Stage Route To Hollywood Desired

(Continued from Page 1-A) A clock for the last session of the hearing. A number of business men and residents plan to attend the hearing and testify that this city desires inclusion on the route from the Harbor district to Hollywood.

The West Side Transit Company endeavored to obtain a similar franchise several months ago but was blocked by the Pacific Electric and Motor Coach companies, the two competing bus concerns now opposing the West Side Transit's application. Both of these two concerns plan to route their bus lines down Main street or Broadway, thus eliminating service to Torrance entirely.

At the present time the West Side Transit Company operates a bus line between Long Beach and Manchester avenue, via Torrance and Keystone and at a five-trip per day schedule. In their application, the West Side company plans to make from 12 to 14 trips per day to Hollywood. A stage route direct to Hollywood has been desired here for some time and this is a chance to get it, according to the majority of residents who are interested in the Long Beach hearings. It is hoped that a strong representation will make the trip to the beach city tomorrow morning as guests of the West Side Transit Company to help secure the Torrance-Hollywood route.

EIGHT YEARS AGO IN TORRANCE

As Told by the Files of This Paper

The Torrance theatre was celebrating its first anniversary eight years ago this week.

Postoffice receipts showed a gain of 20.9 per cent over the same quarterly period for 1921.

Approximately 250 glass blowers were engaged in working 400 tons of molten glass into finished products at the Torrance Window Glass Company.

A. E. Huddleston, formerly of Covina, signed a lease to occupy store room at 1212 El Prado where he opened a new and second hand furniture store eight years ago.

An "exhaustive but interesting" report was made by the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce on the results accomplished by that organization during the first seven months of its existence.

Following one sensational announcement after another, Sam Levy, Torrance tailor, says that next week will see his store equipped with fine new fixtures which will care for his first shipment of a nationally-known clothes line.

Progress in the development of the Torrance oil fields was steadily going forward with "all indications pointing to one of the best fields in Southern California within the coming year," according to the Herald of October 6, 1922.

"Mud at Twenty Dollars a Ton" was discovered by a Torrance resident who "recently found that his five-acre tract in Keystone is underlaid with what is known as 'oil driller's mud' a substance found only in limited quantities and considered valuable for drilling."

A "beach party" was given at a high school this week by the faculty as the first event to be held by the instructors for their entertainment. All details of beach activity were carried out during the evening's party.

Satin Crepe Experiences a Sudden Renaissance

By FRANCES PAGET Copyright, 1930, by Style Sources

NEW YORK (UP)—After several seasons when satin crepe for daytime wear has been regarded apathetically, it is experiencing a sudden renaissance, and is now regarded as a fabric which will be important for late fall afternoon wear. Its revival is quite logical. When the new collections were being assembled, it developed that there was an over-concentration on Canto falles, spirals and other dull crepes, and while dull crepes are still smart, they have something of the flavor of an old story and a good fall and a fresh appeal. Confidence in satin crepe was encouraged further by the good reaction made to the presentation of light-colored satin crepe evening gowns reproduced from models shown in the Paris mid-season openings. These gowns have received the quick approval of fashionable women and were seen at such smart resorts as Southampton and Newport. It is believed to be only a step to the acceptance of satin crepe for afternoon wear, a belief that is borne out by the quantity of black satin afternoon gowns shown in the collection of an exclusive New York house.

It should be noted here that only black is considered vital for day wear, although an occasional brown is favored also. Incidentally, the satin crepe most used is one with a luster high enough to bring out the beauty of the fabric. As the season develops, less interest in dull-finished satin crepe is noted.

Ferrari, 1715 South Broadway, Redondo, on October 1; Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson, 951 Virginia street, El Segundo, on October 1; Mr. and Mrs. L. McChubb, 324 South Elena street, Redondo, on October 1; and Mr. and Mrs. James E. Yoshinobu, Torrance, on October 3.

Mrs. K. Hansen, 214225 First street, Harbor City, entered the hospital yesterday morning for surgical attention. Mrs. M. Hartman, 2918 Poppy street, Lomita, entered for treatment October 6 and is doing nicely. Mrs. Oletha Stevenson, of 1331 El Prado, who was operated on October 2, is making a good recovery.

At the Thursday meeting, members of the Garden club will select a meeting night of greatest convenience to the majority.

Gilbert, John King and Roy Berry comprise the nominating committee.

"Calf Killing" Case Is Ended

Suspended Sentences Are Given Three Defendants

A reduction of a charge of grand theft to petty larceny in connection with the slaughtering of a calf, owned by A. R. Cardozo, dairyman, by Guy G. Walker, 32-year-old deaf mute cobbler, of 1423 Carson street, was agreed to at Walker's trial before Judge Patterson in the Lomita Justice court Tuesday.

As result of the minor charge, to which Walker pleaded guilty, he was given one year in the county jail suspended on condition that he pay $15 to Cardozo for the calf and leaves liquor alone. Two minor boys, who were also charged with the same offense, having assisted the deaf mute in his act, received the same suspended sentence.

Walker had claimed that he needed the meat for food for his family as he could not meet expenses from the results of his work in the shoeshop on Carson street.

Council Doings

A 40-foot strip of land in Vista Highlands, Tract No. 4070, was deeded to and accepted by the city by W. H. Dukert and associates at the meeting of the city council Tuesday night.

When the test of the light standards in the Clifford F. Reid, Inc., Hollywood Riviera tract has been made and a report given the city, the standards and other equipment pertaining to the lighting system will be accepted by the city, it was decided at the council session.

The council agreed to a contract with the Southern California Edison Company for service to the standards at a rate of $18 per lamp per month. Replacements of damaged or broken units to be made at cost.

The long-considered agreement concerning the fire hydrants and water service to those much-discussed hydrants in the same tract was accepted by the council following a report from the city engineer that the agreement was okay.

At the request of Sam Levy, the council ordered the city engineer to investigate an old oil Derrick in Block 10 on Sombra avenue which Levy claimed was unsafe and constituted a fire menace. The equipment belongs to the Southern Midway Oil Company and has been standing for two years without any fires or a watchman to guard it.
