

The Atwater Kent Rocker Is Newest Radio Wrinkle

Radio enthusiasts may now have their Atwater Kent Screen-Grid sets installed in rockers, davenport and other pieces of household furniture, as indicated by this picture. The girl is Edythe Molin. The new Screen-Grid has proved so popular some owners are even building them in the walls of new homes to conserve space.

KEYSTONE NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. George Nahmens entertained Mr. Nahmens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Nahmens of Long Beach on Sunday, celebrating Mrs. George Nahmens' birthday. In the afternoon they all motored to Exposition Park where they visited the museum. Many beautiful gifts were received by Mrs. Nahmens from her family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Roque of Grace street were dinner hosts on Wednesday evening having as their guests: Mrs. Roque's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Everard and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Everard and daughter, Lydette of Pasadena.

Elwood Nahmens of Carson street spent last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Constable in Lamanda Park as the guest of their son, Jamie.

Shelby and Roland Sampson of Amelia street spent last week at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Dotzner in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Forrest and family of Amelia street and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pearson and family of Wilmington attended the seventh annual picnic and reunion of the Philanth class of the First Methodist church of Alhambra which was held on Saturday at Brookside Park. Mr. and Mrs. Forrest and family were dinner guests in the evening of Mr. and Mrs. Pearson at their home in Wilmington.

The first regular meeting of the Carson street Parent-Teacher association will be held on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at Carson street school. All members are urged to be present at this first meeting as several new officers will have to be elected to take the place of those on the board who have moved away during the summer months. Mrs. Charles M. Forrest, president, will preside.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tipton and family of Amelia street were dinner guests last night of Dr. and Mrs. L. E. Crowder in Glendale.

THE SARATOGA—DESIGN NO. 202

EXTENDED eaves and overlapping roofs always exert a peculiar appeal in that sort of bungalow popularly known as the California type. Especially when they are coupled with lots of porch room that wanders irregularly halfway around the house. This design illustrates the idea most pleasingly, and all of these features are provided here. It is one of our best and most attractive bungalow plans.

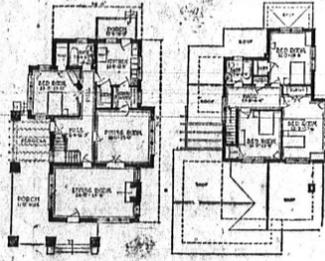

Here is a wonderful opportunity for landscaping effects if dwarfed shrubs are used and the taller growing varieties, where utilized, are kept cut down in conformity with the contour of the home. Boxwoods, which can be trimmed to any pattern, are especially fitted for the decorations, together with the smaller varieties of other evergreens.

In floor plan it is ideal. Across the front is the living room, 24 by 14 feet, with a big open fireplace at the end surmounted by a rugged brick mantel in warm colors. Directly behind it is the dining room, reached through an open arched doorway. This room is well lighted by a battery of three windows, and is itself 15 by 16 feet, amply large.

From the living room a hallway is reached leading back to a bed room at the left, looking out into the pergola at the rear of the porch and having an additional window battery of three affording cheerfulness and light to an unusual degree. In this hall is a coat closet. At the rear is the bath, and to the right, back of the dining room, the large kitchen, which is supplied with a rear porch.

On the second floor are three surprisingly large bed rooms and bath, each well supplied with closet room.

The Common Brick Manufacturers' Association, Cleveland, Ohio, can furnish complete drawings for this design. Landed in brick construction sent upon request.
