Cone Costume

Miss Lucille McAninch of Klamath Falls, Ore., displays a garb not often found in the timber country in which she lives. It is made of giant pine cones, sufficient but inclined to scratch.

BROTHER AND SISTER MEET AFTER 38 YEARS
Mrs. Elva Kelton, 2071 1/2 Torrance boulevard, was pleasantly surprised recently, when a brother, N. L. Adams of Roseburg, Oregon, whom she had not seen in 38 years paid her a visit. Adams was first commander of Patrick Kelley Post V. F. W. Roseburg, Oregon.

Enthusiastic Crowd Hears A. L. A. Ladies in MacDowell Concert

The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary glee club and their director, Maxine Smith, are to be highly complimented for their presentation of the MacDowell concert in the Woman's clubhouse, 1422 Encarnacion avenue, Thursday evening, when an audience of some 300 persons showed sincere appreciation of their singing the numbers of the loved American composer. Elida Barkdull played the accompaniments.

Madame Teala Billini, concert pianist who was guest artist on the program, was at her best and after playing her group of selections responded graciously to requests for the "French Waltz" and "The Music Box." Ramona Players of Hollywood presented "The Life of MacDowell." The stage was effectively set for the presentation with furniture of an early period and a plaque of MacDowell hung in the center of the stage. Palms and floral arrangements were by Harriett Leech.

Money derived from the concert totaled $70.00 and will be used to assist in the purchase of uniform gowns for the club.

ICE CREAM FESTIVAL THURSDAY EVENING

Remember a long time ago, when everyone planned to attend the first ice cream festival of the season, when the ladies hustled around cutting those home made cakes and the coffee smelled so good. Ruth Haggard, head of the ladies group of the first Christian church, corner of Engracia and Arlington avenue, announces just such an affair for Thursday evening, July 15. Oh yes, you're all invited.

MRS. LAWRENCE HOSTESS TO LAWNDALE FOLKS

Lawndale friends of Mrs. Vernon Pierce were recently entertained at a party in the Pierce home, 2363 El Dorado. Profusions of garden flowers decorated the home and the twelve guests joined in 500 and monoped. Prizes were awarded and dainty refreshments served.

FASHION TIP
The new summer hats have crowns of flowers and brims of straw.

MAKE IT YOURSELF

Flower File Set

SQUARE, simple and stunning, this is a grand breakfast or luncheon mat. It is crocheted of knitting and crochet cotton, and if you make it in color it will be a gay addition to your breakfast table of a Sunday morning. The thread to make a five piece set will cost only about $1.50. Complete detailed, illustrated instruction sheets for making this article may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to THE CROCHET BUREAU, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Specify #222.

MRS. BUTTERFIELD FETED AT LUNCHEON

Honoring their past president, Mrs. G. Butterfield, officers and chairmen of the Waleria Parent Teachers Association entertained with a polished luncheon in the home of the new president, Mrs. E. Minor on Park street, Thursday.

Covers were placed for Mmes. Butterfield, Minor, Goucher, Campbell, Reddington, Pearce, Getchell, Lassen, Kelly, Minton and Murray. After the luncheon games furnished diversion and prizes were awarded to Mmes. Lassen, Getchell, Kelly and Goucher. The group presented Mrs. Butterfield with a beautiful bedspread.

A. L. A. LADIES FETE RETIRING PREXY

A delightful affair of Wednesday was the luncheon at Hawaiian Paradise in Los Angeles, where officers and chairmen of the American Legion Auxiliary to Bert S. Crossland Post 170 honored their retiring president, Bess Myers, and presented her with a lovely overnight bag. Twenty-three ladies attended the affair, which was arranged by Audie Modglin, first vice-president of the Auxiliary.

Paris Styles

by... MARY FENTRESS

PARIS. (U.P.)—The Duchess of Kent, an ardent racing fan, wore four different Molyneux creations for Ascot week.

She established a new fashion in dresses for the races by wearing a calf-length dress on the first day. It was in pale blue crepe made with softly draped neckline. The draping was repeated at the waistline, where there was a corsage of multi-colored-artificial flowers. Her large, floppy-brimmed straw hat likewise was of pale blue straw, trimmed at the front of the brim with the same multi-colored flowers as those on the dress.

Her second day at the races, the Duchess of Kent wore a black and white costume. The dress, of white crepe, was printed in black flowers etched lightly upon the material. With this she wore a coat of black taffeta and a broad-brimmed black straw hat.

Another costume worn during Ascot week was a dress of white crepe made with a crossover-surplice bodice and trimmed with light and dark blue cornflowers. The matching hat of straw, at least a yard wide and the largest hat seen that day, was in deep cornflower blue. The crown of the hat was in velvet and the broad brim of straw.

The duchess' fourth Ascot costume was an afternoon ensemble in sandy beige. The coat was of sandy beige light weight wool made loose and full. The short sleeves of the coat were banded with silver fur.

TODAY'S FASHION TIP

The Duchess of Kent established a new fashion at the races when she appeared at Ascot in a mid-calf length dress.
