"Withhold not those thy tender mercies from me, O Lord: let thy loving kindness and thy truth continually preserve me." This petition of the Psalmist constitutes the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "God the Preserver of Man," Sunday, in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Scripture selections include various other verses from the Psalms, among which are the following: "My help cometh from the Lord, which made heaven and earth. He will not suffer thy foot to be moved; he that keepeth thee will not slumber. Behold, he that keepeth Israel shall neither slumber nor sleep. The Lord shall preserve thy going out and thy coming in from this time forth, and even for evermore."
One of the passages from "Scripture and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering."

On Wednesday evening, December 17, at 7:30 o'clock, the Epworth League, young people of the Methodist church, will offer a program of unusual merit. A Christmas play, "They That Sat in Darkness," is being prepared. A cast of 30 young people will bring back scenes of Bethlehem and make 2000 years live again. Louise Shaw, as Miriam, will represent the world as an outcast. Mary, the Virgin Mother, will be portrayed by Marian Wright. Harry Phillips as Joseph, the Innkeeper, brings again to us the manger we have in the fact that "there was no room" in the inn. Ruth, his daughter, played by Pal Marie Henry, finds a way for the comfort of Mary and Jesus. Many others will interpret the old but ever new truth and make your heart glad.
