Keeping Up With Torrance High

At a G. A. A. meeting held Tuesday, March 19, Olive Bell Huber was elected club president by an overwhelming majority. At same meeting Mickey Humer was chosen vice president; Jane Johnston, secretary; and Ruth Barnard, treasurer. The heads of sports remained the same as they were for last year: Tennis, Margaret Klibbe; speedball, Fern Wright; and basketball, Ruth Granger.

The following people have been dominated for the respective offices of president, vice president and secretary of the junior high student body: John McDonald and Weston Leach; Hill Tague and Arthur Woodcock; Myrtle Sharp and Georgianna Tiffany.

A St. Patrick's Day luncheon was served by several of the members of the social arts class. Mary Anne Taylor was hostess and Julian Isen, host. The faculty guest was Miss Parks, and students guests included V. Kasper, Hal Smith and George Bradford. The decorations were becomingly carried out in green and white and each of the lady guests was given a beautiful corsage of green sweet peas and carnations.

Seen about school are the new G. A. A. sweaters. The sweaters are white knit with a pleated back and black emblems.

Wanda Mullen and George Stuart of the Journalism class, and Jayne Trailer and Ruth Granger of the annual class, are the four Torrance high students who will represent their alma mater at the annual Newspaper Day to be held at the University of Southern California on April 13.

March 23 about 500 young people will attend the World Friendship Federation annual banquet to be held at the Royal Palms Hotel in Los Angeles, 20 or more of whom will be Torrance students and friends. The theme for this year's banquet will be "Interdependence." World Friendship Federation annual banquet will be carried out as the interior of a ship. The World Friendship Club of Torrance is responsible for the decoration of the speakers' table and committees have been diligently working on clever favors.

DICK AND CHUCK welcome friends at NEW STATION

Dick Pullman and Chuck Faulkner, two Torrance boys who have made this city their home for the past 13 years, have taken over the quarters on Marcelina and Cravens avenues, formerly occupied by the Torrance Motor Company, and have gone into business for themselves as 100 percent independent dealers under the firm name of Dick and Chuck's Complete Service Station. These boys have been employed at the Union oil station at Carson and Arlington for some time, where they have built up a considerable following which the boys will look them up at their new stand.

Dick and Chuck are graduates of Torrance high, prominent in athletics during the school days, each of them being a four-letter man. They advertise to sell everything for the car, from gasoline and oil, batteries, tires and tubes to radios, which they offer on easy payment terms, and will render all classes of service. Auto painting and polishing, greasing jobs, battery charging and repair, are listed in their announcement of services. For those who want a good inexpensive tire they offer a guaranteed rebuilt job, good for 10,000 to 15,000 miles.

Dick and Chuck are hard-working, ambitious boys who are deserving of the patronage of their many friends in Torrance.

Penney Co. 33rd Anniversary

Celebration Starts Today; Policy of Organization Outlined By Local Mgr.

The 33rd anniversary of the founding of the J. C. Penney Company is being celebrated on a nation-wide scale beginning today with a merchandising event which is destined to go down in the history of the organization as another triumph, according to Frank M. Buffington, manager of the Torrance store. Company executives and store managers have been planning for months to make this 33rd anniversary celebration an outstanding value-giving event which will long be remembered by the buying public. A portion of the exceptional anniversary values are advertised elsewhere in this issue, but Manager Buffington emphasized that the advertisement contained merely a few of the many items which are being offered at exceptionally attractive prices starting today at the Torrance store, 1269 Sartori avenue.

The local store was opened September 19, 1932, 27 years after the mother store was opened by Mr. Penney in the mining town of Kemmerer, Wyoming.

Frank M. Buffington, who has been manager of the Torrance store ever since it was opened, came to this city from Huntington Park, where he served as assistant manager of the J. C. Penney Company store. This is in line with the policy of the company that all store managers must come up through the organization, learning every detail of the business before they are admitted to managerial opportunities.

Following the established policy of the company that managers should identify themselves with local organizations and take active part in community affairs, Mr. Buffington is a director of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Torrance Rotary Club and St. Andrew's Episcopal church. A significant feature of the organization of the Penney Corporation is the fact that managers are stockholders in the company and ownership of the company is largely in the hands of the active workers. This is the result of the original policy of Mr. Penney, who made partners of his associates as they became managers of new stores.

ECKERSLEY STILL leads shooters AT CITY RANGE

After a long lay-off, during which practically every member of the Revolver and Rifle Association has asked "How come you don't put the scores in the paper any more?" the reporter this week succeeded in getting a look at the list. And it might as well have been the list of some week before Christmas for Hugh Eckersley is still leading the pack. Some of the boys have moved up a notch, but Captain John Stroth didn't do so well, having no rating. John's gun needed some fixing and has been away for an overhauling so he hasn't been doing any shooting lately. Bartlett's revolver has always been his favorite which accounts for his low score.

The boys are taking a great interest since they moved into their new range which has been fixed up in tip-top style. The 50 yard range is not yet ready for use but will be finished soon.

Averages made on practice shoots from March 2 to March 17 inclusive are:

Eckersley, 259; DeBra, 249; Anderle, 243; Glidden, 242; Boynton, 240; Ashton, 238; Trivoli, 229; Stanger, 223; Bennett, 224; Webb, 217; Drake, 215; Dolton, 200; Peterson, 200; Calder, 188; Schumacher, 165; Morgan, 116; Hale, 42; Bartlett, 41.

On March 30 a picked team will take on a team from Redondo Beach, which has recently organized a club. The match will be held at the Torrance range.
