SOCIETY

POPULAR TORRANCE COUPLE ARE WEDDED

On Wednesday evening, July 25, two of Torrance's most popular young people, Rosalind Eunice Anita, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Paige, and Thorval J. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Johnson, accompanied only by the immediate relatives of both parties, slipped quietly away from friends, and at Clifton-by-the-Sea were united in marriage at the parsonage of the Rev. George Street Rev. Street is an old-time friend of the bride's family, the friendship dating from his installation as pastor of the Central Evangelical church of Torrance in 1917, with Mrs. Paige, director of his church choir for four years.

The bridal couple stood before a lovely picture window framed in flowers and vines, overlooking the sea; the ring service was impressively read, while the ever lovely "O Promise Me" softly played by Miss Loma Kiser, added a musical background to the ceremony. A reception for relatives from out of town followed at the home of the bride's parents, 1031 Arlington avenue, where the bridal couple, beneath a bower of snowy bells and ribbons, and amid huge floral offerings from loving friends, received felicitations. Much fun was occasioned later when the bridal couple found the way to their new home impeded by a crowd. Thereupon a "fake" bride

Relief Association Sale Tomorrow

Many articles of clothing, new and used, and household equipment will be found on sale tomorrow and Saturday at the headquarters of the Relief Association, 1405 Cabrillo avenue. The work of this splendid organization is well known to the people of Torrance as providing a means by which worthy families in straitened circumstances can provide for their needs at very moderate prices. Patronage of this sale will accomplish two desired results, the furnishing of wanted articles to the people and the replenishing of the treasury of the association. The public in general is invited to visit headquarters during the next two days.

Torrance Booth at Expo. Attracts

The Torrance booth at the Pacific Southwest Exposition is located in the Commercial Land building on the main thoroughfare and but a few feet from the entrance. With the huge Neon sign that will later be used on one of the main roads leading into Torrance above it, the booth presents an outstanding appearance. Products of the various local industries will be found there, as well as photographs and drawings of the town. A register is there, and all visitors are asked to register in it. Members of the Torrance Women's Club are in charge of the booth.

Playground Here Drawing Crowds

The summer playground at the elementary and high school grounds under the supervision of H. A. Grindley, an experienced director, is vastly popular this year. The grounds open at noon and close at 6 p. m. Many games are being featured this summer such as paddle tennis, over-the-line and others. Some good tennis players are being developed, and the indoor teams are going good, having piled up good scores against Lomita. Mr. Grindley is desirous not only to have older folks on the grounds, but is especially anxious for the little tots to come. The little ones are enjoying the daily story hour at 1:30 p. m. every day. Next Saturday Miss Burns, the story telling director for the city schools will tell stories at 1 p. m. This will be a special treat.

Hugh B. Lawrence Says:

"To serve, not to boss—that should be the motto of all public officials."

"An office holder is a servant of the people and nothing else during his tenure of office."

"Courtesy combined with efficiency, honesty and good sense on the part of public officials, inevitably results in co-operation and good will from the people. Under such conditions the electors gain greater confidence and become interested in their units of government and after a time there develops a spirit of harmony that is idealistic."

"One of the reasons why thousands of people do not vote is because they have lost confidence in public officials. That condition is deplorable. It can be remedied by a change of attitude on the part of office holders."

Mr. Lawrence is a candidate for county supervisor from the fourth district. He is the present mayor of Inglewood and has conducted that office so well that he is expected to receive practically the unanimous vote of that city and neighboring communities at the August primaries.
