Handsome Styling Is Given to the Quilted Negligee

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

OF ALL the alluring themes which have to do with "what to wear" perhaps none is of more fascinating appeal to most women than that which concerns dainty boudoir apparel. The more tailored milder appears in the daytime hours the more completely does she react to the luxury of prettily feminine attire within the environs of home. With due appreciation of the fascinations of the ultra-fashionable pajama costume which when it comes to gorgeousness and exotic display has no peer, with all admiration for the exquisite estheticism of trailing lace-laden and herbombed negligees, all must agree that, from the standpoint of solid comfort, there is no garment comparable to the quilted robe of downy silken softness. Just at this season of the year when spring gives promise while winter continues to "stand by," the chill of morning and evening is forgotten by fortunate enraptured in robes similar to the model portrayed in the illustration. The charming styling given to this "comfy" lounging robe is another "reason why" its presence is warranted within every perfectly appointed wardrobe of boudoir apparel. There is that about this robe which contradicts any suggestion of clumsiness, a feature which is characteristic of all modern quiltings. Like everything else in the mode this charming robe reflects the influence of this age of glittering metallics in which we now live, in that it is collared and cuffed with a broad gold embroidered galloon trimming. This is a decidedly new detailing for the up-to-date quilted robe, which gives it the prestige of the ultrachic. Quilted bed-jackets, too, are meeting with flattering reception, for they fill a long-felt want. They are as daintily constructed as one can imagine, and come in exquisite colorings. The flair for things quilted is not confined to housewives, it appears, for nowadays the boudoir boasts a whole list of furnishings which are hand quilted, especially sets of nightgown and handkerchief cases matched to a downy scalloped-edge coverlet. As to quilted pillows, they repose in every available niche of the home. (© 1928, Western Newspaper Union.)

Keystone Notes

Mrs. Z. W. Jennings and daughter, Barbara Jean of Glendale spent Thursday and Friday at the home of her mother, Mrs. P. Piper on Figueroa street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Pierce and family were entertained at the home of Mrs. Pierce's brother, A. Clement and family in Los Angeles Wednesday evening and while there they went through the Goodrich tire plant where Mr. Clemmer is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Tannehill of Dolores street attended a miscellaneous house warming on Monday evening at the home of T. Severton in Harbor City.

Carson street school kept open house Friday evening when the rooms were open to the public with exhibitions of the school work in the various rooms which was a credit to the children and their teachers, which included art work, sand tables, and other phases of school work. Much enthusiasm was shown over the work done in the study rooms and the home economics building where samples of sewing and carpentry were on display. At eight o'clock a program was given by the children which follows: Soldiers March by kindergarten and first grade; parasol song by second grade; the big brown bear by second grade; garden songs by third grade; thrift play by fourth grade; the tea party by fifth grade; folk dance by sixth grade; piano solo by Ruthie Nahmens, "Sonatina," by Beethoven; songs by seventh and eighth grades.

Mr. H. O. Niles representing the Board of Education gave an interesting speech on the needs of the bond issue, giving the data on the rapid increase in the enrollment in the Los Angeles City schools from year to year.

Average on Dolores street, formerly owned by Charles Jenoch of Amelia street has been sold to the Southern California Edison Co., who plan to erect a substation, it is rumored. Three acres on the corner of Figueroa street and Amelia owned by D. A. Shaw have been purchased by Mr. Sanderson of Wilmington. J. R. Black, realtor, of Main street reports these two sales.

On Tuesday, May 8, the regular monthly meeting of the principals of the harbor district schools will be held at Carson street school. Mr. Vierling Kersey will address the members and luncheon will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Schaeffer of Wilmington were guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. George Tomlin at their home on Amelia street.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Nahmens and family were entertained Sunday at the home of Mrs. Nahmens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Nahmens of Loma avenue, Long Beach, in celebration of Mr. George Nahmens' birthday.

On Wednesday of this week the sewing class of the Carson street Parent-Teachers' Association will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe DIMASSA on Main street for an all day session of sewing. At noon a delicious Italian luncheon will be served by the hostess, the proceeds to swell the funds of the Association. Next Wednesday, May 9, the ladies will meet at the Home Economics building to sew and will adjourn at two o'clock to the auditorium where the regular monthly business meeting will be held. Grandmothers' day will be observed and a P.-T.-A. pin will be given to the oldest P.-T.-A. grandmother present. The election of officers will take place at this meeting for the ensuing year and all members are urged to be present.

Miss Frances Lippinck has returned from a trip to Trinidad, Colorado, where she was very suddenly called following an automobile accident in which her sister and brother-in-law figured. Her brother-in-law, Frank Kabuda was killed and Mrs. Kabuda and baby daughter, Lucille, returned with Miss Lippinck.

Miss Ruthie Nahmens, and Miss Loretta Mummah and brother, Lawrence spent Saturday in Long Beach at the plunge.

Miss Gertrude Bennett of Wilmington visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Tomlin at their home on Amelia street, Tuesday evening.

The children of Carson street school will attend a track meet at Torrance High School on Wednesday, May 9, when other schools entering will be Moneta, Gardena, Dominguez, and Torrance Elementary.

Hales at their home in Long Beach Thursday evening when they entertained friends with a five hundred party, and on Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Tannehill attended a picnic on the sands of Long Beach when twenty ladies of the auxiliary of the American Legion had their outing.

The regular meeting of the Crochet club was postponed last week and will be held this week Thursday at the home of Mrs. E. H. H. spent in sociability following a delicious luncheon at one o'clock.

Hundreds Attend Opening of Cafe

More than 1200 attended the Opening of Earl's Cafe and Coffee shop on Cabrillo avenue last Saturday night.

Flowers in profusion indicated the enthusiasm of Mr. Conner's many friends over his new enterprise. Almost 600 dinners were served and hundreds attended the dancing party.

The event was one of the most successful openings in the history of Torrance business, according to pioneers of the city. "We are delighted," said Mr. Conner. "We wish we could thank every one personally for their enthusiasm and attendance. We expected a successful opening, but our expectations were greatly exceeded. The big crowd which attended sold me on newspaper advertising. We advertised the opening exclusively in The Torrance Herald and Lomita News. We did not send out special invitations. The results we obtained prove that advertisers here have a medium in the local newspapers which will reach the public."

A real plan service. Consolidated Lumber Co.—Adv.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shadday spent the week end in Victorville and Palm Springs.

A. W. Meisner of Meisner's Bakery has purchased two new half ton panel trucks from Allen H. Paul.
