'Stella Dallas,' Greatest Film Of Year, Coming to Torrance Theatre for 4 Days Next Week

"Stella Dallas," Samuel Goldwyn's first photoplay production for United Artists Corporation, might well be called "the great American photodrama." This picture is a masterpiece of the art of the screen. It is a story of a woman who has given the world an endless succession of masterful cinematic offerings, including "The White Sister," "The White Slave," and "The White Slave." In "Stella Dallas," which comes to the Torrance Theatre for four days starting Sunday, Mr. King has put forth his best efforts, and surrounded his principals with minor players of unusual ability, until the story, read by millions, is said to live before one's eyes.

Belle Bennett, well known actress of stage and screen, was chosen for the title role from a field of 73 interesting possibilities. Tests were made of that number of capable players in Hollywood and New York before a choice was made. Miss Bennett was the only one who seemed the very incarnation of "Stella."

Ronald Colman, as Stephen Dallas, seems also to fit the part perfectly. As the debonair man about town he always registers with great success, and this role gives him opportunity for much more than the usual amount of dramatic accomplishment. Alice Joyce, as Helen Morrison, completes the interesting triangle. As the refined and wealthy widow, whose charms supplant the neglected ones of Stella in Dallas' affections, she has rarely if ever enjoyed a more telling characterization.

The juvenile leads are in the capable hands of Lois Moran and Douglas Fairbanks Jr. Miss Moran is the 16-year-old child wonder discovery of Samuel Goldwyn's while recently in Paris. She is a native American, however, and in this, her first American screen effort, interprets the difficult role of Laurel Dallas in a masterly and which is irresistible, foretelling a future of unlimited possibilities for the little lady.

Tom Meighan in his latest Paramount production, "The New Klondike," which comes to the Torrance Theatre Thursday and Friday, has the part of a baseball player who, when he arrives in Florida for the pre-season training, is fired because of his manager's jealousy.

Innocently enough, he is sucked into the real estate vortex which is taking place in that hectic country, and is soon made wealthy beyond his wildest dreams. Then, when everything looks rosy things start to happen; but if you want to find out what comes next—you'd better make it your business to go to "The New Klondike."

Peter B. Kyne, author of "The Golden Strain," a Fox production, which comes to the Torrance Theatre Saturday, is one of the speediest fiction writers in America. Mr. Kyne often writes from six to ten hours at a stretch, frequently from ten to fifteen hours. Twice he has written over 13,000 words in twelve hours. The author types his own copy and then has his secretary retype it. Most of his short stories are hammered out in two sessions at the "mill."

Garvin Sisters at Torrance

Headliners at the Torrance Theatre for Saturday, June 12, are the Garvin Sisters. These artists have appeared recently on leading theatrical circuits in the east and have contracts for many of the leading vaudeville houses in the west. They present the very latest in the terpsichorean art and have selected for their appearance here a whirlwind Charleston flash, which always brings a riot of applause and is especially appreciated by lovers of good clean dancing. "Little Alma" Garvin, one of the talented trio, may well be remembered by radio enthusiasts as "California's Child Nightingale," having broadcast over all the Los Angeles stations a few years ago. The Garvin Sisters offer an unusual act—a treat that should not be missed.

Ten Winners at Big Race Ride On Firestones

Firestone full-size gum-dipped balloon tires again made a remarkable showing in the Indianapolis Speedway classic on Memorial Day, when all ten winners participating "in the money" rode on these tires. This is the second time balloon tires were used in the great Speedway event, the first being last year, when Peter DePaolo on Firestone full-size gum-dipped balloons made a new world's record at an average speed of 101.13 miles per hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter Murphy of Arizona street were weekend visitors in Triunfo Canyon, guests of Dr. and Mrs. George Dyck of Long Beach.

LOCAL NOTES

Sunday visitors at the H. G. Randles home on Pennsylvania avenue were Mr. and Mrs. Dannels of Redondo Beach. E. D. Northrop was home from Delmar over the weekend. Mrs. Ella Tonkin of Beacon street has returned from a week's visit with relatives in Los Angeles and South Pasadena. Mrs. W. F. Dudley of Monterey Park was a house guest last week of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Thompson, of Redondo boulevard. Mrs. Fred Nelson of Weston street joined a party of relatives on a trip to Newhall Friday.

Ethel Barrymore On Orpheum Bill For Next Week

Famous Actress Will Give Barry Playlet, 'Twelve Pound Look'

Ethel Barrymore, after two years absence from Los Angeles, will again provide the theatrical event of the season by presenting James M. Barrie's notable playlet, "The Twelve Pound Look" at the Orpheum Monday, June 14. After a season in Shakespearean roles in New York this most noted American stage star is touring the Orpheum in this popular Barrie sketch. She will be supported in the offering by Harry Filmer, Olive Graham and James Kearney. Miss Barrymore is the one remaining outstanding woman personality of the American stage, and on her occasional tours of the Orpheum huge crowds attest the fact that she still holds the favor of everyone.

Other outstanding features on the new bill will include Ernest H. Ball, the noted composer, and his company of artists, in a novel offering, "A Vaudeville Musical"; "Wee" Georgie Wood, the Ester Pan of vaudeville, in a boyhood playlet, "His Black Hand"; and Venita Gould, the distinguished American impersonator. Percy Bronson and Recital, and Gary Lynn will provide another entertaining spot on the new bill. Betancourt and Company and the Four Karreys will conclude the incoming show.

WEST VIRGINIA PICNIC

All who ever lived in West Virginia are invited to a great picnic reunion all day Saturday, June 19, in Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles.
