Easter Sunrise Service at Coliseum To Attract Throngs

As the sun breaks into the first story of a new Easter dawn, Los Angeles and her suburbs will unite in singing their hymns of praise at the great open-air devotional service to be held for the fourth consecutive year in the Exposition Park Coliseum April 17.

Forgetful of race or creed, the tens of thousands will greet as one the Easter message to be interpreted for them by Dr. James A. B. Scherer, director of the Southwest Museum, one of the world's most noted authorities on the Far East and an orator and educator of renown.

"Easter as a Symbol of New Light for the Entire World" will be the general theme adopted by Dr. Scherer. In an address which promises to be an inspirational Rite, he is nonsectarian. Dr. Scherer is particularly well known in Southern California as the educational leader who between the years 1908 and 1920 reorganized the old through Institute into the present California Institute of Technology. The world's most beautiful music, chosen from the classical masters of the ages, will lend an added note of reverence to the devotions, when the nearly 100 members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra play a number of selections under the leadership of Emil Oberhoffer, who is now conducting the philharmonic orchestra here. He will assist Los Angeles in greeting the Easter Day for the first time, as Walter Henry Rothwell, until his recent death leader of the philharmonic orchestra, has been one of the guiding spirits of the service. Oberhoffer is well acquainted with the demands of a Los Angeles audience through his one year as conductor at the Hollywood bowl.

The program is being arranged by a joint committee from the Community Development Association and the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Chevrolet Meet Is Attended By 2 Torrance Men

Big Company Celebrates a Record-Breaking Production Schedule

Top: R. H. Grant; middle, H. J. Klingler; below, E. W. Fuhr.

Sweeping along on a wave of prosperity that extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and with a production schedule that accounts for a new car or truck every nine seconds of the working day, the Chevrolet Motor Company is continuing its great record begun in the first of the year, January sales exceeding all previous Januarys, and February breaking all records since the organization of the company with the distribution of almost 86,000 units. Reports for March indicate even this high mark will be exceeded by a good margin.

Co-incident with this record-breaking sweep of sales, and with Chevrolet leading all other makes in sales in many of the leading automotive centers of the country, officials of the Chevrolet Motor Company are touring the country and holding meetings at central points attended by dealers and their bankers from towns and cities of the surrounding territory. The purpose of these meetings is to familiarize the dealers with the plans and methods of the factory departments, to bring the factory, as it were, closer to the dealer and his problems, and to familiarize the dealer's banker with the methods and plans of the Chevrolet Company and its relations to the dealer.

April 5 was the date set for the Los Angeles meeting. Jack Hanson and Ed Nelson of Torrance attended.

At the head of the party is R. H. Grant, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, considered the outstanding sales executive of the present day. With him in the party are H. J. Klingler, assistant general sales manager; R. K. White, manager of the Chevrolet factory sales promotion division, and W. G.

Veterans Urged Not to Borrow

SAN FRANCISCO.—Urging World War veterans not to borrow on their adjusted compensation certificates unless in dire need, Earl E. Jensen, state chairman of the veterans' rehabilitation committee of the American Legion and chairman of the state board in charge of California institutes, has issued an appeal to his California comrades.

"Your bonus certificate," as it is commonly known, "advises Jensen, 'is a nest-egg for your old age, and is payable in 1945. The average loan that can be made now is in the neighborhood of $300; the interest on such loan will be compounded at 6 percent annually, and in 1945 would amount to more than $250. The prudent veteran will not borrow on his certificate unless he knows that he can repay or unless he is in real need. We in the Legion are urging our comrades not to borrow this sum, thought intended for later needs when their earning capacity has been lessened," Jensen states.

LOTS OF DODGES

More Dodge Brothers motor cars are registered in Johannesburg, South Africa, than any other make, according to the last report of the office of census and statistics of the Union of South Africa. In the whole of South Africa 71,694 gear-shift cars are registered. Of these $101, or nearly one-sixth, are Dodge Brothers vehicles. Registrations of Dodge Brothers cars exceed by 22 percent those of the nearest competitor in the gear-shift class.

case. But if any of us—supposedly her friends—had inserted themselves in here to carry on police surveillance, using me to get them in—well, I'd not think that all right."

Joe leaned over the banister. His control wavered, his voice hoarsely urgent:

"You've got to be fair, Bassett, and because you're sorry for her is no reason to set her word against mine. It's not true. Don't you believe me?"

Bassett did not answer for a moment. He wanted to believe, and he doubted; he thought of Joe's tone to come, of the reward.

"I guess you know, Joe, you can trust me to be fair, but I'm not going to commit myself till I know. It won't be hard to go that, I can find out when I get back to New York. And take this from me—if what Sybil says is true I'm done with you. No more help from me, no more work in any company I manage. And I fancy the whole theatrical profession will feel the same way."

He drew back from the stair-foot. The disagreeable interview was over. "There's no good talking any more about it. Accusations and denials don't get us anywhere. We'll let it rest till I've made my inquiries. I'll say good-bye now, and hope you'll have a good time in the woods."

He turned and walked up the hall to his room on the garden front next the Stokes'. Joe gathered his luggage and went the opposite way, down the hall and into the big central apartment. At the entrance door he set down his luggage, and as he bent over it a mischievous stream of curses flowed from his lips. He cursed Bassett and his luck, but Sybil with a savage variety of epithet and choice of misfortune, for she had undone him. Straightening up, he looked blankly about—his inner turmoil was such he hardly knew where he was—and he retraced his steps, seeking the seclusion of his room, went up the stairs in noiseless gaiting strides like a frightened spider climbing to its web.

(To Be Continued)

Lewellen, his assistant; W. A. Bles, manager of the Chevrolet & present certificate division; Sidney Corbett, manager of the truck and fleet division; J. P. Little, manager of the parts and service division, and his assistant, W. G. Frazer; J. E. Grimm Jr., advertising manager of the company; together with regional and zone executives of the company who join the party as it enters their respective domains, and bid them good-bye as they pass on to the next division at the borderland. When the big tour is completed the last of April, it is estimated that more than 15,000 dealers and bankers will have attended these meetings in more than a score of cities.
