Series Offers Antidote to War Tension at Torrance Ball Park

For just 23 days, beginning next Saturday afternoon, July 6, a host of Southland residents will transfer their interest in blitzkrieg to baseball, black-outs to strike-outs and bombings to batters as the 1940 California Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament is played off at the Torrance city park diamond by 16 outstanding clubs.

Fans of the national game will forget ruins for runs, take more concern over infielders than in invasions and watch the changing positions of the competing clubs with greater attention than the changing map of Europe. The Tournament, second to be held in Torrance, comes as a relieving antidote to war news and battles of the diamond should serve to ease the tension caused by the battles across the seas.

Hartwell Aviation will open the Semi-pro hardball series against the Long Beach Ellbees Saturday with the game getting under way at 2:15 following a brief opening ceremony. Saturday night the first tourney under lights will be played by Chet Ralph's Chevrolet and the Long Beach Harbor Refinery at 8:15 p. m.

The games will be 25 cents for adults with children being admitted free.

Receipts are Shared
Sponsored by the Torrance Chamber of Commerce with Dean L. Sears as chairman of the committee, the Tournament will be played with afternoon and night games every night of the week. Riley estimates that it will take either 30 or 31 games to decide the winning club.

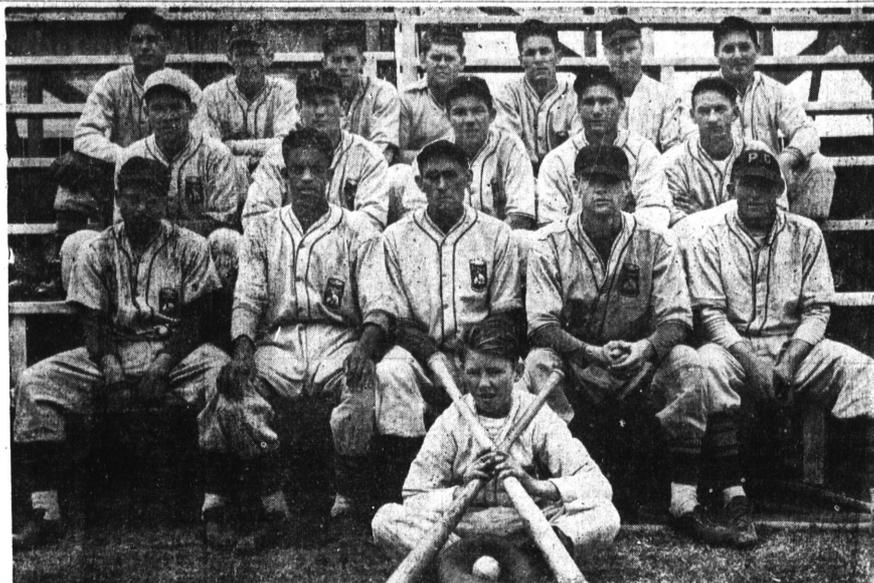

The championship team will receive a large gold trophy and $500 toward its expenses in traveling to Wichita, Kansas, to compete as California state titleholder in the National Semi-Pro games next month. Place winning teams will receive a share of the gate receipts and all 16 squads will share in the fund set up from the ticket sales for their traveling expenses.

Ross Rally Falls One Run Short

A ninth inning Dr. Ross rally fell one run short of its mark at North Long Beach last Sunday with the locals bowing in a tight battle, 8 to 7. Nance pitched for the Rossmen and allowed only seven hits while his mates chalked up ten bingles.

North Long Beach scored all their runs in three big innings, putting over four in the eighth. Dr. Ross faces the Shell Oil nine next Sunday and on Monday night plays Pepsi-Cola in a California Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament game at the Torrance city park diamond.

Nearly one-half of Oregon's 80,000,000 acres is forest land.

Indians Divide Double Header

Torrance-Lomita Indians divided a double-header last Sunday afternoon at the Torrance city park diamond with May Company and L. A. Torpedos nines, losing the opening tilt to the Mays, 8 to 7, and winning the nightcap with the Torpedos as opponents, 5 to 4. The juniors played the final game with Batic, doing the hurling.

DeHoag and Morris' divided the mound assignment in the opener. The Indians will see action in the California Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament, opening Saturday afternoon at the Torrance city park diamond, on Sunday night at 8:15 when they meet the Santa Monica Trainmen.

IN TOURNAMENT RACE . . . The Dr. Ross Dog Food baseball team, made up of Torrance, Lomita, San Pedro and Wilmington players, is entered in the California Semi-Pro Baseball Tournament which gets under way Saturday afternoon at the Torrance city park diamond. "Alcoholic School" Saves Co. Taxpayers $1,000 Monthly, Report

By giving alcoholic addicts a six-months "sentence" to a special alcoholic school, the taxpayers are being saved approximately $1,000 a month, according to Mrs. Genevieve Dodge, chief parole officer for the psychopathic department of the superior court. The school now has been in operation sufficiently long to prove that it is a success, according to John W. Howe, Jr., who gives his own time two nights a week to conduct the school. It started with four alcoholics and now has approximately 100.

Chronic alcoholics are required to attend the school twice weekly as a condition of probation, and statistics show that 60 percent maintain a successful attendance.

Absence is a violation of probation, and usually results in the person being sent to a state institution. At the school, the men discuss their cases informally, and try to help one another overcome their temptations. A new member is sponsored by an older member, whom he must contact daily. As soon as a new member has attended regularly for a month he is asked to sponsor a more recently sentenced man.

Any addict may join by coming before the psychopathic court on a warrant of interperence, signed by himself or a relative, friend or other interested party. The addicts would be committed to Pacific Colony at Spadra or some other state hospital, which is more costly to the taxpayers, Miss Dodge said.

On condition that they make complete restitution to the Natural Gasoline and other oil companies which they robbed of $300 worth of mercury, the pair were allowed two years' probation. They indicated they would pay for the mercury taken.
