Doin's of th' Flyin' Buzzard

"Well, speakin' of bein' thankful, boys," sez Buss, "you ain't heard nothin' 'till you hear this here pome I wrote." An' he spilets off this-a one, about
BREAKFAST IN TH' COW CAMP
When you're rolled up in your bed-din'
And a-sterpin' on th' ground,
And th' chickens don't bother you,
An' the doggin' round,
An' the ticks th' pup,
An' the flies as blazes,
But you know it's time to get up.

It's cold, if you lay there thinkin' Th' boss has got a crust,
You think you just can't make it,
But still, you know ya must,
So just as you reach for your overalls
You take another smell
Yep! It's th' coffee boilin',
Gosh! Won't that go swell!

You wash in ice cold water,
Th' T-bones fryin' now,
As th' cook says, "Come an' git'er."
Now you're right there for th' chow.

There's good ol' sourdough biscuits
An' plenty o' gravy, too,
Why, you've never tasted nothin' like that
And when you're through—

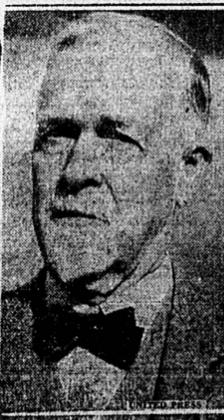

You go an' rope your horses
An' he tells you what to do,
So you saddle up, and yonder—
Where you see that streak o' blue,
We'll be gettin' there at sun-up
Where there's plenty o' work to do,

All Smiles

Introducing Ellsworth Vines, new national tennis champion, who is a sophomore at U. S. C. Also his best girl, Verle Lowe—which probably accounts for the big smile he wears in this picture. Vines lives in Pasadena.

Backs Japan

Willis J. Abbott, famous editor of the Christian Science Monitor, who has just returned from the Institute of Pacific Relations conference in Shanghai. He said he believed Japan has a fair motive in the present Manchurian dispute, but that it has not been able to explain it to the world. Abbott arrived recently in San Francisco on the liner Chichibu Maru.

Here's Chance For Boys To Win Home Pool Tables From Penney's

Hi! Boys of Torrance and vicinity! Do you want to enter a pool tournament and play on fine regular tables at the J. C. Penney Company store with other boys of your age to win a fine Juvenile Clubman pool table and all equipment that goes with it?

Then you had better go into morning, December 12, any time after 9 o'clock and leave your name and address and get a card that entitles you to enter the tournament. You don't have to know how to play—it's easy—and Manager Frank Buffington will be there to show you how to run up big scores in the game of elimination 15-point call shot straight pool.

Will Be Two Divisions
Boys from six to ten years of age will be entered in one division and boys from ten to 14 years old will be in a second division. The winner of each class will be awarded a new Penney Company Junior Clubman pool table, regulation balls, chalk, cues and a booklet, which described the many games that can be played on the home table.

The tournament will be played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, December 14, 15 and 16. The younger boys will compete in the afternoons and those in the older division in the early evening hours of those days. All games will be played on Junior Clubman tables arranged on the mezzanine floor of the J. C. Penney store at 1269 Sartori avenue.

Manager Buffington has taken a great interest in arranging this tournament and he wants all boys in the city to come in and have a fine time while competing for the two prizes. He will gladly explain the rules of the tournament to all boys or their parents and assure a wonderful time to the tournament players.

Formal Opening of New Court Delayed

Because the new furniture for the Justice Court in the Sam Levy building, coming from the city hall, was delayed in being especially made for the new judicial chambers, the formal opening of the court to the public will not be held until about the first of the new year, according to Judge John Dennis today.

However, the old furniture is being installed so that the court will be able to hold its sessions in the Levy building beginning on Tuesday morning, December 15. Judge Dennis said the delay in obtaining the new furniture and equipment was caused by the fact that it is being built to order in a Los Angeles furniture factory.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kasper attended chapter meeting at Ascot Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Los Angeles, Monday evening.

DENTIST HIDES SECRETS
