

W. C. T. U. MEETING

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union met in the First Baptist church, Friday afternoon. Devotional exercises were conducted by Rev. John Speed, pastor of the church. Rev. Speed discussed briefly uses and abuses of alcohol. Mrs. Gotts sang several selections after which Mrs. Kuckles, a social worker of Long Beach, gave a most interesting address. She chose as her subject, "Alcohol, a Destroyer." People must be educated to realize that alcohol destroys ideals of all kinds. In this case experience is a terrible teacher. In training our children we must use the old fashioned as well as the modern methods. When people clearly see and understand that alcohol is a destroyer it will be put in the proper place and voters will be convinced that the repeal of the 18th amendment was not utopian.

Paris Styles

By MARY KNIGHT United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS (U.P.)—Stag shoes doesn't mean that they are for men—they are, on the contrary, very feminine slippers made of shaved stag-skin, usually in brown and black, but they can be dyed to match any ensemble. Think of it—fur shoes with all the smoothness and chic of satin. Good for sports when made into oxfords, and plenty smart for afternoon and evening when made into pumps and sandals.

Carved ivory bracelets now serve as blouse or dress cuffs. They have matching brooches and rings or a flat carved choker collar. Expensive—yes, but what isn't that bears the title of "exclusivity"? Higher still is the same idea carried out in jade and amber. Of course, you can come down the scale as well to quartz and wood—but then, after you've seen the other, you no want!

Spangles may now see the light of day—if you agree with Chanel—who has made a cocktail suit, the entire three-quarter coat of which is of black jet spangles. It is very plain and well tailored, worn over a smart, plain black maroon dress, and with a spangled hat to match. The side wings of the hat are not unlike the bright shiny fenders of a 1935 automobile—and the front wings back from the forehead like the hood of the same model car.

Watch the new dots that come out from now on. There is something in each and every one. It may be a star, a fish, a flower or, it may be plaid dot, a plaid with a ring around it or it may be a nice round hole large enough to shoot a nickel through!
