All Legionnaires here are urged to attend.

Lou Deininger, bowling impresario is organizing a Legion bowling team. War vets who can bowl should see him. He is usually to be found in the back doorway of the postoffice.

Jim Jamieson was greeted with a burst of applause Tuesday night when he volunteered to shoulder the heavy burden of house committee chairman for the post. Since his great success with the Armistice Day program Jim has become the post's chief burden bearer.

Mussolini Is in Lomita Picture—But He's a Horse

Mussolini is in the movies but he's a horse and not the dictator in this instance.

For the filming of "Loves of Ricardo" to be shown Sunday and Monday at the Lomita theatre and starring George Beban, the latter, who directed and wrote this story, required a simple, honest type of working horse. He rented one from an Italian and after the deal was over asked the horse's name. "Mussolini," said the owner proudly, "he one tough bambino and no one dictate to him. He do lak he please." So Mussolini is in the movies.

As Ricardo Bitelli, George Beban appears in one of the most moving and appealing of all his great heart interest roles.
