80-Mile Bay Trip Includes Four Great Bridges

Easy 80-mile trip is made over $125,000,000 worth of bay area bridges, viewing beautiful scenery, spots of interest, in addition to crossing two bridges which are the very "hot" in the world in their classes. Scout car made the trip on four gallons of Mobilgas, for an average of 20 miles per gallon. Bridge toll for the trip (estimating Golden Gate toll at $60) amounts to $2.60.

With the first stream of traffic moving May 28 over San Francisco's marvelous $38,000,000 Golden Gate bridge, and the thriving city of Vallejo participating in the gala opening by inviting the world to a celebration of Vallejo Day Sunday, May 30, the eyes of countless thousands are now centered on the San Francisco Bay area and its world-famous water spans.

Complete circuit of the bay by motor car, crossing $125,000,000 worth of bridges during a four-hour tour, this month of May, 1937, becomes a reality. Information about the interesting and instructive journey, is furnished by A. I. Donnelly, Northern California general manager of General Petroleum Corporation, as a result of a motorlog of the route recently made with a scout car, fueled with Mobilgas and lubricated with Mobiloil. The car made the route on four gallons of Mobilgas, averaging 20 miles to the gallon, and showed no oil consumption whatever.

During this bay circuit—not duplicated anywhere in the world—the trip, starting at San Francisco, is as follows:

Cross the Bay bridge, longest in the world and built at a cost of $78,000,000. This structure now carries 18,000 cars per day. Toll, 50c. Travel through the thriving cities of Oakland and Berkeley north to Crockett, on Carquinez straits.

Cross Carquinez bridge, a marvelous structure built at a cost of $8,000,000, and bearing annual traffic of 1,200,000 cars and trucks. Toll, 60c for car, 10c per passenger.

Just beyond this massive span, visit the progressive city of Vallejo, from which a most interesting side jaunt may be made to the Mare Island navy yard, over a government-owned causeway.

From Vallejo, take the Sears Point cutoff to Highway 101 and cross the grand-daddy of all toll bridges of the bay area. In reality, there are three bridges on this stretch of toll road, built in 1927 at a cost of about $700,000. Toll is 30c per car and 5c per passenger. This road leads to Black Point cutoff, which in turn takes the traveler to Highway 101, just north of San Rafael. Turn south at this junction.

Below this junction an interesting side trip is available to Hamilton Field air base, a short distance from the highway. The air base, in addition to being an important unit in Uncle Sam's defense forces, comprises a settlement of most attractive modern homes.

Motor south to San Rafael and Sausalito, cross the new $38,000,000 Golden Gate bridge, at a toll of 50c, travel on through the Presidio, over viaducts that in themselves surpass many ordinary bridges in size and cost. You find yourself back in the romantic and historic metropolis, after a thrilling, colorful, educational circuit of the great San Francisco bay.
