SCHOOL NEWS

NARBONNE HIGH
Narbonne had her first girls playday Wednesday, January 9, when the Gaiety girls acted as hostesses to the girls of three neighboring high schools—Banning, San Pedro and Gardena. The playday was originally scheduled for the Wednesday of Thanksgiving Week, but had to be postponed because of the influenza epidemic.

Tournaments were staged in basketball, volleyball, soccer and baseball, tennis and horseshoes. The boys under the direction of Mr. Comrada had been marking off the courts, and the new turf field was ready to receive its visitors. Following the games, there was a program of dances and stunts and the girls were then served refreshments in the cafeteria. Miss Maxson was in charge of the playday, and had appointed Geraldine Draffen as general chairman.

The B12's and A11's are spending their Saturdays posing for pictures. All senior pictures for the annual are scheduled to be taken in January at the Lindberg studio in Inglewood.

The junior play, "The Patsy", which was presented in the Narbonne auditorium December 14, was a financial as well as a dramatic success. Over $200 was taken in, of which a portion will be used for the reception given by the juniors to the seniors next semester.

Journalism will be offered as a solid for the first time next semester, and may be taken as an elective in the senior year or substituted for B11 English.

"Miss Cherryblossom," the operetta which will be presented in the Narbonne auditorium the night of Friday, February 16, shows promise of becoming a finished production. The cast, under the direction of Miss Van Matre of the music department, has been working faithfully, even coming during vacation for practice.

Eda Bunge as Miss Cherryblossom, should fit charmingly into the gaily colored setting of a Japanese, and Richard Jenkins in the role of John Henry Smith promises to be a most fascinating wooer. There will be three choruses, one of college boys, one of American girls, and a gelsia chorus composed of girls from the eighth grade. Miss Van Matre has chosen those who will appear in the choruses. Boys who are taking part in the college chorus are: Darrell Wolverton, Harry Haslam, George Robinson, Earl Starkey, Cyril Ables, Dale Gordon, Robert Shultz, Robert West, John Powers, Charles Stamps and Leroy Golding.

The girls from the glee club who make up the American chorus are: Anita Brown, Ida Evans, Ruth Miller, Nina Larson, Alice Trefethen, Estelle LaPorte, Juanita Pettit, Eunice Grosseup, Hilda Robertshaw, Mabel Sneed, Mary Lichens, Louise Openshaw, Lora Johnson, Rowena Baldwin, Elizabeth Myerscough, Helen Hobbs, Jean McLellan and Edna McCulliston. Mimmie Ekman is the pianist.

The boys on the stage crew, with their advisor, Mr. Willebrandt, are busy at work on scenery for the operetta.

The banquet for the A9 class will be given this evening in the cafeteria, with Miss Riley and Miss Ahrens in charge.

Miss Leonhardy of the psychology department was expected at the school today to go over the work for the year.

On Saturday there will be a regional meeting of the California Federation of Scholarship societies.

There will be a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary next Tuesday evening.
