

Cat Has Four Nestrils
NEW BEDFORD, Mass.—(U.P.)—Pat, a gray tiger cat owned by Miss Minnie Hallington, has four nostrils and no tail. Pat perched for 48 hours atop a 60-foot tree recently until rescued by Philip Cormier of the police department.

GREAT FALLS, Mont.—(U.P.)—A potato that had all the appearances of an airplane with the exception of a propeller recently was dug up on the farm of F. W. Schultz. Schultz supplied a propeller and exhibited the oddity.

Copies of Telephone Almanac Available to Torrance Public

Information concerning the sun, the moon, and the stars, many incidents from American history, and data on the history and development of modern communication, are contained in the 1933 edition of the Telephone Almanac, copies of which are available to the public, according to Orta Pietzke, Torrance manager of the Southern California Telephone Company.

The almanac is an annual publication by the Bell System, and resembles in typography and illustration the earliest books of its kind. Copies will be given away free of charge to patrons calling at the telephone company business office.

WOULD ESTABLISH PRIVATE PATROL

E. C. Morrow, 1746 Marina avenue, sought permission to establish a private police patrol in the Torrance business district, from the city council Tuesday night. Morrow said the cost to each business house would be $3 per month. The request was referred to the police committee for study and recommendation.

Co-Operatives to Organize Group For Radio Work

Plans to organize an orchestra and entertainment group which will be heard over radio later, if necessary sponsors can be signed up, are now being worked out at the Co-operative Relief headquarters with good promise of success.

Three meetings have already been held, and the orchestra group is being selected. Some difficulty is experienced on account of the need of some instruments. A piano is needed and also a four-string tenor banjo, which the executives hope may be loaned or donated by someone in Torrance who has one which is not in use.

As soon as the group has had sufficient practice to make the proper showing it is planned to give a public entertainment in Torrance, so that business men may learn the quality of the organization they will be invited to sponsor on some radio programs. One performance a week will probably be the schedule at first, with more frequent broadcasts later.

A similar plan is now being used by the North Hollywood Co-operative Relief with good success.

Tomorrow night workers at the relief headquarters will entertain themselves with a chill supper, music, dancing and cards at the relief building on Cravens avenue. All those who are registered are eligible to take part.

Among the needs felt most keenly at headquarters now is the lack of leather belting which is used to resole shoes. Discarded belting which can no longer be used for factory or machine shop purposes is put to good use, especially in the rainy weather, to provide repair material for worn shoes.

Quilt pieces are also in demand at headquarters.

The women have already made several quilts and comforters, and others are being made. More are needed.

A few luxuries, such as sugar, cocoa, or chocolate, are needed for distribution to families which have small children or sick persons to be cared for.

The shipment of seven and one-half tons of potatoes is expected to arrive in Torrance during this week.

Christ Episcopal church was crowded to capacity Friday morning, January 20, by friends of the late James H. Milburn and his family, who came through a driving rain to pay their respects to the departed.

Requiem mass was sung by Christ church choir. Services were conducted by Rev. F. Murray Clayton, assisted by Rev. Harold H. Kelley, former vicar, with Andrew Carson acting as crucifer and serving at the altar. Rt. Rev. W. Bertrand W. Stevens, bishop of the diocese, pronounced the benediction.

Many beautiful floral offerings were received by the family sent as tokens of esteem and affection, but no flowers were used on the casket which was covered at the church with the ossium pall, used in funeral ceremonies for higher church officials.

Pall bearers were Al Price, Henry Barnett, Fred Lassing, Fred Bolce, Richard Hodges and W. T. Klusman. E. H. Allen replaced Mr. Price at the graveside as the latter was unable to get to the cemetery. Interment was made at Pacific Crest.

A resolution of respect, passed at a called meeting of the Los Angeles Brotherhood of St. Andrews, of which Mr. Milburn had been a member, was sent to his widow.

Eight-Inch Cups To Be Used Sunday At P.V. Tournament

Adopting Gene Sarazen's idea of using eight-inch cups instead of the small affair which now provides a supreme test of putting ability, the Palos Verdes Golf Club announces that it will try the experiment at its annual tournament next Sunday.

Golfers who enter the Douglas Palmer Trophy, 18-hole medal play event at the nearby course will have a chance to make up their minds as to the merits of the eight-inch cup in competitive play.

This ought to prove something, says Garry Bennett, Palos Verdes golf pro, who extends an invitation to members of clubs in the Southern California Golf Association for next Sunday.

CITY DEMANDS ACTION ON DERRICK REMOVAL

Immediate action for the removal or reconditioning of an oil derrick at 2858 Pine avenue was demanded by the city council on recommendation of Councilman Wright, who stated that the derrick was in a dangerous condition and a threatened menace to nearby houses and street traffic.

FINED ON LIQUOR CHARGE

Fred Hughes of Los Angeles, arrested January 22 for transportation of liquor, was fined $50 at his hearing in the municipal police court. He paid $48 and spent one day in jail.

MAX BAER NAMED IN $250,000 BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT

*Dear sweetheart
Just had a shower bath and am feeling fine although I'm a little stiff & sore. We are going to have quite a house next Sunday. It is terrible hot down here, losing a lot of weight & expect to lose more. Want to see you Tuesday & was introduced & received a nice hand was with Art Mulholland father of Lee Mulholland to Middle Weight I look like a real contender & was a 125 lb. fighter.*

To see Dempsey in his new act do me a favor and call my mother up & find out how they are & tell them I'm really busy right now if it's too bother to you & as for the trip to the Roder just forget it I would not be seen at neither & must dust & it all right for week minded people I would have hoped at disburse if it wasn't for the support they gave me when I first got my start. You want to forget the present and start thinking of the future and his wonderful single you see & people spend more than in your spare time if you want to come good instead of playing with folks as you'll know what I mean.

Max Baer, heavyweight fighter who agrees to the world championship, played hide-and-seek with process servers who tried to notify him, officially, that he was being sued for $250,000 for asserted breach of promise. Olive Beck, Livermore waitress, claims he eloped here when he married Dorothy Dunbar Wells. A reproduction of one of Baer's letters to Olive, and photos of the two principals, are shown here.

Railroad Scrip Offers Big Cut In Travel Cost

Railroad scrip books, offering "wholesale" transportation at a reduction of 25 per cent under the regular fare, will be placed on sale beginning February 1 at all Southern Pacific ticket offices, it was announced by the company today.

Good interchangeably for travel on all railroads west of Chicago and New Orleans, the scrip books contain 3000 miles of transportation worth $108, and will sell for $81, it was stated. A smaller unit book valued at $72 will sell for $54, with both types of scrip good for one year after date of purchase, according to the announcement.

This reduction in travel cost will be of particular benefit to commercial travelers, it was pointed out, although the scrip books will be available to the general public for normal first class transportation on all trains.

The reduced rail fares mark the re-establishment of a type of "wholesale" ticket that was in general use some years ago, it was stated.

Launch St. Louis Naval Fleet

ST. LOUIS.—(U.P.)—The St. Louis naval fleet, consisting of five boats, ranging from a 31-foot cutter to a 16-foot dingy, has been launched on Creve Coeur Lake here. The fleet is under command of Commodore H. S. Holbrook.

Thrilling Story of Rescue at Sea to Be Told Here

Rev. Stanley Bales Speaker at Brotherhood Meeting Monday

Rev. Stanley Bales of the Vermont avenue Presbyterian church, will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Brotherhood of the Central Evangelical church, which will be held in Central Guild hall, Monday evening, January 30.

Supper will be served at 6:30, to which members and friends of the church are invited. The public in general is invited to hear Rev. Bales, who will speak at the conclusion of the service, about 7:30 o'clock. His subject is one which will have a thrilling and romantic interest for all hearers as he will tell the story of an eye-witness of a rescue at sea.

Three years ago, the steamer Tahiti, disabled in mid-Pacific, sent out an SOS for aid which brought the steamer Venture of the Matson line in a swift dash to its vicinity. Rev. Bales, a passenger on the Venture, tells the story in minute detail of that thrilling run when hours and even moments counted in the battle to save imperiled lives. Pictures of the scenes of rescue heighten the interest of the tale, which Rev. Bales has told many times before large audiences in many other cities.

Lomita Constables Busy In December

Constable Frank C. Holliday of San Fernando township has a job the other constables, with one exception, look upon with envy.

Constable Holliday of San Fernando township, who has one just as soft.

Last month, according to the reports filed with the supervisors, Constables Holliday and McCarron make "no investigations, no arrests, and therefore no convictions," the report shows.

Not so with Constable Joe Bookman of Inglewood township, who had 123 investigations, made 25 arrests and secured 16 convictions. Other constables' reports were as follows: A. N. Marston, Compton, 83 investigations, 23 arrests and 17 convictions; Gardena, John Wallen, 17 investigations, five arrests but no convictions; Lomita, C. R. Taber, 77 investigations, four arrests and three convictions; Redondo, John J. Alder, 19 investigations, two arrests and two convictions.
