School Notes

HIGH SCHOOL

Students from the music appreciation class at Torrance High school attended the concert given by the Philharmonic Symphony orchestra at Los Angeles Friday.

The students were fortunate in hearing the compositions played that they have been studying in class this term.

The seventh grade has just completed an interesting study of maps of the United States and Hawaii.

Seniors held a class meeting last week to decide on the class name and to appoint a committee to make the class banner. On the committee chosen are Joe Townsend, Nyla Tansey, Joe Lupo and Fern Stevens.

Graduation clothing was also discussed, but no decision made.

100 Shrine Temples Will Send Uniformed Units to L.A. in June

More than 100 Shrine temples, located in every section of the United States, are expected to send delegations of uniformed bodies to the 55th annual Shrine convention in Los Angeles June 4, 5, and 6. Pledges have been received from 76 temples to date and new promises are being wired daily to Shrine headquarters here, according to Leo Roy M. Edwards, director general of the conclave.

The uniformed bodies will take an active part in many convention events, chiefly the two big dress parades which will be staged on Tuesday morning, June 4, and Wednesday night, June 5. Garbed in the colorful uniforms of their order, thousands of Shriners will march in these parades. The night parade will be made more spectacular by hundreds of illuminated novelties which will be carried by some of the patrols.

The Los Angeles Coliseum, to be the scene of the Shrine activities, is more than half sold out already. Public sale of season tickets, costing $5.50 and reserving seats for the $1,000,000 motion picture electrical pageant, four performances of the Circus Maximus, and the two dress parades, which will be conducted almost entirely to the Coliseum arena, opened Monday at the B. H. Dyas stores in Los Angeles and Hollywood.

Artists' Course Draws Notables

Reservations for Behymer Events Next Season Being Taken Now

Reservations are already being made for subscriptions to next season's Behymer Philharmonic Artist Course.

The list of artists is a brilliant one and no efforts have been spared to make the coming season commensurate with the cultural and artistic development of this great metropolis of the Southland.

"The public wants the best in art and music and I am more than anxious to do my share and present the best obtainable," says L. E. Behymer, veteran impresario.

Though the roster has not been completed yet, the following artists have been secured for their local appearance: John Charles Thomas and Lawrence Tibbett, two popular baritone voices; Paul Kochanski, Polish violinist; Ignaz Friedman, eminent pianist; The English Singers, who scored triumphs since their last appearance here; Tito Schipa and John McCormack, two idols of the American public, will also make their reappearance; Mary Lewis; Ernestina Giannini, gorgeous singer who has been climbing high among the world's great sopranos, will share honors with Sigrid Onegin, superb contralto; Efrem Zimbalist, violinist; Beniamino Gigli, dramatic tenor; Patricia MacDonell, singer of Italian songs; and Myra Hess, acclaimed greatest woman pianist of today. Among those coming will also be La Argentina and Kreutzberg and Geralt, the dancers who have created such a furore in the East; Galli Curci; Harold Bauer, the pianist; Yehudi Menuhin; Erna Rubenstein, violinist; Will Rogers; the Roth Quartet; Andrea Segovia, guitarist and Maude Scheerer.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1928-29 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

ARTICLE No. 18

In the preceding article a number of interesting hands, submitted by correspondents, were given and opinions asked as to the proper bids and play. Here are the solutions:

Answer to Problem No. 29

Hearts—A, K, 8
Clubs—A, K, 8, 6, 4, 2
Diamonds—none
Spades—K, 8, 7, 4

Hearts—10, 9, 5
Clubs—Q, 7, 3
Diamonds—5, 4, 2
Spades—Q, J, 5, 3

Hearts—Q, J, 4, 3
Clubs—10, 9
Diamonds—9, 8, 7, 6, 3
Spades—A, 9

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed and Y bid one club. If B passed, what should Z bid with the foregoing hand?

Z should bid one heart. If he does, A will bid two diamonds, Y will bid two hearts and all will pass. A will open the king of diamonds, which Y will trump with the eight of hearts. Y's best play is to lead the ace king and deuce of clubs, trumping the third round of clubs in Z's hand with the jack of hearts, thus shutting out Z. Z should now lead two rounds of hearts, winning both in Y's hand. Y should then place Z in the lead with the ace of spades so that he may lead his queen of hearts, thus taking out all of the trumps. Z should now lead the nine of spades, winning the trick in Y's hand with the king of spades. Y's three club tricks are now good; thus Y Z lose only one spade trick. This surprising hand is a most interesting one, both in the bidding and the play, so note it carefully.

Answer to Problem No. 21

Hearts—none
Clubs—A, Q, 10, 9, 7, 6, 3
Diamonds—Q, 9, 8
Spades—A, 10, 4

Y :
A B :
Z :

No score, rubber game. If Z dealt, bid one no trump and A passed, what should Y bid with the foregoing hand?

Y should bid two clubs. The hand is too unbalanced to justify its play as a cue bid. It is strong enough to offer a chance for game at clubs. If the partner should bid two no trump, Y should bid three clubs. If partner then bids three no trump, Y should pass. If partner should bid two hearts over Y's two club bid, Y should bid two no trump. If partner should bid two diamonds or two spades, Y should pass.

Don't hesitate to take out your partner's no trump bid when you have a singleton or a void suit, whether your long suit is a minor or a major. The usual distributions that warrant a take-out are 4-4-4-1; 5-4-3-1; 6-4-2-1; 5-5-2-1; 5-4-4-2; 7-3-2-1; 7-3-3-0, or any longer suit. Such take-outs are the so-called distribution take-outs and are being followed pretty generally.

If your partner knows that you take-out with a singleton or void suit, he usually can figure out the missing suit and then, if he thinks the no trump bid offers a better chance for game, he should bid two no trump. It is then up to you to decide whether you should go on with your bid or let the no trump bidder try for game. The purpose of all sound bidding is to find the suit that will best fit twenty-six cards, not thirteen, and the purpose can only be carried out by bidding. Don't hesitate to take-out your partner's no trump bid whenever you hold any of the distributions just specified.

Answer to Problem No. 22

Diamonds—K, J, 6
Spades—A, 7

Z :

Hearts—9, 8, 5, 2
Clubs—9, 6
Diamonds—10
Spades—K, Q, 9, 8, 6, 5

No score, rubber game. Z dealt and passed. A passed, Y bid one no trump, B bid two hearts, Z bid two spades and all passed. A opened a low heart which B won with the ace. B returned a low heart, and all followed suit. How should Z play the hand from there on?

Y's hand is in the lead. Z knows that B has both the ace queen of diamonds and the top hearts. Therefore, he should so plan the play that he can set up a diamond trick, if possible, and thus obtain one heart discard. The other losing heart he must trump in Y's hand.

An trick three, therefore, Y should lead the six of diamonds, which B must win with the queen, all following suit. B's best lead is a spade, which Y should win with the ace as A will play either the ten or jack. Y should now lead the jack of diamonds and B must play the ace. Z should trump this and lead a heart. A has no hearts so he can either overtrump Y's seven of spades or discard. In no way can Y Z should only lose one heart, one diamond and one spade trick at the most. It is a pretty hand and should be played out for practice. To do this properly, give B five hearts to the ace, five diamonds to the ace queen and then distribute the remaining cards in different ways.
