

Plane and Car Outside Aerials Efficient

Newly perfected outside aerials incorporating the same principles to obtain maximum receptivity and efficiency are found on the 1937 Ford V-8 and Transcontinental Western Air planes. Pretty Miss Ann Cornell, left, is pictured above as she shows the 1937 Ford V-8 aerial, which keeps the world at her fingertips, to T.W.A. Stewardess, Isabel Judkins. Miss Judkins in turn points out the newest in aerial aerials and direction-finders, which keeps the plane and pilot on their course in all kinds of weather. This antenna adds immeasurably to the safety of flying.

'Serve-Yourself' for Hot Days

Hot weather means less entertaining, as a rule, because we hate the trouble of serving a meal, but this year instead of curtailing entertaining, let's have simple serve-yourself meals, served on the porch if one is available. Such meals are no more bother than an easy family meal, and they are most enjoyable.

The meat loaf is an ideal main dish for the serve-yourself meal, because this is good either hot or cold. It may be made in a loaf pan and sliced for each guest to help himself, or it may be baked in individual muffin tins, with one for each person to be served.

As to the kinds of meat loaves, there are as many probably as there are cooks, because it is the little touches of seasoning which make one different from another. Lamb loaf is an excellent serve-yourself meal.

Lamb Loaf
2 pounds ground lamb
1 cup fine cracker or dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 green pepper, finely minced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 cup milk or meat stock
Salt and pepper

Combine the ground lamb and cracker or bread crumbs. Add seasoning and moisten with the slightly beaten egg and milk or meat stock. Mix well, and pack into a greased loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) until done, about one hour. To serve, turn out onto a large platter, slice, and garnish with radish roses and parsley or mint leaves.

State Parks Host To Record Crowds

Attendance last month at the various state parks was the greatest in the park division's history, according to Division Chief A. E. Henning. He estimated revenues from various park concessions, including picnicking and camping, would total approximately 20 percent more than during the same month last year.

CANDIES Without Heat

When youngsters show a yearning for culinary experiment, don't say "no" because you are afraid of burned fingers and a mess in the kitchen. Give them these candy recipes that don't need to go near the stove: Even the very youngest cooks can master these sweets made with sweetened condensed milk. They are literally failure proof if you use this magic milk. A creamy smooth fondant can be made in five minutes and doesn't need to "ripen." The children can enjoy the fruits of their triumph right away.

Cocoa Patties
1/4 cup cocoa
3/4 cup confectioners' (4X) sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Nut meats
Sift together cocoa and confectioners' sugar. Moisten with butter, sweetened condensed milk and vanilla. Blend thoroughly. Drop by teaspoonsful onto marble slab or plate. Press nut meat in top of each. Allow to stand in cool place until firm. Makes about 24.

Orange Coconut Balls
2 1/2 cups confectioners' (4X) sugar
1/4 cup sweetened condensed milk
2 teaspoons orange juice
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1 cup shredded coconut
Measure sugar after sifting; blend with sweetened condensed milk, orange juice, and orange rind. Drop by spoonfuls into shredded coconut; roll in small balls. Chill in refrigerator or cool place for several hours. Makes 24.

Combine the ground lamb and cracker or bread crumbs. Add seasoning and moisten with the slightly beaten egg and milk or meat stock. Mix well, and pack into a greased loaf pan. Bake in a moderate oven (350 F.) until done, about one hour. To serve, turn out onto a large platter, slice, and garnish with radish roses and parsley or mint leaves.

Britain to Buy Airships
LONDON (U.P.)—British-owned airships are to fly again. Seven years after R-101 crashed and sister ship R-100 was turned into scrap to show that the Air Ministry was finished with lighter-than-air craft, private British interests plan to fly three helium-filled, diesel-engined "baby" airships. The ships will be purchased in the United States.

Labor Day Meal Can Be Canned

By MARJORIE H. BLACK
Labor Day, celebrated on the first Monday in September, may be a holiday and rest for the men, but far be it from such for the women folk. Men are just as hungry on that day as any other, in fact, it would seem they are more so because they are not busy and eating seems to hold an interest for them. For you women, whose work goes on regardless of the holiday, and who would like to join the men in some of their activities, remember that canned foods will be ready to help you. From the wide range of variety found on the grocer's shelves there will be no difficulty in finding something to please every taste and whim. A meal can be quickly prepared by using the prepared entrees such as ravioli, spaghetti, baked beans, tamales, corned beef hash, beef, Irish or kidney stew, or such ones as frankfurters and sauerkraut, roast beef, lobster Newburg and chicken curry. These can be just heated and served, or they can be combined with other foods. You might like to put some canned peas, corn, mushrooms or ripe olives in a baking dish before adding the entree. They will make the dish serve more people and will add a pleasant flavor to the finished dish. With any of those entrees a mixed vegetable salad would go well, and to make it a can of mixed salad vegetables might be chosen, or such a combination as green beans, asparagus tips and beets. Some mixed pickle, sliced dill pickle or olive relish would be a fine added flavor. Platter salads are attractive and easy for this day of rest. Just have several cans of vegetables and meats chilled and arrange them attractively on a platter with lettuce. Serve with French dressing. Now you can eat your cake and have it too! Look for sensational announcements in next week's Herald and Tri-City Shopping News.
