JARED SIDNEY TORRANCE MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Today is National Hospital Day, proclaimed by President Hoover and observed throughout the nation, in honor of Florence Nightingale, whose memorable sacrifice for humanity symbolizes the ideals of devoted nurses everywhere.

It is also appropriate that Torrance citizens pause to reflect the unselfish spirit of its founder, Jared Sidney Torrance, and his heirs in giving to this city such a splendid institution. It is one of this city's proudest possessions and has won an enviable reputation throughout the Southland for its high type of professional service. No small part of the Torrance hospital's high rating is due to Miss Esther Maxwell, superintendent, and her able corps of trained nurses.

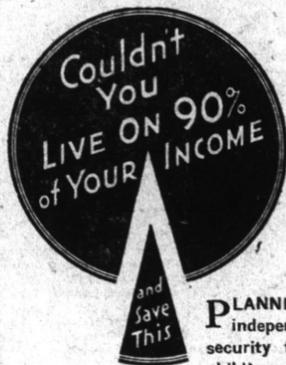

Two Stores to Hold Regular Dollar Days

Fred Palmer In Tire Business In Wilmington

A series of Dollar Day sales will be offered by the J. C. Penney Company and Karl's Shoe Stores in Torrance. It was announced this week by Frank Buffington and I. Blum, local managers of the two stores. The first of the Dollar Day events will be held this week-end, and are advertised by the two stores in this issue.

Fred Palmer, former tire merchant and proprietor of the Standard Oil service station at the corner of Marcelina and Craven avenues in Torrance, has returned from Berkeley where he has been in business for some time past, and is opening a tire salesroom at 310 W. Anaheim, Wilmington. Mr. Palmer and his family are residing in Los Angeles at present.

POLITICALLY SPEAKING

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Calif.—(U.P.)—As another presidential primary passes into history, political interest in California shifts to the state primary August 30. At this election a corking good fight is in prospect for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

Southern California has contributed four of the five challengers for the senatorial toga now worn by Senator Samuel M. Shortridge. These include Congressmen Phil D. Swing and Joe Crall, Leo V. Youngworth and the Rev. Robert P. Shuler. In Northern California State Senator Tallant Tubbs is conducting a campaign on a platform of modification of the Volstead act.

Governor Rolph "brought home the bacon" from his trip to Richmond, Va., by securing the 1933 conference of 48 governors for California.

They will be entertained on their trip to this state by the cities of Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles, although the regular business sessions will be at the state capitol.

Remembering the governor's fixed policy that every visiting governor must be welcomed by a salute of 17 guns, observers are predicting that the cannon in Sacramento will be busy for some time after the state executives arrive.

Adjutant General Seth E. Howard of the national guard once figured that it cost $6.80 for each 17-gun salute, or 40 cents a shot. However, the salute for the visiting governors would not cost that much now, as the cost of powder has dropped, and the state owns its own cannon.

Newspaper publishers all over the state have approved the suggestion of Charles A. Whitmore, Visalia publisher, that Ford A. Chatters, co-owner of the Lindsay Gazette, make the race for the assembly from his district this fall.

Chatters was formerly state president of the California Newspaper Publishers Association, and is thoroughly familiar with legislative procedure, as he represented the organization at Sacramento for two sessions. Editors of the district endorsed his candidacy at a recent meeting at Lindsay.

Political gossip: Repeal of the Volstead Act will be Proposition No. 1 on the November general election ballot in California . . . and state supervision of liquor sales will be No. 2 . . . Ralph McColl, Rolph campaign manager in Shasta county, is running for state senator for the new district of Shasta and Trinity counties . . . It is expected that Theodore Roche will accept the position of director of motor vehicles May 1 . . . His deputy will be Daniel J. O'Brien . . . Frank Cory, veteran deputy secretary of state, underwent an operation at a local hospital this week . . . He is recovering rapidly, however . . . Lieutenant Governor Frank F. Merriam didn't stir up much fuss while he served as "acting governor" during Rolph's absence . . . In fact, he spent most of his time at the state capitol in his own offices.
