More About "Gay '90's" Party

costume and dancing cash awards.

Callers Will Officiate

At this time, Santa Claus, in person, will make his first public appearance in Torrance to greet the children and award the special gifts that have been prepared for them. Santa will personally greet every child at the party and will pre-view his more formal appearance Christmas Eve with bags of money and candy to all youngsters.

Then from 8:30 until 10 o'clock, old-fashioned dances and the modern steps. During the square dances, Virginia reels, waltzes, two-steps and schottishes, "Happy" McNay, champion caller of old-fashioned dances at the Mandarin ballroom, Redondo, and Hurum Reeve, of Torrance, will officiate in "calling" the formations.

Both McNay and Reeve are "right smart" announcers and they will keep the fun going during their numbers.

See Old-Fashioned Displays

Before and during the program you should take a stroll through the business section of the city to see the old-fashioned window displays that are being arranged now for the Saturday night party. The merchants have, in a large number of instances, arranged to stock their windows with "gay '90s" merchandise in contrast with their Christmas displays of gifts for 1930.

Advance information concerning the costumes to be resurrected for the "Gay Nineties" party reveals that some lavish dresses and hats will be displayed by local residents who have already found what they are going to wear. Men of Torrance are experiencing a shortage of derbies, but otherwise the supply of tight pants, high-buttoned Prince Alberts and white vests is equal to the demand.

There is one young couple here who have acquired real authentic costumes for the party Saturday night as they have been completely outfitted in the wedding garments of their parents who were married in 1891.

Costumes Easily Made

Don't think for a minute that you haven't any costume to wear—a few ruffles and a lace thing-a-ma-jig on an old dress will put the ladies right in style with the gay '90s, and gentlemen who can scrape up a high-collared, an old Ascot tie, a tight coat, "skin" trousers and a pair of false flowing moustaches will be typical of the decade's dandies!

Besides the cash prizes for the best and funniest costumes and the couples who excel in the old-fashioned waltz and two-step, there will be bags of money and bags of candy for every child who attends the party Saturday night. Real bags of real money and delicious candy—think of it!

See you at the Christmas tree at 7 o'clock Saturday night!

SPORTS

Torrance Basketball Teams Open Marine League Play Tomorrow

The court at the Torrance high school will be the center of attraction for sports fans here tomorrow, Friday afternoon. Not the court you are thinking of, Judge, but the basketball court at the high school gymnasium.

Jordan's Class C and D teams tangle with the Tartar Aces and Dees here at 3 o'clock in the afternoon while the A and B teams are indulging in a Marine League encounter with Jordan's Ace and Bets on Jordan's own floor—for that's the way of basketball in the League.

Both basketball coaches here, Earl Fields and Ray Smith are not saying anything about the outcome for their respective quintets as they have enough on their hands trying to manage two complete teams and teach them the rudiments of the cashie game.

There are approximately 500 seats available at the gymnasium at the local gym at two-bits per seat. A small crowd is expected—small because the townspeople are a bit cagey about spending their money for something they don't know about. After these initial games, interest here ought to be up a bit—if Torrance's four squads hand in a quartet of victories on their opening games.

Palms Lease is Placed in Escrow

to the expectations of his many friends here, the name of Supervisor Quinn was not placed in nomination for all the reasons he was the first to name Wright for the honored post.

Action in placing the Royal Palms lease in escrow is thought to be indicative of the early acceptance of the measure as a new county recreation center. It is believed that the legal difficulties encountered by County Counsel Mattoon according to his report last week, can be clarified at an early date.

When the resolution of Supervisor Quinn was offered Monday, Chairman A. E. Henning, representing the Harbor District Chamber of Commerce, delivered a forceful speech wherein he asked that the board lease the property for park purposes. He was opposed on the floor by John Steiner, associate secretary of the Los Angeles Municipal League.

Steven declared a great crack in the earth exists on the club grounds from an earth fault similar to that at Point Fermin and that it had affected some of the buildings. He believed unwise for the county to lease the property for a park, he said.

Under the proposal offered to the county by heirs of the Sepulveda estate, owners, the supervisors would lease the grounds and physical improvements for a period of 41 years. The terms would be $50,000 a year for the first eight years and $28,000 a year for the remaining time of the lease. According to Supervisor Quinn, the action of the board yesterday in adopting his resolution leaves the matter open for dropping it if investigation of the titles does not prove satisfactory. Also more public hearings would be held before the board took final action.

Quinn on Committee

Supervisor Wright is the oldest member of the county board in point of service. Quinn declared in making the nomination that prevented any move to place his name in the voting. Wright's election was unanimous after Supervisor Shaw had withdrawn his one dissenting vote. Supervisor Beatty turned his seat on the board over to Supervisor-elect Hugh A. Thatcher, his successor. The same was done by Supervisor Graves in favor of J. Don McArthur.

The new board is now composed of Wright, Quinn, Shaw, Thatcher and McArthur. It administers to the 2,600,000 people in the county and directs the collection and expenditure of approximately $100,000,000 per year.

At the conclusion of Wright's speech of acceptance of the chairmanship, in which he declared that no so-called "secret sessions" would be held by the board during his term of office, he announced his committees for the year. There are three supervisors on every committee instead of one as has previously been the rule. Supervisor Quinn is chairman of the Roads and Highways committee and a member of the Finance and Public Works and Buildings committees. Chairman Wright has been in public service for 36 years, as a trustee of the city of Huntington Park, member of the Legislature and speaker of the Assembly, and was appointed Supervisor by Gov. Richardson in 1921. He has an unexpired term. He has been one of the finest committee during most of his terms on the county board.

BROTHERHOOD TO MEET

The Men's Methodist Brotherhood club will meet in the parlors of the church Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. An old time program has been planned. Special artists for the evening are the Crook Brothers from the Ozark mountains, who are heard over KGEF every Tuesday night from 10 to 11.

On the Courts Tomorrow

Class A and B: Torrance at Jordan. Ris at Washington. Gardens at Bell. Warrington at Earring. Lauringer at South Gate. El Segundo—Bye.

Class C and D games will be played between the above mentioned schools but at opposite locations throughout as, for instance, Jordan's C and D squads will play here tomorrow afternoon.

Rotary Club Has Legion Program

Earl Conner is Master of Ceremonies Today

C. C. McConnel, armless veteran of the World War, postmaster at Bell, and past commander of the County Council of the American Legion, was the speaker of the day at the American Legion program held at the Rotary club this noon hour.

Earl Conner, commander of the local post, was in charge of the program. Dr. J. S. Lancaster gave a report on his recent trip to the clinics at Chicago and Rochester, Minn. Harry Gill, comedian, and brother of Jack Gill, and Tom Bowler, local Legionnaire, soloist, provided the entertainment.

It was announced that the Legion, Kiwanis and Rotary will stage a show for Christmas charity Wednesday, December 17, at the Legion club house. "Humpty" Crough, of the Commander Byrd South Pole expedition, will tell the post story of the great Antarctic trip. He will bring his pictures, maps and album to the show, which will be a star event. The proceeds will go to the Torrance Relief Society's Christmas fund.

DOGS GUARD ART

Two police dogs who have been at the Art Institute for six years help Guard Arthur Good on his rounds at night and are trained to look for prowlers who may hide from the guard and to attack in case of an emergency. Sentry and Sentries keep watch for prowlers.

BUILDING IS STILL BELOW 1929 RECORD

November Construction is $15,450; Year to Date is $412,329

With but one month yet to go, new construction in Torrance lags behind the 1929 figure by slightly more than $170,564, according to reports on file at the city engineer's office. Last month new building here amounted to $15,450, bringing the total to $412,329 for the eleven months.

At this time last year, new construction totaled $582,893, City Engineer Leonard said.

There were four permits issued during November for new houses. These went to J. W. Beckwith, 116 Via Estrella, seven-room stucco, to cost $7500; Phillip Rupp, 1516 Marcelina, five-room frame, to cost $4000; Carl Hyde, 1613 Hickory, three-room frame, to cost $1000; and H. E. Dierker, 22845 Park street, five-room frame, to cost $2000. Three additions to houses are being made for A. W. Thompson, 2213 Redondo; Charles Lantz, 24407 Ward street, and G. H. Sapp, 1918 229th street.

Plans for County Center Approved

entire Carson street frontage one unified design.

It is noted that the county has definitely rejected overtures from the city of Redondo Beach to construct the county center in that city. Dr. Pomeroy, the health officer, has always been in favor of the Torrance location.

Legion in Approval

The county clinic building will house a well-equipped laboratory, offices and hospital ward. The building will be a large chamber with private offices and ample accommodations in order to meet the demands of the proposed county court system when that judicial chance is made. The sheriff's sub-station will be equal to that of any now being operated by the law enforcement body and the constable's office will be completely equipped to serve this township. A large building will contain the county library and a wing of the building will provide permanent quarters for the Relief Association, a decided improvement for that charity agency which has had to find headquarters in the cheapest rooms available in the past.

Patients will not be kept in the clinic for over 24 hours, and Dr. Pomeroy has agreed to make arrangements with the Torrance Memorial hospital to take care of all indigent cases at county expense. The county health officer also indicated that he would recommend that immediate arrangements be made between the county and the Torrance Hospital for the care of indigent and accident cases, as the local hospital has lost considerable money on this type of cases.

The executive committee of the local Legion post in a communication read at tonight's meeting Tuesday night, approved of the establishment of the county center next to the Legion's club house.

Co. Gas Tax Share Is $2,639,931.67

By the United Press
SACRAMENTO.—Los Angeles county will receive $2,639,931.67 of its share of California's $18,751,419 tax apportionment for the six-month period from April 1 to September 30. It was announced today by State Controller Ray L. Riley.

It is particularly fortunate, Riley observed, that the county is receiving its largest share of gas tax revenue at a time when it can be put to use in relieving the present unemployment crisis. The total figure represents a gain of $1,455,702 over the allotment for the same period in 1929.
