Water with meals helps stomach juices, aids digestion. It floats with food and a spoonful of salt water on the stomach out poisons and wastes. Dolly, Drug Co., Adv.

RECOVERY IS SLOW PROCESS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, (U.P.)—Recovery from the economic depression must come from basic factors, one at a time, Senator Elbert D. Thomas told the Utah Conference of Social Workers. "Favorable for the world's plight is unless, he said, since 'society has gotten itself into such a complex situation that it cannot be saved by a cure-all.'"

OATS GROW ON CORNCOB

KEISO, Wash. (U.P.)—Oats growing from a corncob is the nature freak discovered by Hugh La Velle in his corn patch in Kelso. Heads of oats were growing between each row of corn in the cob. There are no oats in the vicinity of the garden.

ONLY TWO DAYS LEFT IN 2ND PERIOD OF HERALD CAMPAIGN

Workers Making Every Effort These Two Remaining Days of Important Second Period to Line Up Points For Position

The second period of the Herald's bonus check campaign closes at 8 o'clock Saturday night, November 18. November 8 was the end of the first half of the Herald's campaign and the second period is rapidly drawing to a close.

Many Herald readers have not yet subscribed although undoubtedly it is their intention to do so before the close of the campaign. NOW is the time to give your subscription to your favorite worker, for after November 18 points will decrease on subscriptions considerably, and workers are running close on one another's heels at this time and your subscription at this crucial time would be more important to that worker's position in the campaign than at any other time. Even if you have already subscribed for one year, an extension on that subscription can mean so very, very much to the worker.

ATTENTION, CAMPAIGN WORKERS!

Every worker must report to campaign headquarters before 8 o'clock Saturday night, November 18.

The first period close left workers in positions uncomfortably close; in some instances only a few subscriptions separated positions. Therefore what you do during this important second period will probably determine your position in the campaign. A position lost at the close of the second period cannot possibly be regained when points decrease in the third period and again in the final period. No worker has a safe position or a safe lead in points; no worker can afford to become overconfident at this crucial time of the campaign as no worker has a bonus check earned nor will he have, until the final close of the campaign, December 2.

Therefore, we earnestly urge all workers to put forth every possible effort during the days remaining in the second period. To relax in your efforts NOW is to give the worker next to you every advantage.

EXTENSION SUBSCRIPTIONS

Remember that extensions are very, very important this second period. There will be no extension points issued in the final week, such subscriptions must accept renewal points only. Your friends who are deeply interested in your efforts in the Herald's campaign will be glad to give you a second, third, fourth or fifth year's subscription when they know how much such a subscription means to you.

The rule on extensions reads as follows: "Points issued on extension subscriptions will count according to the period in which the original subscription was turned in with the exception of the final period." The points now being issued for an extension subscription are as follows:

1-year extension	104,000
2-year extension	238,000
3-year extension	408,000
4-year extension	608,000

Each worker is requested to visit the campaign office and have these extension points explained in the above schedule of points is not clear. An extension subscription is a subscription that was given in the first period by a subscriber who now in the second period takes out a second subscription. Therefore the above points will be issued on such subscriptions.

Removal of Barge Costs County $2572

It cost the county department of recreation camps and playgrounds a total of $2572 to remove the barge "Emigh" beached on Redondo Beach last summer, to remove it, it was revealed today in a report to the board of supervisors.

Report of the grand jury auditors, on the finances of the department, revealed the expenditure. The barge was blown on the beach by a high wind, caused eddies which washed out a section of large sewer pipeline, and was the source of considerable concern until county officials arranged with the war department for its removal and disposal.

Popular Employee Back In Torrance

Mrs. Hazel McBride, for the past 14 months in charge of the office for the Southern California Edison Company at Hermosa Beach, has been transferred back to Torrance where she had been employed for five years, and resumed her duties at the local Edison office last Monday. Patrons of the Torrance office are well pleased with the return of this popular office manager.

Around the Council Table

Clarence Pinkham, who formerly operated a pool hall on Cabrillo avenue, was granted a permit to open pool hall in the Antler Hotel building, corner of Post and Sartori avenues. Fred Freeman, who also operated a restaurant on Cabrillo avenue for a number of years, stated to members of the city council that he intended to open a restaurant in the Antler Hotel building in the near future.

On recommendation of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce, the city council appropriated $125 for financing the annual municipal Christmas tree program and gift distribution, under the direction of the Torrance fire department.

Liquor control within municipalities will be the principal topic of discussion at the meeting tonight of Southern California city officials, to be held at Glendora. Mayor Conner and Councilmen Ludlow, Hitchcock and Klusman stated they would attend.

Transfer of $1500 from the contingent fund to the park development fund was authorized on recommendation of Councilman Ludlow, in order to have funds available, if necessary, for the purchase of materials in connection with county unemployment work.

An overhead red arc light, similar to the one at Torrance boulevard and Maple street, was ordered installed at the intersection of Western avenue and 19th street, near the Edison sub-station. The warning light will afford protection to motorists approaching the dangerous intersection from the north. A blinker light is operated by the Edison company to warn motorists approaching from the south. Edison officials also notified the city council that the white lights used to illuminate the sub-station had been adjusted to eliminate the glare complained of by motorists.

At the request of the Retail Merchants' Bureau, the council ordered full illumination of all street lights in the downtown business district during the month of December, as an aid to holiday shopping.

One hour parking signs will be posted on Border avenue and the Columbia Court in order to prevent employees of the Columbia Steel Company from obstructing driveways in front of residences. An amendment to the parking ordinance was authorized. Police Chief Calder stated that he had ordered the painting of angle parking lines on other streets in the neighborhood of the steel mill in order to provide space for additional cars.

Garbage collections in the Hollywood-Riviera section of the city will be made twice a week hereafter at the expense of the city of Torrance, it was decided. Collections previous to November 1 have been made by the city of Redondo, but have been discontinued due to the unprofitable sale for the garbage. An additional monthly expenditure of $35 was approved to cover the cost of garbage collections in Hollywood-Riviera.

EVENING HIGH SCHOOL

The class in current events which was formerly conducted by Mr. Fowler and which was discontinued after several meetings, will be re-opened tonight under the direction of Dr. Homer P. King. Dr. King is attending the University of Southern California where he is completing his thesis for a degree.

The class will meet every Thursday evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. The plan is similar to that used in the Redondo evening school where more than 100 men and women discuss current events.

Members of organizations and individuals who may be interested are invited to enroll in this class.

NEW RULING AIDS EMPLOYEES

LOS ANGELES, (U.P.)—Los Angeles county hospital employees have had a new money-making field opened to them by the board of supervisors, which ruled that employees submitting to emergency blood transfusions will be repaid a $25 fee. Formerly the employees were not allowed to receive payment when emergency transfusions were made with the workers donating the blood.

Hitch-Hiker Gag

While anyone carrying gas to a stranded car should be aided, some hitch-hikers now use a gasoline can as a lure for rides. The Auto Club of Southern California advises against picking up strangers, who sometimes turn bandits. Verne Morton demonstrates use of thumb-jerk's gas can which also serves as a...

Name Committee to Investigate County Welfare

Bert W. Lanz of Torrance Included in List of Influential Citizens

Detailed investigation by a citizens' committee into the operation of the county welfare bureau in this community was under way today at the suggestion of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, metropolitan business men and the board of supervisors.

Appointment of the committee, given the name of the Citizens Committee on County Welfare, was made by the Los Angeles chamber on November 1. Action by the supervisors in approving the committee was not taken until Wednesday, however, after that particular item of business had been skipped in Monday's meeting.

Whether many of the welfare visitors are too young, as criticized by the county grand jury auditors in a special report to the supervisors given special consideration, it was learned today. The grand jury report called attention of the county officials to the fact that a large number of the welfare visitors were between 20 and 25 years of age, and stated that in the auditors' opinion these young people were without proper experience or mature judgment for that type of work.

In endorsing the chamber's action in appointing the committee, the supervisors agreed to ask county departments to give any assistance that might be asked to the citizens committee, which was requested by the chamber "in order that conclusions may be brought back to the supervisors at the earliest possible moment."

The committee is represented by Bert W. Lanz, Columbia Steel executive and president of Torrance Chamber of Commerce.

Membership of the citizens committee includes Will Rogers, Mary Pickford, Harold Lloyd, Marion Davies and a number of representatives of religious welfare organizations.

Baby Orchestra Under Auspices of Bible Class

Juvenile Stars Appear Here Tomorrow Night At Woman's Club

Forty little kiddies, ranging in age from 2 to 14 years of age, will appear at the Torrance Woman's clubhouse tomorrow night in one of the most pleasing entertainments offered here in months.

The kiddies form the Paramount Baby Orchestra and the Junior Symphony orchestra, from the Arch News Paramount Studios of Long Beach, and will appear under the auspices of the Men's Bible class of this city.

Tommy Morton will be master of ceremonies, with solos by Johnnie Barry, Catherine Whipple, Lorraine Longstreet, Lola Schwartz, Elsie Schwartz and Tommy Morton.

Conductors will be Patsy Keys, Doris Purvine, Jean Barrett, Tommy Morton, Johnnie Barry and Bobby Ford.

Arch Ness, who is a son-in-law of Jack Iesen of this city, will conduct the orchestra.

The proceeds from this show will go to the local Veterans and Veterans Co-operative and Carson Street Co-operative Relief Associations to be used for providing Thanksgiving baskets.

The program begins at 7:30 o'clock, and a low admission fee will be charged.
