Torrance Stores Feature Del Monte Products

Nationally advertised food products, prominent among them the canned foods of Del Monte, have been a feature of the eight-day special sale being conducted by four Torrance owned grocery stores, all members of the Associated Grocers, an organization of independent retail grocers. The sale, publicized through full page newspaper copy and appropriate store display, began last Friday. According to the local members of the Associated Grocers' group, a decision to continue the sale through this Saturday has been made.

The photographs show exterior and interior views of the four participating stores which are Harder's Market, 1521 Madrid; Woodburn's, 1801 Cabrillo; G. H. Colburn, 645 Sartori, and Doan's Market, 2223 Torrance boulevard.

New Application Cemetery Permit South of Compton

Board Sets Date to Hear Protests On First Two Proposals

Application for another cemetery in the vicinity of Compton, this time just south of the city limits, has been filed with the board of supervisors by R. C. Mason and Company, Ltd. No date has been set for a hearing, as the application has not yet been before the board.

The Mason company proposed a 63-acre burial ground at the southwest corner of Alameda boulevard and Victoria street, in unincorporated territory. The tract is less than half a mile south of the south city limits of Compton. It is revealed by a map. The Pacific Electric railroad practically cuts the 63-acre site in two equal parts. Meanwhile, hearings on two previous applications have been fixed by the supervisors for the next two Mondays. The first is the application of Walter Knox for a burial tract west of Compton, on Olive street, between Gardena and Compton. This hearing was held at 10 o'clock Monday morning, December 5, in the meeting room of the board of supervisors at the hall of records.

The second hearing, set for December 12, is on the application of Wayne Jewell to establish a cemetery near Central avenue and Rosecrans avenue, less than a mile north of the city of Compton, in the Willowbrook area. At these hearings all persons residing or owning property within a radius of one mile from the proposed sites may enter their objections.

Procedure required by the county ordinance is for the supervisors to issue a permit, if there are no serious objections.

Meanwhile, Compton residents, with a dog racing track just south of the city limits and cemeteries proposed on the south, west and north, are wondering whether someone does not want a cemetery on the east, so that the city will be surrounded.

Keeping Up With Torrance High

At the meeting of the Key Club held November 29, the boys discussed plans for their mid-year banquet. They decided to have the banquet the last week of this semester. The price will be 25 cents per plate, and it is to be a stag.

Last year the girls were invited, but this year it seems well, the depression is in full swing now and a quarter is two-bits.

A correction on the price of the tickets for the senior play: There will be reserved and unreserved seats. The reserved seats are 35 cents and the unreserved, 25 cents. Seats can be reserved at the Dole Drug Company.

The students of T. H. S. were royally entertained at a pay and call Wednesday, November 30, by Mr. Lorenzen of Long Beach. Mr. Lorenzen and 13 other men were shipwrecked on a desert island for seven months. He told of their experiences and hardships during those seven months, and it made a very interesting talk.

At the Varsity Club meeting, Thursday, December 1, plans were discussed for the annual banquet. However, nothing definite was decided upon, and the final plans will be known in a week or two.

In the re-election of president for the Boys' League, Melvin Howard was chosen to replace Bob Atchison.

The G. A. A. have decided to pep up their meetings and have taken large steps towards doing it. At their second meeting, the girls drew straws and one side was called "Mike" and the other side "Ike." The two sides have chosen captains, who in turn chose the best girls on their side to make basketball, volleyball, etc., teams. Competition between the "Mikes" and "Ikes" will begin soon and the games will probably be fought tooth and nail. Results should prove interesting. The losing team has to give the other team a party.

Tomorrow should be a busy day for all the townspeople, for in the afternoon are the basketball games with Banning, and in the evening is the senior play, "The Poor Nut." Tomorrow is the last day to get tickets, which are selling rapidly.

The girls' gym classes have finished the basketball season and are now starting in on hockey. Because of the underclassmen who have had no experience in hockey, the first few weeks are spent on instructions. As soon as the rules are learned, teams will be chosen and interclass hockey games will begin.

Dr. Elizabeth Woods, superintendent of the educational research and guidance division of the Los Angeles board of education, visited the social problems class Friday, December 2. Dr. Woods is visiting different schools to see the different students' attitude as to whether or not the schools are to blame for the trend of the modern young boy and girl.

Dr. Wood gave the class many pupils' ideas. It was something unusual, but nevertheless, interesting.

The economic and social problems classes have been increasing each year. Perhaps it is because of the depression, and the students' hope to find the causes and remedies.

It is a good idea, for if the younger generation takes an interest in world affairs and problems, perhaps there will be fewer depressions in the future. This is something to look forward to.

Torrance may not win all its basketball games but it certainly puts on some exciting games. Last Friday, December 2, the B's lost 19 to 17, but they tied the El Segundo team, 12 to 6 at one time, and certainly played a fast game. The A's and D's also lost, but the C's won again last week.

This week the games should be doubly exciting, and all the townspeople are urged to attend.

Frank R. Leonard, city engineer of Torrance, spoke to the mem-

Quinn Remains As Chairman of the Road Committee

Rearrangements Made in Various Departments Under New Board

Responsibilities of Supervisor John R. Quinn of the fourth district, including Torrance, were shifted this week in connection with the reorganization of the board with the election of Supervisor Frank L. Shaw as chairman. While Supervisor Quinn will continue as chairman of the roads and highways committee, the county departments under each of the five committees were rearranged.

With Roger W. Jessup, new supervisor from the fifth district, and Supervisor Hugh A. Thatcher of the first district as members of his committee, the following county departments are listed: Fire warden, fish and game warden and county forester; parks, beaches and playgrounds; regional planning commission, surveyor and road department, with rock quarries and oil pits.

Outstanding in the program of reorganization is the new department making each supervisor responsible for the welfare work in his district. The committee of the whole was formed to cope with the problem of county welfare and employment stabilization, and the same policy is to be followed in flood control and water conservation matters. Shaw retains the chairmanship of the welfare committee, however, and Thatcher continues as flood control chairman.

Quinn also is a member of the administration and finance, public works and buildings, and public health and education committees.

Members of the Key Club Monday, December 5, on civil engineering. Undoubtedly there are some of the boys who will take up civil engineering after they graduate, and talks like Mr. Leonard's prove to be of great value to the boys later in life.

It is too bad that all the boys can't belong to the Key Club, because the variety of speakers and subjects can prove as instructive as a class.

Next Friday, December 16, is the day that Leuzinger plays Torrance at Torrance.

Leuzinger is speedily becoming a friendly rival of Torrance, and the games should prove to be very exciting.

Townspeople are urged to attend the games and help Torrance teams to win.

Dairyman Arrested; Trial December 15

Michael O. Sullivan, dairyman, located at the corner of Prairie and Strawberry avenue, in the McDonald tract annexation to Torrance, was arraigned in the justice court Tuesday on charges preferred by Charles Eastman, county dairy inspector, which alleged a violation of the state dairy laws.

Sullivan pleaded not guilty and asked for a jury trial which Judge John Dennis set for 10 o'clock, December 15. Sullivan was released on his own recognizance pending the hearing.

Refinery Owner Is Burned In Explosion

Nathaniel Lockhart, owner of a refinery at Spencer and Amy streets, residing at 210 So. Juanita, Redondo Beach, was treated at the Jared Sidney Torrance Memorial hospital Wednesday morning for burns received in the explosion of some chemicals with which Mr. Lockhart was experimenting.

Lockhart's eyes and hands received most of the injuries sustained, and he was given an anti-tetanic serum treatment to ward off possible ill effects of the chemical powder which penetrated the skin. He was able to leave the hospital immediately.

Last Call For Toys For Toy Hospital; Christmas at Hand

Once more the call goes out from the Men's Brotherhood in charge of the toy hospital for more discarded or broken toys. The supply this year is far below that of preceding years, but there are more children than ever who will be without toys unless the Torrance public takes a hand immediately.

Toys of all descriptions, dolls, story books and games, all kinds of gifts for the little people are wanted.

The men are willing to repaint and mend whatever is offered, so look once more through the closets, the attic, the garage, or wherever it is you have put away those discarded toys.

The time is growing very short. Christmas will be here in 16 days, of these a couple of days must be allowed for the distribution, and some time for the mending. In fact you have only one week left. So bring down those toys today.

Harder's Market Buys Prize-Winning Steer

Harder's Market, 1521 Madrid, has a treat in store for its customers this week.

Harder's bought this week one of the prize-winning steers shown at the Los Angeles stock show held recently, and the meat from the animal has been cut up and will be sold over the counter at the market during this week-end at the regular meat prices.

The proprietors of this market have made this arrangement so that the customers may compare this fancy beef with that which is regularly sold here. Harder's Market regularly handles and the proprietors believe that it will be found to be on a par with the meat from the prize-winning steer being sold this week.

Huge Herring Catches Made

Fifteen Members of Trojan Alumni Are Torrance Residents

Fifteen residents of Torrance are listed as members of the University of Southern California Alumni Association which will hold its annual homecoming celebration on the Trojan campus, December 5 to 10.

They are Miss Doris R. Worrell, Alden W. Smith, Dewey W. Quigley, George L. Probert, Guy L. Morrey, Dr. N. A. Leake, Earl D. Knettel, J. R. Jensen, Russell C. Hatton, Jack F. Hatton, Harry H. Dolley, Miss Helen A. Collier, Floyd E. Bradley, Dr. R. F. Bishop and R. A. Hingham.

As a part of the entertainment, Carl Van Doren, noted critic, will be heard in a lecture at Bovard auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. The big name of the year, U. S. C. against Notre Dame, will occupy the spotlight Saturday afternoon, with the annual comic float parade preceding the game. The men's and women's football banquet, honoring the coaching staffs of the contestants and the parents of the players, will be held on Friday night, December 9, the program of the affair to be broadcast over the Columbia Broadcasting System at 6 o'clock.

READ the HERALD with SCISSORS in HAND

YOU'LL find the practice interesting, helpful and profitable. You'll find in the Torrance Herald many items that are helpful to you in carrying out your daily affairs... menus, household hints, club notes, health suggestions. And, probably most valuable of all, you'll find that clipping items from the advertisements not only saves you shopping time but actually accomplishes important savings in your budget.

Make your shopping list from the ads... then go out and buy. Show the salesmen in the stores the items that interested you in their advertisements... they are anxious to show you the things you want. And they appreciate that they are wise shoppers and good customers who organize their buying through the advertisements.
