE—Four nice little cats. Several folks who asked for one of them cats has went back on their wds. If owner sells dawg mentioned above for more than dawg house lumber cost will pay to get them cats off his hands.—ADV.

Sam Levy is just recovering from a series of boils and the bus. mgr. says he guesses Sam is a warm baby and is just boiling over.

Sam says they ain't no bunk in carbuncle.

They moved a big house out to a lot on Redondo Blvd. and a little girl here in town says Mama see the big house they moved out here on roller skates.

The boys is all giving me the royal razz because this paper didn't have nothing to say about the bowling contests which was had recently between the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. So will say at this time that the reason I didn't mention them was because the Kiwanis bowlers beat the Rotary ones so bad. Each club had two teams and the four teams rolled vs. each other on two nights for a total of 12 games and the Kiwanis bowlers win every one of the twelve games.—If you multiply their score by two.

Just the same it don't make no difference who win, because the boys had a lot of fun and nobody was hurt.

Roy McFarland says these here fogs ain't much good for the ice man because he says folks go out in the morning and chop out a hunk of fog and put it in the ice-box.

Geo. Proctor he presided at a meeting held for merchants by the C. of C. and he addresses the audience like this: Ladies and Gents like Barbery and Al Bond and Charlie Tansy never done nothing. Al says he regards George's words as a cutting remark.

Thornton Ross, the economist who made the survey of Torrance, he spoke at the meeting and before the meeting he bought a new overcoat from Sam Levy and left it in his car and during the meeting he says I hope nobody stole that overcoat from out of the car and Sam says well if they did I won't send you no bill, I'll send it to the police dept.

Eighteen Babies Are Examined at Education Center

Eighteen babies were examined at the Mothers' Educational Center Friday morning of last week, and much interest and satisfaction was manifested by the mothers present. Children up to the age of 6 years are examined by Dr. Greenbaum (nutrition), Dr. Key (posture and growth handicaps), and Dr. Wilde, who has charge of character building and conduct. Mrs. W. Muller of Los Angeles also assisted. Three of the children were referred to their local family physicians for attention. One mother, who has been coming to the center for the past three years with a charming, healthy daughter, this day arrived with a bright-eyed baby boy for examination, so that he too may receive proper care and bring-up.

The next meeting will be Friday morning, March 5, from 10 to 12 a.m., at the same place. All mothers are invited to bring their children, as it is a splendid opportunity, offered them, for the purposes of this center are to raise to the highest pinnacle the profession of motherhood; also to insure children their right to the fullest potential development mentally, morally and physically through educating the mothers. The service does not invade the field of medicine.

Another interesting and instructive feature of the next meeting will be the Paidology class, conducted by Dr. Wilde. This lecture will be from 11 to 12.

Gibson, MacLean Denny, Lew Cody Films Will Show

Torrance Theatre Bookings Listed for the Coming Week

A herd of 10,000 head of buffalo was stampeded for one of the spectacular scenes in "The Calgary Stampede," a Universal-Jewel starring Hoot Gibson, which is coming to the Torrance Theatre Thursday and Friday. Every scene in the picture was shot in Canada. Virginia Brown Faire plays the feminine lead, while others are Philo McCullough, Ena Gregory, Ynes Seabury, Frank Rice, Clark Comstock, Jim Corey, Charles Sellon, W. J. McCulley, Tex Young, and Bill Gillis.

Baldpate Inn, perhaps the best known hostelry in the United States, was reconstructed by Douglas MacLean for his current Paramount picture, "Seven Keys to Baldpate," to be shown Saturday at the Torrance.

Because of the tremendous popularity of the original George M. Cohan farce, it is estimated that more people have seen the interior of Baldpate Inn than have ever inspected the interior of any real hotel in the country. In planning the motion picture construction of this mythical inn MacLean decided to follow the general floor plan and style of architecture which was used for the original stage setting. Because of the greater possibilities of the camera, however, it was possible to enlarge the main lobby considerably and add bedrooms, dining room, corridors, and furnace room, all of which serve as background for the augmented action of the picture version of the Cohan comedy.

In "What Happened to Jones," the latest Universal-Jewel, coming to the Torrance Theatre Sunday and Monday, Reginald Denny impersonates a woman for several important sequences. Being a master of all the manly spots, an athlete, yachtsman and expert racing driver, the star had an awful time in trying to perfect his characterization. But Marian Nixon, his leading lady, came to the rescue, and gave him several hours instruction in the manly art of being a woman. That she is a good teacher, or Denny a good pupil, is evident on viewing the scenes on the screen.

"His Secretary," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture coming to the Torrance Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, tells the story of stenographers and their employers, as the title indicates. Norma Shearer plays one of the stenographers and Lew Cody and Willard Louis her employers. It is a Hobart Henley production.

Mrs. Mary Jessome and Mrs. J. V. Murray, of Andree avenue, were Hollywood visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Rose Bell of Alhambra was a weekend guest of her daughter, Mrs. L. J. Acree, of Gramercy avenue.

Miss Ellen Young of Los Angeles was entertained over the weekend at the home of her brother, Forrest J. Young, of Cota avenue.

Dance, Feb. 13, Odd Fellows hall, Lomita. Pickell's orchestra.—Adv.
