School Notes

HIGH SCHOOL The Varsity club of Torrance High School is laying plans for the first semi-formal dance ever held at Torrance High School.

Barnyard golf, otherwise the good old game of horseshoes, is very much in evidence this week as the boys are working for the playoff by the end of this week.

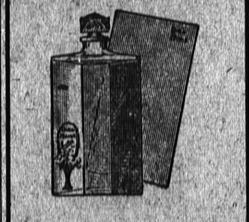

A token in the form of a gold horseshoe will be awarded the champion.

George M. Knapp of Los Angeles knicked down a small child Friday noon at 12:30, as he was backing his car out of the yard at the Japanese farm, 1 mile east of Torrance.

He picked up the child and rushed it to the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital, where doctors pronounced its injuries not serious.

See Majestic Radio in the Making, Here Alexander Has Special Factory Display of Unusual Interest

C. Alexander is inviting the public to his store at 1214 Sartori avenue and see the Majestic radio in the making. Mr. Alexander has just returned from Chicago where he was a guest at the big Majestic factory. He was so thrilled with the intricacies of radio making that he has been able to secure a special factory display showing the Majestic radio disassembled and in the making.

You will see the inside of the dynamic speaker with its 40,000 turns of wire, nearly eight miles long, and many other interesting articles that go to make up this popular radio receiver.

Mr. Alexander says the display will be in Torrance for four days more and is urging that everyone come and see it now.

Forrest McKinley is shipping today on the yacht "Happy Days" to San Diego. The yacht is owned by a millionaire newspaper owner.

An Appreciation

We desire in this way to express our very great appreciation and thanks to our many friends who helped us in word and deed during our long hours of anxious waiting. This applies in a special way to the good women who ministered in the home and to the men who searched with airplane and who patrolled the beach to recover the body of our son and brother, Howard, who slipped beneath the waters of Hermosa Beach on May 5.
