KEYSTONE NOTES

The beautiful fields of Dutch blue and yellow iris, hyacinths, yellow jonquils and tulips of many colors at the Brazee bulb gardens on Main street here were viewed by the members of the Torrance District Garden Club and other residents of Torrance when Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brazee held open house at their gardens on Saturday afternoon. It was indeed a rare sight to see these flowers, that Mr. Brazee takes such pride in raising, all in bloom. Four acres of his land is set out in iris, one acre in tulips as well as other bulbs which are grown in this veritable garden of paradise as it appears to be to the one who views it. This interesting place each spring finds many visitors from throughout the country as well as foreign countries, many coming here from Holland where Mr. Brazee ships a great many of his bulbs.

When the writer interviewed Mr. Brazee he was wrapping these beautiful flowers that were laid in great tubs in the packing room ready for market the following morning. Needless to say, Mr. Brazee who has been an inspiration to her husband throughout the year, works hand in hand with him, leaving in the early hours of the morning for the Los Angeles market.

Mr. and Mrs. George Nahmens and family of Carson street motored to the home of Mr. Nahmens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Nahmens in Long Beach on Sunday where they were dinner guests.

The Crochet club will meet on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. S. Tannehill on Dolores street. The hostess will serve a luncheon at one o'clock and the afternoon hours will be spent in sociability.

Mrs. Charles M. Forrest, president of the Carson street Parent-Teachers Association will attend the regular meeting of the Gardena-Wilmington council which will meet this week on Thursday at the Dominguez school, Dominguez. The meeting will be held at 10 o'clock and a luncheon will be served the council at noon.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Koehler of Wilmington street were dinner guests on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Jennings on Dolores street.

Jack B. Turner of Santa Paula, son of Mrs. J. B. Williams on 230th street will be the guest of his mother over the weekend. Mr. Turner was employed by Greer Robbins in Los Angeles for the past three years and only recently was transferred to Santa Paula where he is manager of the Chrysler Service station.

One of the social events of last week of interest to many here was the stork shower held at the home of Mrs. Pernia Piper on Figueroa street as a courtesy for Mrs. Robert Whitney. Assisting Mrs. Piper as co-hostess was Mrs. J. E. Levers. Games were played during the afternoon with refreshments served by the hostess culminating the activities. A beautiful array of gifts was received by Mrs. Whitney. The invited guest group included Mrs. S. S. Tannehill, Mrs. Maud Barnard, Mrs. Harry C. Roque, Mrs. Barbara Berry, Mrs. George H. Koehler, Mrs. Thomas A. Cowan, Mrs. C. E. Harshman, Mrs. Robert Hull, Mrs. James B. Russell, Mrs. Z. W. Jennings, Mrs. Charles H. Pierce, Mrs. George Nahmens, Mrs. Charles M. Forrest all of Keystone; Mrs. E. P. Howe of South Lomita and Mrs. H. T. Hoxworth and Mrs. Louis

CENSUS TAKER HAS LAW ON HIS SIDE HERE

Don't Get Flipp or Slam Door on Uncle Sam's Nose Counters

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
SACRAMENTO, Cal., Mar. 27.—(U.P.)—"Don't get gay with the census-taker."

This time-worn warning, which comes only once every 10 years, applies to every citizen of Torrance, who soon after April 1, will be visited by one of the census enumerators engaged in Uncle Sam's fiftieth-decennial census.

Two things should be remembered by every person in connection with this "no-counting-around" federal officials here said. One is that the census-taker doesn't give a whoop about your personal affairs. There is no need to lie about your age, conceal the fact that brother Bill is a bootlegger, or deny that you were born in the "old country."

The enumerators are under oath to keep the questions secret, and are liable to arrest and imprisonment if they fail. When the figures are compiled they are sent back to Washington, D. C., there to be made into funny little holes and designs on pieces of card that are used in the big counting machines.

A person who fails to answer census questions may be subject to arrest, and conviction may bring a fine of $100 or up to 60 days in jail. Persons who give false information or persons in charge of business institutions who refuse to answer all questions to the best of their knowledge are likewise subject to arrest.

If you remember the census of 1920 you will recognize five new questions this year. One is, "Have you a radio set in your home?" Others include the value of your home, or what you pay in rent; your age at the time you were first married; whether you are actually at work, and whether you have served in Uncle Sam's armed forces.

Of course there will be a flock of other questions to be asked of the individual, such as: Name, age, sex, color of race, married, relation to head of family, education in school or college since September 1, 1929, place of birth—state or country—of yourself, mother and father; mother-tongue of each person foreign born, year of immigration to United States, whether able to speak English; occupation, employer or employee, or whether working on own account.

HI SCHOOL HI LIGHTS

By MURIEL BELL

Yesterday about forty girls went to Gardena, where the G. A. A. gave a play day to several nearby schools. Besides a volley ball, junior basketball and hockey teams, Louise Hansen and Ethel Ward played horse shoes, and Ethel Slye and Lola Cokley played tennis.

Assistant Coach Fred Myers took charge of the track meet held here Friday. With a little more time and practice, Fred might be able to be a second "Sig" Nylander.

Girl tennis fans have been swinging their rackets wildly for the past week. The girls' tournament started with La Grotta Hall playing Mildred Holland; Dot Eshom, Muriel Bell; Ethel Slye, Ethel Ward; and Dot Hanson and Lola Cokley. The championship will be decided soon when Lola and Ethel Slye play their match.

Ye scribbles of the annual and T. N. T. staff were guests of the Huntington Park high school last Friday. The main attraction for the boys was two water polo games and fancy diving done by some girls. Bill Barnes and John Young, the only boys of the party, had the time of their lives. The girls were Mary Lisson, Jo See, Dot Warren, Ada Chaplin, Louise Hansen, Mrs. Kelly and Miss Vaubel were chaperones.

Waffles seem to be the best fillers, so the Schumann Society has decided to give a waffle supper. The purpose is not only to give a good feed to the weak and starving multitude, but also to raise money to pay for a picture of the society in the annual.

There have been several absences in the faculty in the past week. Miss Chase was in an auto wreck and received several minor cuts and bruises. Miss Mills is having the mumps, and Coach Nylander has an infection in his foot.

Members of the Junior High aren't so far behind the High School when it comes to writing and delivering orations on the Constitution. Monday they had an assembly, where six students gave their speeches. Salfora Barber won first place, Milton Everett took second, and Ted Merrill walked off with third place. The other contestants were Ella Mae Ott, Jean Solomon and Kenneth Haslem.

The answer to any maiden's prayer, can be seen on Sundays in the Palos Verdes. Guy Rowell gives all the girls a thrill when he takes control of a glider.

The contestants in the Constitutional oration contest are working madly to perfect their masterpieces. Tomorrow they will deliver them and the winners will receive their money prizes, which are given every year by Mr. George Nell.

Capt. Salisbury was a very entertaining speaker in assembly on Tuesday. He has traveled around the world several times and has lived among many savage tribes. Capt. Salisbury in opening his talk said that he was so accustomed to savages, that he felt right at home with our student body.

Mary Hinman and Veronica McNeil, the spirit of modern youth have been prancing gracefully around the tennis courts for the last week. They are trying to learn the art of throwing a ball into the air and hitting it with a racket. Time will tell how successful they will be.
