The bowling elimination contest held last Tuesday evening at the Angelus Alleys, Los Angeles, was well attended and a variety of scores were turned in, the scores ranging from 98 to 188 pins per game. We hope to see more elimination contests because the boys are improving in accuracy and form and it is hard to judge who are the best bowlers. Harry Hessler of the tool room turned in the highest average but we predict that he will be hard pushed to retain first place. Worthington of the engineering has good form and should be able to topple over plenty of wood as soon as he finds the groove. Another elimination contest will be held on Tuesday evening at the same alleys.

These elimination contests have stirred up considerable enthusiasm amongst the various departments and the challenges have been flying thick and fast. Mickey Owens and Todd have been having challenges at each other but so far no actual contests have been held. Perhaps they believe in that old maxim that "words are better than deeds."

The girls held their first practice on the same night that the boys held theirs. They went into a huddle and held a more or less secret practice and we could faintly see them in the distance as they would sneak up to the foul line and gently drop the ball with a bang. It would slowly roll down the alleys and we held our breath on several occasions for fear that it wouldn't reach the pins. One of the girls suggested that the pin boy should set the pins up in the gutters, or trenches as she chooses to call them, so that she would be sure to knock them over. In that case she could turn in a big score. However, the girls did very well for the first practice and Misses McKenzie, Madden, Brown, Doty and Price are to be congratulated on the initial attempt of the season.

Our foreign correspondent has been eavesdropping and relates that the girls are going to discard their high heeled slippers at the next contest. I wonder if they will play in their stocking feet. We have heard that the Misses Lewis, Harpur, Horton, Polick, Arbuckle, Powers, Severtson, Keener, Bucheneau and Hobbs will be out for the next practice game.

J. K. Kelley has returned from his vacation spent in the cosmopolitan city of San Francisco. He left here loaded down with nickels and we thought that he was going north to get a corner on fog since he can't seem to get enough of it down here. He reports that he didn't have time to do much else except visit friends and look on the wine when it is red.

The good looking Don Ainslee has returned from the desert sands of Kettleman Hills to delight the eyes of the blushing maidens. He has been sojourning there for the past few months and states that they have three major sports, one being that of shooting jack rabbits at night and the other two being those of eating and sleeping. His favorite sport was that of sleeping. At the present time he is holding down a desk at the order department.

At a theatre party at the Orpheum last Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Standifer, Frank Willis and Westley Austin got a big kick from the antics of White and Manning, burlesque acrobatic dancers. In fact we still hear their praises sung about these two clever artists who fall on their heads, nose and ears without making any appreciable impression on the floor. We tried it on the piano the other evening but met with poor success.

Ray Burdick reports a very good turnout at basketball practice. The boys had a stiff work-out and no casualties were reported with the exception of Milton Davidson, one of the stellar players, whose foot found a grain of sand in his shoe and the result was a large and painful blister on the bottom of said foot.

Big Bob Redmond came out for practice and the opposing teams may bar him from playing because all Bob has to do is to reach up and drop the ball in the basket. Now if McNamara would come out for practice why Ray would have a wonderful combination because Mae could stand on Bob's shoulders and the opposing team wouldn't have a chance.

That well known rancher, Jack Walters of the field electrical department, has motored to Arizona on his vacation where he is accepting offers on his property which lies in the territory of the Boulder Dam. We have rumors that a city may be built on Jack's property and if such is the case we will have to hurry and congratulate him so that we can get our fingers in the cigar box and draw out a good perfect.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Large were entertained at a house party at the home of H. Petruschke, 2415 South Elmpan, Los Angeles on Saturday evening. We failed to learn who carried off the honors at bridge.

The Knights of the Round Table gathered for their weekly session at the home of Jack Owens. Some of the boys seemed to be running in bad luck, so after a few hands, Jack served refreshments. Following this they all took firm hold on the elusive pastebards and made another effort but Dame Fortune still refused to knock at the doors of all except a favored few. Concerning refreshments, if you are inquisitive you might ask Bob Redmond how much a piece of apple pie costs. C. P. Gibson and Charley Bromwich carried off the honors but Charlie paid for his good fortune since he had to limp home on two cylinders. It seems that he was trying to use water instead of gas for motive power.

Sammy Johnson of the machine department is responsible for the following story:
 Mother: "You got everything all right, dear, but did you ask the grocer how he sold his hamburger cheese?"

 Johnny: "Yes, mother, and he said that's what he often wondered himself."
 Sammy is one of those perpetual roamers who has been everywhere and seen everything. He seems adapted to all lines of work and if you would like to see some beautiful penmanship just ask him to show you some of the diplomas that he works up for various schools and organizations. He does a clever piece of work by taking a calling card and writing your name by carving the card with a pen knife and putting in heavy and light shading. Quite remarkable.

The engagement of Miss Florence McCoubry of Glendale and James Wright has been announced. Jim is going to drive Jim to the sea of matrimony on February 14, 1930 and we hope that Jim has plenty of endurance so that we may have the pleasure of congratulating him on his fiftieth anniversary.

We wonder why the boys of the accounting department are all raising moustaches. Some of them resemble a ball game, that is, nine on each side. Now if Cleve or Eddie start to raise one why we will have to assign our foreign correspondent to the job of interviewing them to see what it is all about. Perhaps the boys are going to imitate Lewis Stone or John Gilbert.

One of our eminent employees residing in the suburbs of Torrance is working on an invention to make cats and canners. He threatens to "Valse" the boys and take up all the rugs since he has had a lot of bad luck with the glass containers. His name is being withheld until he has patented his invention.

Tool Joint Joe says, "The fellow who comes to work whistling usually goes home singing."
