

Fine Program of Sacred Music at Christian Church

A sacred musical program of exceptional value will be given at the Torrance Christian church next Sunday night, September 25, beginning at 7:30 sharp. This "Old Songs Festival" will feature one hundred or more gospel songs that have been suggested by those attending the regular church services for the last three or four weeks.

Pasadena Man to Speak Here

Climaxing "Religious Education Week," September 18-25, the Torrance Christian church, Engracia at Arlington avenues, will feature Kenneth Holst of Pasadena next Sunday morning, September 25, at the morning worship hour. For several years Mr. Holst was a member of the Young People's conference faculty of Southern California, director of religious education for Central Christian church, Pasadena. He is now a member of the council of religious education board for the state and a student at the graduate school of U. S. C. Mr. Holst will speak on some phase of Christian education and will deliver a charge to the teachers of the church school at the close.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES The words of the Psalmist, "From everlasting to everlasting, thou art God," constitute the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Reality," on Sunday, September 25, in all Churches of Christ Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. One of the Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon includes the verses from Psalm xiv: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in his holy place? He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart; who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. . . Lift up your heads, O ye gates; even lift them up, ye everlasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in. Who is this King of glory? The Lord of hosts, he is the King of glory." A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is."

Ask Exemption From Taxes For California Ships

State Provision Favorable to American Merchant Marine

Realizing its importance to California's position in the shipping world, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the proposed amendment continuing the constitutional provision exempting from taxation all commercial vessels of more than 50 tons burden when registered at a California port. The measure will appear on the November ballot as Amendment No. 28. This provision was first inserted in the state constitution about 20 years ago on the initiative of the harbor department of the city of Los Angeles. It was endorsed in the legislature by Le Sueur R. Hewitt, then a state senator. At that time almost no ships were registered in California ports. Even the Harvard and Yalis which had been brought from New York for coastwise service were registered in New York where shipping was free from taxation. As a result of the passage of this constitutional amendment many ships were registered during the war and afterwards at Los Angeles, San Francisco and other California ports. And now a very large portion of the American merchant marine carries the name of a California city around the world. This provision expires in 1935, unless it is renewed, and will result in driving practically all commercial vessels away from California registry. Ships are taxable only where they are registered, and as American vessels engaged in trade on the high seas could not stand the burden of taxation in competition with those which are not taxed, practically all ships now sailing from California would be transferred to other states where there is no taxation if the proposed amendment is not extended for another 20 years. The failure of the amendment to carry, therefore, not only would not increase taxation revenues, but also would deprive California of the prestige which comes from being advertised throughout the world as the home of a large portion of the American merchant marine.

Keeping Up With Torrance High

It is feared that there will be no high school orchestra this semester due to the fact that other required subjects interfere with the orchestra practice period.

Twenty-two more students are enrolled in Torrance high school this semester than there were at the end of the school year. There is now an enrollment of 654 and at the end of the school year there was an enrollment of 632. There are quite a number of new pupils.

Woman Asks Damage For Crash Injuries

Injuries received in a traffic accident at Vermont and Rosecrans avenues last May 23 today resulted in a $15,000 damage action being filed in Los Angeles superior court.

Charlette May Harding, plaintiff in the action, asserted in her complaint that she was seriously injured when the automobile in which she was riding was in collision with another driven by F. A. Lincoln, whom she named defendant in the suit.

LUSTY BELL RINGER KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (U.P.)—Charles Morris, bell ringer at the Fort Bidwell church, is convinced that even the most prosaic of occupations has its dangers. He mounted the belfry to call worshippers to church. One lusty heave on the bell rope brought down the bell, supports and scaffold.

HUNT RIVER BED FOR MEALS LAFAYETTE, Ore. (U.P.)—When the Yamhill river went unusually low here, transients literally swarmed the bed hunting fresh water clams in the hopes of discovering pearls.

SPEEDY SALESMAN SEATTLE (U.P.)—A dapper "super-salesman" sold two cars off a used car lot here while the owner stood by. Following the sales, he walked off with the cash.

U. S. Attorney to Investigate False Reports

Letter - Writing Campaign Against Banks to Be Combated

U. S. Attorney McNabb, who is investigating the use of the United States mails by Communists in spreading false rumors against banks and other financial institutions, yesterday issued a statement requesting the public to be on the alert for evidence which will assist in identifying the senders of these missives. The first batch of letters was mailed last week and a large number are now in the hands of the authorities, as the public has readily recognized the "Red" propaganda, typewritten and bearing a two-lined message hinting that it would be wise to withdraw money from "your bank." This message appears in the center of a folded piece of blank paper, mailed in a government-stamped envelope. Those receiving such letters are requested by McNabb to turn them over to his office or to their local banker, handling the contents as little as possible so that finger-print claws may be obtained. According to McNabb's investigators, the spreading of false rumors by letters is at present confined to the Los Angeles metropolitan area, but Communist plans are under way for similar letter-writing campaigns against banks in other localities of the state, also in Oregon, Nevada, Arizona and Utah. "The spreading of false rumors against financial institutions is a serious matter," said McNabb, "and we shall prosecute offenders of this character to the full extent of the law."

Judge Carrell on Municipal Bench

Judge Frank Carrell of Gardena township is presiding this week on the bench in Los Angeles municipal court. Judge Carrell was called by Presiding Judge Clarence L. Kincaid to preside in division two of municipal court last week. Judge Ellis A. Eagan, who has been presiding in that division, was called for duty in Los Angeles superior court. He is the eighteenth municipal court judge to be so assigned on account of leaves of absence and vacations.

CONCEAL EVIDENCE IN BIBLE KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (U.P.)—A case of holiness harboring criminal evidence was discovered here. While searching an old house for a revolver, Sheriff Lloyd Low picked up a Bible. Between its covers lay the evidence. Pieces of the book had been cut so that a hiding place about 8 1/2 inches was afforded.

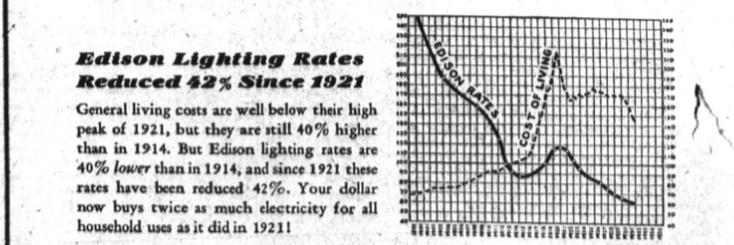

Nothing in the home means so much and costs so little as Electricity

Electricity Bills of 10 Years Ago Would Look Awfully High Today!

"Look, John, here's an old bill for electricity the first year we were married!" "Why it's as much as we're paying today, and we didn't have an electric refrigerator, a washer, a radio, or half a dozen of the electrical conveniences we have now!" "No... that bill covered lights, mostly... but you know Edison rates have been reduced several times since those days, and we're getting lots more service for our money today."

Even the humblest home today enjoys electrical advantages that a king's ransom could not have bought ten years ago. Electrical inventive genius developed the electric radio, the electric refrigerator, the modern electric heater. Electrical manufacturing skill produces these devices at a price that brings them easily within the reach of every home, and splendid advances in the generation and distribution of electric current have enabled every home to use these appliances at a cost only slightly greater than was paid for lights alone a decade or so ago. In Edison territory the average electric dollar buys twice as much service as it did in 1921.

Edison Lighting Rates Reduced 42% Since 1921 General living costs are well below their high peak of 1921, but they are still 40% higher than in 1914. But Edison lighting rates are 40% lower than in 1914, and since 1921 these rates have been reduced 42%. Your dollar now buys twice as much electricity for all household uses as it did in 1921!
