Centenarian Is Paid Tribute at Luncheon

complimentary things spoken by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns, of the San Francisco area; Dr. Walter C. Loomis, superintendent of the Los Angeles district; Rev. H. N. Merrill, pastor of the Long Beach church; Rev. R. A. Young, of the local church, and nine of his former students at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

40 From Long Beach There were about 40 present at the "century luncheon" from Long Beach. Dr. Wightman's residence before he came to live with his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Sinclair. He was also honored by the presence of nearly a score of relatives and members of both service clubs, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

A number of beautiful floral tributes were arranged on and behind the speakers' table and a cake with 100 candles occupied the center position in front of the honored centenarian.

Torrance City Plan Like Boulder City

plan can be likened to the Torrance industrial zoning. The fact that the Government has ordered Boulder City created from the above plan, should be taken as highly complimentary to the original planners of Torrance, as the government could have used any plan to lay out a brand new city such as the Boulder Dam metropolis will be.

Torrance was designed in the main by the Olmstead Brothers, noted city planners, who have the new Boston city, Palos Verdes, Central Park, New York City, and Portland, Oregon, plans to their credit. The firm has also been retained as consulting planners for Washington, D. C.

Why Not Stay Here? Although the entire design for the city of Torrance has not been kept intact through the years of its surprising growth, because of the influx of the oil industry, the plan in the original city limits area has been followed in its entirety.

Boulder City, which will rise from the desert, on a cliff high above the Colorado river, will be a model city. The government will lease land there for contractor's offices and material supply areas. A large percentage of the men who work on the dam will live in this city and every modern convenience will be provided. Just like Torrance! Why go to Boulder City at all?
